livestock raising, tobacco, etc.

Also their airport committee is making all efforts towards securing an airport for Haywood county.

The Chamber of Commerce has organized an industrial committee to contact those industries that would be suitable for this community; to be able to give all information needed, with data relative to all labor situations, wage scales, statistics, sites, etc.; to bring those needed and wanted here and to cooperate in every way with those that are already here in expanding and enhancing their products.

The Chamber of Commerce is working in cooperation with the 4-H club project, in connection with our State Test Farm, and has made a large contribution towards the development of this project, which will bring 2,500 boys and girls to the farm and to Waynesville during the summer months. Two hundred will come every week for instruction in farming and agriculture, from 18 Western Carolina counties. This will necessitate buildings for housing, classes, dining hall, recreation, etc. The Test Farm is one of our biggest assets and should be shown consideration and cooperation by our communities and organizations.

The offices of the Chamber of Commerce receive inquiries daily for information concerning industry, agriculture and tourists. Advertising literature is sent out to practically every state and to many foreign countries, giving information in detail of the assets and possibilities of our communities and surrounding country. Our tourist trade was double this year from last and next season will be even greater. This also is one of our biggest "crops" and is handled almost solely through the facilities of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber of Commerce is urging cooperation with all delinquent assessed memberships and contributors, before the year ends. At their next meeting of the Board of Directors a nominating

MISTLETOE IS MORE NEEDED THAN HOLLY ANYWAY

You are going to have to hunt up a substitute for holly this year, says the Agriculture department. The Eastern producing areas are almost wholly without holly due to last Spring's severe frosts and the subsequent heavy rains. These two blights destroyed the late flower buds and interfered with pollination of blossoms. Result: no red berries for decoration this year.

TURKEY HASH WILL COME IN HANDY

Due to the holiday inroads on meat over the Thanksgiving holiday, the U. S. Department of Agriculture says that the federally inspected meat production was reduced by 10,000,000 pounds. Seems like life is just one surprise after another. Get rid of ration stamps and you find nothing on the counter.

A committee will be appointed to make selections of names for a new Board of Directors for 1946 to be elected early in the year. There is much to be done through the offices of the Chamber of Commerce, along the lines of industry, agriculture, tourists and for the improvement and betterment of our towns and communities, and the interest and cooperation of each citizen is needed to carry the programs to fulfillment.

Campaign Against Shoplifting Started

and the city police department, two women, Mrs. Florence Boone, alias Florence Ensley, and her sister, Mrs. Dollie Conard, were arrested on Tuesday of last week, tried in Superior court on the following day and sentenced to not less than one year and not more than four in state's prison for shoplifting.

The police department had been notified early Tuesday morning that the two women who were suspected of theft were in town shopping. They were followed from store to store. In one grocery store one of them dropped a can of fruit and rushed to another department as she saw a member of the police force looking at her as she was about to take the can, the officer said.

After making the rounds of the stores, the women, laden with their bundles, went into a local eating place around noon and ordered sandwiches and drinks, to refresh themselves after their strenuous morning.

In a casual manner a member of the city police strolled in and sat at the table with the two women and started an innocent conversation, which eventually led to condemning evidence of the shopping expedition.

In the course of the conversation there was mention made of a leather jacket. The policeman asked where it had been purchased and from whom. The woman who had the jacket gave him the name of the store and also that of the clerk.

The policeman asked her if she would mind going with him to the store and identifying the clerk. She agreed without hesitation, though she was beginning to show signs of nervousness. She led him to the store and to the clerk, but the clerk stated that he had not made the sale, and that the jacket had not been sold by his firm.

The women also had a number of other articles that could not be authentically accounted for, as to where they had been purchased.

In the meantime the policeman having been notified by the management of the store that had lost the leather jacket, walked with the women down town, presumably back to where they had started from, but their destination, whether or not they suspected it, led them to the courthouse, and eventually to the jail on the third floor.

The case was brought to trial on Wednesday afternoon with the verdict in favor of the plaintiffs. There are reported to be a number of shoplifters active in the community, including several small

Goal Of $460 For Tuberculosis Christmas Seals

Tuberculosis Christmas seals went on sale yesterday afternoon and will be sponsored by the Waynesville Woman's club, with Mrs. Frank Ferguson serving as chairman. The 1945 goal has been set at $460, $60 more than that of last year.

As has been the custom for many years the principals of the schools will serve as chairman of committee sales in their areas and the majority of the sales will be made through the schools.

The mailing committee which has charge of mailing sheets of the seals to business men and individuals in the community will be directed this year by Mrs. James W. Killian, chairman, and Mrs. C. F. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Frank Kinsey.

Any person who does not receive stamps from the mailing committee and would like to buy them in this way are asked to call any member of the committee and state the amount they desire and they will be mailed to them at once.

Three-fourths of the money derived from the sales is kept in the community for work among tubercular suspects and underprivileged children.

POSSESSIONS OF "THE SHIEK" PUT UP ON AUCTION BLOCK

Bobby-soxers of the silent screen age will remember most vibrantly the heart-pulser... the romantic hero of "The Shiek", and other sure-fire heart palpitations. Probably no other screen actor has so completely captivated the feminine world as did Rudolph Valentino and only his untimely death ended a career of such magnitude.

But now his valued possessions are going under the hammer and very few will appreciate the associations. Jeweled swords, rare books, antique silver, paintings and a $10,000 custom built grand piano were among the mementos of the late shiek that went under the auctioneer's hammer.

WANTED: A HOUSE TO LIVE IN ANYWHERE

It once was that tenants were very particular in what part of town they lived, but in this day and time, all they really want is a floor and a roof connected. One of the greatest needs of the present day is a series of housing projects to get started as soon as possible in every city so as to accommodate the returning men as they start assembling their families and adjusting themselves to their post-war life.

Buy an extra bond and help bring the boys back home.

GET YOUR CANNING SUGAR BEFORE THE THIRTIETH

OPA has issued a reminder today that special coupons now good for five pounds of sugar to be used for home canning will not be valid after November 30th. This ban has no effect upon the currently valid sugar stamp that expires December 31st.

Even in a time of stringency, the old rhyme, slightly modified, might be useful, my boy, with the rather coy and stand-offish type—"Roses are red and violets blue—Sugar is hard to get and so are you."

"Don't keep us idle—put every milk bottle back into service now."
