

C. E. Arrington Liberated Arrives Home For 60 Days

S/Sgt. Clarence Arrington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar T. Arrington, of Waynesville, R.F.D. No. 1, who was reported missing over Yugoslavia on January 15, was liberated from a German prison camp on April 29, and is now at home with his family.

Sgt. Arrington arrived in the States on May 29, and reported first to Camp Shanks, N. Y., and then to Fort Bragg before coming home for a 60-day furlough. When his allotted time is up here he will report to Miami Redistribution center for his next assignment.

He volunteered in the service in September, 1943, and went to Keester Field, Miss., in October. Before going overseas he was trained at Sioux Falls, So. Dak., Yuma, Ariz., MacDill Field, Fla., Hunter Field, and Fort Dix. He was serving with the Fifteenth Air Force at a base in Southern Italy at the time he was taken a prisoner by the Germans.

He was serving as a radio operator on his ship when on a combat mission over Vienna, when the crew failed to return to the base. The crew radioed that the plane was running short of fuel, but no contact was further established with the craft after that time. Until it was found they had been taken prisoners by the Germans.

Sgt. Arrington, a member of the graduating class of the Waynesville high school in 1941, was employed at the North Carolina Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company at the time he entered the service.

Rural Schools
The average annual salary of rural teachers is $987, compared to $1,937 for urban teachers. Largely because of inadequate salaries, nearly 60 per cent of all teachers in rural elementary schools having one or two teachers have had less than two years education beyond high school. Over half the nation's children are educated in rural schools, yet they have only 38 per cent of available funds for support of schools.

BERLIN TODAY—RUBBLE-STREWN NAZI GRAVEYARD

AMONG THE FIRST PICTURES TO BE RELEASED of the widespread destruction suffered by Berlin is this photo of one of the principal thoroughfares of the former Hitler capital, made by a U. S. HERE RESTED THE FIRST U. S. DEAD IN FRANCE

HALLOWED GROUND IS THIS—a bit of Normandy earth that was the first American cemetery of World War II in France, for a time the resting place of men who died on D-Day in Europe, one year ago. The ground is empty now, for the bodies it held were re-interred at St. Laurent; and here on "Omaha Beach" only the posts and the marker remain, with T/Sgt. Robert Bradley of Altoona, Pa., remembering. (International)

Haywood One of Key Counties In State, Says Cherry

who grieve for loved ones who have been sacrificed to the cause of war," said the Governor.

"The churches and the Christian leaders of our land are like the varied members of a great symphony orchestra, gathered to play a concert. You have been in such an audience and heard scores of musicians, each using their own instrument to make tuning sounds. All in confusion. Then the conductor arrives, the baton is lifted and all those separate instruments in the hands of different individuals unit into marvelous harmony. Unity of action and purpose produce harmony," he continued in his plea for need of a Christian world.

"Today we all face moral situations unparalleled in the history of our state and nation, and we have at hand the greatest challenge of all history. Intolerance is not dead. Struck to earth in Europe it will surely rise again. With eventual success in our World War II, indicated, we must be prepared to blanket the world with helpful leadership that will bind up the wounds of strife," he pointed out.

The Governor was introduced by Glenn C. Palmer, Haywood county representative in the last legislature. Rev. O. L. Robertson, of Canton, presided during the afternoon session of the program.

During the morning Rev. Walter B. West, superintendent of the Waynesville district of the Methodist church, presided and the annual sermon was delivered by Dr. R. O. Eller, pastor of Central Methodist church, Knoxville, Tenn.

Others taking part in the program during the morning included: Rev. Miles McLean, pastor of Long's Chapel, who gave the opening prayer; Rev. J. Clay Madison, who gave the responsive reading.

The choir was directed by Rev. Tom Houts, and rendered several numbers. Mrs. Helen Pugh Pless served as accompanist at both the morning and afternoon services.

At noon a basket lunch was served on the grounds with more than 600 people present. This was followed by a concert by the Waynesville Township high school band, between 1:30 and 2:30.

Announcements were made for the program for the coming week by Dr. F. S. Love, superintendent of the Methodist Assembly, who also urged that the people of the county observe the annual event of Haywood County Day in increasing attendance.

During the afternoon session Lewis Gates, layman of Canton, presided. Mrs. Love, wife of the superintendent, was introduced to the Haywood county citizens. The benediction was given by Rev. Walter West.

On Sunday night, Dr. Hoover Rupert, executive secretary of the Youth Fellowship of the Methodist church, Nashville, Tenn., delivered the sermon, with Dr. Elmer T. Clark, of New York, offering the opening prayer and Dr. F. S. Love presiding.
