BACK—W. P. Hedrick, now a captain in the Allied Military Government, a native of Taylorsville, and former tobacco marketing specialist with the State Department of Agriculture, will be discharged from the Army in a few days now.

Hedrick worked for a tobacco company in China for several years and speaks Chinese fluently. But he wasn't certain he was going to be needed in China and so in Manila he applied for a discharge and he will get it and go back to the department.

TOBACCO—Anything about tobacco should be of interest to North Carolina. Here are some items: tobacco which was virtually burning up on the stalk three weeks ago is now being drowned out by the heavy rains.

Plans are now taking shape for a Tobacco Society. This organization would look out for tobacco in the future—look ahead beyond the days of scarcity and 43-cent tobacco. It would not stand up any more the producer than the buyer and no more for the warehouseman than anybody else. It would push research programs and do everything possible to keep tobacco on the move as regards quality and quantity.

LINE—Are you a liner? Well, you had better learn to be one if you want to purchase select commodities these days. The breadlines in the old depression years were nothing compared to the

Awarded Two More Stars

PFC. CLAUDE L. TRANTHAM, son of Albert Trantham, of Waynesville, R.F.D. No. 2, who entered the service on April 20, 1943 has recently been awarded two more stars which brings his total up to four for meritorious service. He has been overseas for the past 16 months, serving with the engineers of the 3rd Army.

Pfc. Trantham took his training at Fort Belvoir, Va., and Camp Ellis, Ill. From the latter he was sent to England and has served in France and Germany. He is now stationed in Southern France.

Pfc. Trantham has a brother-in-law in the service, Pfc. Arthur Leland Glaspey, who is now in Germany. He entered the service in 1942 and has been with the Signal Corps in Iceland, England, Belgium, France and Germany for the past three years. He has also been awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service.

adays. We are getting more long-headed young whippersnappers, and that increases your labor costs right there. On the other hand, faces are longer because of the war and taxes, and we must go up on shaves, too. More labor, more costs.

All of which proves again that you can never out-talk your barber. The best thing to do is just settle back and let him ramble.

POSSIBILITY — Wake Forest meets Army on the football field this fall, and the meeting may bring together on opposite sides of the line two Yadkin-Surry-Wake County boys, LeRoy Martin, Jr., and Sidney Martin, his little 210-pound brother. In Raleigh high school, they were both on various all-State selections, with LeRoy

Timely, Practical Household Suggestions

by Ruth Currant of State College

For easier and more successful home dressmaking, clothing specialists suggest a few unusual items that may be collected around the house for the sewing box:

Cornstarch, sewed up in a small bag (or French chalk, if obtainable) is a hot-weather sewing convenience. Dust it on palms of hands to absorb perspiration when working on white or light-colored fabrics. When not in use, wrap the bag with paper to keep it clean.

Tweezers are useful for plucking out threads which have been caught in machine stitching.

An ordinary building brick padded and covered with cloth, is convenient for holding goods firm when basting or hemming by hand. Place the brick on the sewing table and pin goods to it.

Waxed paper wrapped around scissors prevents rusting in hot humid weather. Rust also gives trouble on needles and pins. Keep needles in the black paper wrapper in which they come. Store pins in a small, tightly-covered box or in a clean cold-cream jar with a screw top. Use fine sandpaper, steel wool, or an emery bag to remove rust from pins and needles, but never leave needles in an emery bag because they are likely to rust there.

Small cuts, cracks or scratches in the surface of linoleum may be partly healed by occasionally rubbing with boiled linseed oil. Have the surface clean and dry before rubbing in the oil. Wrap off any oil left on the surface afterward with a soft cloth. Allow area to dry 48 hours before washing again.

having a little the edge. Sidney is stockier, a little rougher on the gridiron, but his brother is taller, calmer in play, and is an excellent man for knitting through a lot of trouble to get at the play which is in the making in the opponents' backfield: Both are good old boys, and averaged better than 90 on all their work in high school.

LeRoy, who has been in the Army since last summer, received appointments to Annapolis and at West Point, took the latter. They will both be on the squads this year and may get a few licks at each other.

Cpl. Hugh Shelton Arrives From Overseas

Corporal Hugh Shelton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Shelton, of Waynesville, has arrived after serving 18 months in the European theatre. He first reported to New Brunswick, N. J., and has been given a 30-day furlough at home.

Cpl. Shelton entered the service in November, 1943, and has been attached to the 23rd Depot Repair Squadron, of the 9th Air Force. He has served in England, France, Belgium and Germany during the period of duty in European operations.

At the time he entered the service he was employed at the Pan American Airways, Coral Gables, Fla.

Locust Leaf Miner Turning Leaves Brown

Locust trees in this area are being hit with a siege of locust leaf miners, according to W. J. Schoene, entomologist, of the Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station in Blacksburg, Va.

Mr. Schoene wrote Mrs. J. B. McElroy recently, explaining "The locust leaf miner makes the locust leaves look very bad, and they check the growth of the locust. However, they do not kill the young trees because the trees make their growth early in the season before the insects appear."

"If only the small trees were being injured they could be protected by spraying with arsenate of lead but this would not be practical for large trees."

Allen's Creek

(Mrs. Ed Rhinehart)

Mrs. Addie Toy and daughter, Bonnie Janet, and her sister-in-law, of Sylva, spent the week-end in Nashville, Tenn.
