Lions Honor The Members Of Club In Armed Forces

"Lions in Service" was the feature of the meeting last week. Lion Joe Davis, chairman of the Education committee, was master of ceremonies. He gave a thumb-nail sketch of the service record of 17 men in the military service from the club.

Two of the men having been previously discharged were present in person, and gave some of their military experience. These two were Howell Crawford and Lawrence Leatherwood.

Charles H. McCall, Haywood county auditor, was received into the club as a new member, and will be assigned to a committee at the next meeting.

Every committee made a report of their activities since July 1, 1945, and submitted a proposed budget of their financial needs for the remainder of the Lion year.

Bill Cobb, manager of the Firestone Home and Auto Store, and Maj. James Davis were visitors at the last meeting.

The program tonight at 7 o'clock will be held at the Maples, Earl Messer and his committee on Health and Welfare will present the program. Jack Felmet, president, urges every Lion to be present.

T/5 Virgil Singleton Discharged From Army

T/5 Virgil Singleton, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Singleton, of the Pigeon section, has recently been discharged from the Army after serving over three years, with 18 months overseas duty.

He entered the service in June, 1942, and was inducted at Fort Jackson prior to being sent overseas. He had training at Fort McClellan, Ala., Camp Wood, Texas, and Fort George Meade, Md. He served in Scotland, France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany.

A former employee of the Champion Paper and Fibre company, Technician Singleton is entitled to wear the European Theater ribbon with five battle stars, one bronze star, and Good Conduct medal.

The Influence of Christian Homes

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Oct. 23 is Acts 16:13-15; II Timothy 1:1-6; 3:14, 15; Titus 2:1-4; 11, 12, the Memory Verse being Romans 15:2, "Let each one of us please his neighbor.")

PAUL had been waiting on the coast of Asia Minor for divine leading as to what next he should do. It was given him in a vision of a man from Macedonia, saying, "Come over into Macedonia and help us."

Up to this time Paul had not been out of Asia. He heeded the call, and with others went to the Greek city of Philippi. There, when the Sabbath came they went to the river bank, where, if there was no synagogue in the town, the devout went to pray and meditate. Sure enough they found a gathering there, and among them was a woman whose name was Lydia. She was a prosperous business woman, a seller of fine purple.

Lydia really was a native of Thyatira, a city of Lydia, in the province of Asia, and was named for her country. Lydia, purple dyeing was a Lydian industry. Lydia listened to Paul with the greatest interest. Her heart was opened, says Luke. Then and there she was baptized, with all her household, and then she invited the missionaries to her home, insisting that they accept her hospitality—"She constrained us," St. Luke says.

Paul's Letter to Timothy
From Rome Paul wrote to his friend, Timothy, whom he had selected as his personal missionary helper. We hear of Timothy first in Acts 16:1, where we read of his gentle father and Jewish mother, Eunice. He is, at the time of Paul's letter, superintendent pastor of the great Ephesian church. His association with Paul was always one of close friendship, "as father and son."

Paul was a strong character, with a wonderful blending of strength of purpose, exquisite sympathies and loving heart. Timothy relied on Paul as on a stronger character, as he is said to have been shy, sensitive and anxious in the face of difficulties. Paul's salvation to Timothy is in the custom of the day, "Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, according to the promise of life which is in Christ Jesus, to Timothy, my dearly beloved son."

"Greatly desiring to see thee, I have written to thee, that I may be filled with joy."

"When I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother, Lois, and thy mother, Eunice; and I am persuaded that in thee also."

"Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands."

Timothy came from a Christian home, in which both his grandmother and mother were devout women who had brought the boy up in their own earnest faith. Paul was undoubtedly trying to build up Timothy's confidence in himself in this letter because he knew it might not be long before he (Paul) would be gone from life and no longer able to aid his "son" with his own strength and faith.

"But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them;"

"And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus."

Paul Advises Titus
Titus, to whom St. Paul wrote the letter following his second epistle to Timothy, was a devoted and trusted convert of and worker with Paul. It is thought he was a Gentile, and he accompanied Paul and others on various missions. Paul's letter to him tells him how to conduct his church for the best interests of all; preaching to them that which shall become "sound doctrine."

"That the aged men be sober, grave, temperate, sound in faith, in charity, in patience."

"The aged women likewise, that they be in behavior as becometh holiness, no false accusers; not given to much wine, teachers of good things;"

"That they may teach the young women to be sober, to love their husbands, to love their children."

And in the last two verses given us in today's lesson—
"For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men,"

"Teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world."

Incalculable is the influence of a home where love rules with soberness, righteousness, godliness,
