

Granddaughter Of Mrs. MacFayden Married In Service At St. John's

Miss Virginia Hartshorn, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hartshorn of Canton, and granddaughter of Mrs. Jennie MacFayden, of Waynesville, and Lt. George John Reuss, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Reuss of Chicago, were married in a double-ring ceremony at Saint John's church in Waynesville on Saturday evening, December 1, at 8 o'clock, with Father Hugh P. Kennedy officiating.

The church was decorated with arrangements of white chrysanthemums and gladiolus against a background of greenery and lighted tapers.

Preceding the ceremony, a program of wedding music was presented by Miss Louise Slaughter, organist, of Canton, and Mrs. Henry MacFayden, soloist, of Waynesville, cousin of the bride. Miss Slaughter played "Traumerei" by Schumann, and Mrs. MacFayden sang "Ave Maria" by Schubert and "The Rosary" by Nevin. Liebestraum by Liszt was played softly during the ceremony. The traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of white corded taffeta fashioned with high portrait neckline, fitted bodice, long sleeves ending in points over the hands, and full skirt with train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses centered with white orchids.

Mrs. Donald Randolph of Canton was matron of honor and wore a gown of pastel blue taffeta and lace with fitted bodice, square neckline and full skirt. Miss Muriel Cavanaugh of Canton, and Clyde was maid of honor and wore a similar gown of shell pink taffeta and lace. Both attendants wore shoulder length veils of net attached to coronets of tiny rosebuds and carried arm bouquets of white chrysanthemums.

Serving as best man was Lt. Norman Schurtz, of Lebanon, N. J. Ushers were Lt. Lee Kob of Hershey, Pa., Capt. N. Duboner, Newark, N. J., and Capt. Roger Rhodamer of Canton.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in Canton at the home of the bride's parents. The entire lower floor of the home was decorated with white chrysanthem-mus, ferns and white candles in crystal holders.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Hartshorn, parents of the bride, the bridal couple and attendants. Mrs. Hartshorn, mother of the bride, wore a gown of lavender lace with corsage of gardenias, and Mrs. Jennie MacFayden, maternal grandmother of the bride, wore a gown of wine crepe.

Serving at the bridal table was Miss Margaret Mease, assisted by Mrs. Sula Brown. Mrs. Willis Kirkpatrick presided over the register.

Take Wedding Trip

Following the reception the couple left for a wedding trip to southern points. They are expected to return to Canton this week-end and will remain at the home of the bride's parents until January 10 when they will move to Arkansas where Lt. Reuss expects to be permanently located.

Mrs. Reuss received her education in the Canton schools, the University of Tennessee and University of North Carolina.

Lt. Reuss was graduated from Chicago University and has served with the U. S. army in the Pacific theater for more than 32 months. He also served for more than six months in the E. T. O.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hartshorn and daughter, Margaret Ann, of Asheville, Mrs. Archie MacFayden of San Antonio, Texas, Mrs. Sula Brown and Mrs. Lillian Allen of Greensboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Reeves Return from Washington

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Reeves and son, Lt. Commander Edwin R. Rodgers returned Monday from Washington, D. C., where they visited Miss Winifred Rodgers, hospital apprentice, first class, who is stationed at St. Elizabeth's hospital. Miss Rodgers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reeves and sister of Lt. Commander Rodgers. Mr. and Mrs. Reeves have another son, William A. Rodgers, M.O.M.M. first class who has been in the Pacific theater for the past 28 months.

Miss Eloise Martin, who is attending Western Carolina Teachers College, arrived this week for the Christmas holidays.

GETS MEDAL OF HIS HERO FATHER

A BRONZE STAR won by his hero father, Capt. Victor Briggs of New York is pinned on the coat of little Victor Briggs who appears more interested in the honor—Brig. Gen. F. S. Strong—than in the gift. The ceremony took place in London and the posthumous award was given for gallantry during the campaign in Algiers in 1942.

Miss Teague Becomes Bride Of Wm. Sawyer

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Teague have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Margaret Gwendoly to William D. Sawyer, veteran of World War II, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Sawyer, of Waynesville, which took place at Avondale Estate, Ga., on Saturday, December 1, at 8 o'clock in the evening.

The marriage was solemnized at the home of Rev. J. W. Fields, who pronounced the vows.

For her marriage the bride wore a wool suit in grey with black accessories and her corsage was of white carnations. Her only ornament was an antique bracelet worn by her mother at the time of her marriage.

Mrs. Dorothy Green Fields was the bride's only attendant. She wore a suit of green with black accessories.

The bridegroom had as his best man J. W. Fields, Jr., of Avondale Estate.

The bridegroom served with the rank of sergeant in the Eighth Air Force in the European theater of operations with a bomber command station in England. He volunteered in the service in October, 1941, and was inducted at Fort McPherson.

Sgt. Sawyer served as a left waist gunner on a Flying Fortress and completed 25 missions over Germany. He was awarded the distinguished flying cross and a number of other awards for his service in the air forces.

The couple have returned to Waynesville and will make their home here for the present.

The supply of sugar for the first quarter of 1946 will be sufficient to maintain civilian rationing at present.

As to food supplies for 1946, only sugar and some fats and oils are expected to be short when summer comes along.

It's a good time for rural health committees to induce doctors and nurses returning from war to settle in their areas.

Timely, Practical Household Suggestions

By RUTH CURRENT

Whether a houseplant grows to foliage or to bloom may depend on the size of its pot. Plant scientists say that plants grown in homes for decorative foliage, such as the bright-leaved coleus, need large containers with plenty of space for expanding roots to favor heavy leaf growth. Flowering plants on the other hand, give more bloom in small pots which cause roots to be "pot bound" but a plant needs to be repotted occasionally to provide fresh nourishment.

Nutritionists tell us cranberries add considerable vitamin C to the diet when they are served in generous portions. Science explains that vitamin C tends to be destroyed by heat and by exposure to air. In other words, the food value of cranberries varies according to the way you prepare them. Most of the vitamin C is available when you use the berries raw—as in a freshly made relish or molded salad. Some vitamin C is lost when you make cranberries into sauce. Even more is destroyed when you strain the sauce or make the juice into jelly.

When buying nuts in their shells, homemakers sometimes are uncertain as to how much "meat" they will yield. This yardstick will help eliminate guess work: one pound of unshelled almonds yields about 1 cup of shelled kernels; 1 pound of filberts, about 1 1/3 cups; 1 pound of peanuts, about 2 cups; 1 pound of pecans, almost 1 1/2 cups; 1 pound of English walnuts, a little more than 1 1/2 cups halved kernels; and 1 pound of black walnuts, about 1/2 cup broken kernels.
