

THE BOOK CORNER

—With—

FRANCES GILBERT FRAZIER

One of the most popular books on the best-seller list and a Book-of-the-Month-Club selection is "THE BALLAD AND THE SOURCE" by Rosamond Lehmann. It is a most unusual book and one that will hold the interest from the first page to the last.

Mrs. Jardine, despite the fact that she is an elderly woman of unquestioned respectability, gentleness and all the other qualities of refinement, somehow seems to be a jarring note in Rebecca's life; there is just a something about her that Rebecca cannot exactly put her finger on. She is fascinated at this elusiveness and goes determinedly about satisfying her curiosity. Little by little she fits together the scattered fragments of evidence she surreptitiously, also honestly, gathers and suddenly she finds that the model Mrs. Jardine is . . . well, read it and see if your opinion is the same as ours. It seems as though every reader finds a different solution to the puzzle.

Tommy Wadelon, PFC. Tommy Wadelon to be exact, has written his second work of fiction and you who read his first novel, "THE ARMY BRATT" will eagerly reach for "SILVER BUCKLES ON HIS KNEE". Of course, Tommy also wrote "MY MOTHER IS A VIOLENT WOMAN" but that was for laughing purposes only. And now with the combat guns at peace, we can look forward to more and more good work from Tommy Wadelon.

You will follow Peter McCarthy, the leading man in this absorbing book, his neighbors in Indianapolis and his adventures in the Navy; last on an island; his return home and the rejoining with family, friends and memories. A little choking in the throat, at times, and then laughter to clear the way as you go on to the finish.

So many things can happen in Carolina. Sgt. Wallace Young thought so when on a week-end pass in a small Carolina city, he met Jeanie Storres in a bar. She is so entirely the opposite of Nora Lambert, sophisticated and shal-lom, whom he had known in Cambridge when he was in Harvard. The contrast, at first, goes decidedly against Jeanie but time, circumstances and an indefinable something work their joint efforts to a change of ideas . . . and ideals.

Sgt. William Miller Abrahams has written, for his first novel, a most captivating book in "INTERVAL IN CAROLINA." He is a graduate of the class of 1941, Harvard, where he edited the Advocate and the Monthly. He was twice awarded the Lloyd McKim Garrison Poetry prize and provided the libretto for a jazzed-up version of Aristophanes' "PEACE" by Leonard Bernstein.

Representative Of Veterans Here First 3 Mondays

Charles Weaver, of Asheville, representative of the Veterans Administration, spent Monday here at the office of the Haywood Red Cross Chapter in the courthouse.

Mr. Weaver will spend the first three Mondays of each month at the local Red Cross headquarters for the purpose of giving any desired assistance to the veterans and those who expect to be discharged in the near future, it was learned from Mrs. Barbara Seaman, home service secretary.

Mr. Weaver is urging that the veterans investigate the assistance offered by the administration immediately before or after discharge from the armed forces.

S/Sgt. Lloyd Stevenson Arrives In States

Staff Sgt. Lloyd H. Stevenson, of Waynesville, who served 11 months in the European theatre of operations as a gunner, has arrived at the San Antonio District, AAF Personnel Distribution Command.

Sgt. Stevenson who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley M. Stevenson, and was a German prisoner of war, is entitled to wear the Air Medal ribbon with one cluster, the Purple Heart ribbon, the European theatre ribbon with three battle stars.

Sgt. Stevenson will spend around two weeks at the redistribution station undergoing records and physical processing in preparation for a discharge or reassignment to duty in this country. He will be given a 30-day furlough at home upon completion at San Antonio.

State College Hints

Who is an "Intelligent buyer?" An intelligent buyer is one who gets the best possible value in goods or services for every dollar spent. This is based, first of all, on planning—planning for wise spending in all the departments that make a home a going concern. We can "make or do without" when it comes to household equipment and clothing, but man must eat—and woman, too—and meals of the right kind are the basis of health.

Buy by the pound whenever you can instead of by the dime's or quarter's worth, or by the basket. Always watch the scales to make sure you get all you pay for.

Remember brown shell eggs are just as good as white ones, and vice versa. The color of the shell has nothing to do with the food value of the egg inside.

Important things to know in buying furniture: Kind of wood and type of joints used in the frame; the number of springs; the kind of webbing, and whether nails, glue, or screws have been used.

Desks, chests of drawers, and bureaus can deceive you, too, though not as easily as the upholstered pieces. The kind of work is important. Is it solid, veneer, or plywood? How will it resist shrinkage and swelling? How good is the "finish"? Will it scratch easily? Be sure drawers fit snugly, pull out easily, have gliders and are dustproof. You see, there is much to learn before you invest in furniture that you should study up before you start shopping.

JAP MILITARISM DEALT DEATH BLOW

General MacArthur's order abolishing imperial headquarters and, at the same time, a censorship decree that waved the threat of suspension over any Japanese newspaper or radio station caught stirring up unrest, proved to the Japanese that their days of militarism were at an end.

WHEN THE BOYS COME back to the farm

They'll want telephone service, together with other modern conveniences. War has taught them—and their families—to rely on telephone service.

Plans are under way for the greatest rural telephone expansion ever undertaken to meet postwar needs of Southern farmers. This program, which was interrupted by the war, will be resumed as rapidly as conditions permit.
