Legion and Auxiliary To Hold Meetings Friday Evening

The regular monthly meetings of the Waynesville Post of the American Legion and Legion Auxiliary will be held on Friday evening, the 11th, at 7:30 o'clock.

POLYGAMOUS GI

WASHINGTON—To the GI who married several wives in the South Pacific and wanted to bring them back while he went to college in hopes of collecting $15 a month each for them under the "GI Bill of Rights"—the answer is no.

The soldier said he believed he acquired the wives legally, because it was according to native custom. "It's the way they do business in this tribe," he wrote.

ARMY TO START SENDING WAR BRIDES TO U. S.

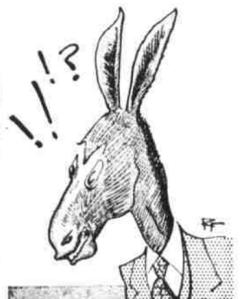

PARIS—The Army will start sending brides of American soldiers to the United States this month, European Theater Service Forces Headquarters said recently.

TIT FOR TAT

Harry Lauder, the retired comedian, has been very active in good works for the troops in training near his beautiful estate in Scotland.

AND THE EARS?

Jim—The only difference between you and a mule is that a mule wears a collar!

Injury, said the worker. "Inattention," said the boss. "Inflammation," said the doc. "Incurable," said the hospital.

School Daze Teacher—Didn't your mother write a note? Jimmy—Yes, ma'am, but I forgot to bring it.

Contortionists Joe—You know, politicians aren't so simple. Bill—Why not? Joe—You try standing on a fence and keeping both ears to the ground.

Puns for Sale Customer—I want to get a tape measure. Clerk—Want a steel one? Customer—What do you mean? Do I look like a thief?

Gabble Gabble Joe—Did you know the average girl baby learns to talk in 18 months? Bill—Yeah, and they never learn to keep their mouth shut in 60 years.

Chipped Beef Hubby—This hash tastes like sawdust. Wifey—It could be. I made it from a plank steak.

LIFETIME GUARANTEE

Customer—You're certain this century plant will bloom in a hundred years? Clerk—If it doesn't, you can bring it back.

A Is For? Tom—Where did you get the A on your sweater? Jim—I played football for Yale. Tom—But Yale doesn't begin with A.

Out and Under Harry—Ted had a big blowout last night. Jerry—Did it hurt the tire much? Harry—It didn't even touch the tire, but it certainly touched him.

Carbon Compounds Of the untold millions of carbon compounds capable of existence, chemists have isolated from natural sources or have synthesized perhaps half a million.

Lewis Gibson S 2-c Missing Since 1942 Declared Dead

Lewis Gibson, Seaman second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McKinley Gibson of Canton, who was reported missing in action on March 1, 1942, is now reported by James Forrestal, secretary of the navy, to have lost his life on that date, according to information received by his parents.

The letter of Secretary Forrestal to Mr. and Mrs. Gibson read in part as follows:

"On Feb. 27, 1942, the Langley, while en route to Tjilatjap, Java, from Fremantle, Australia, was bombed by enemy planes; when about 74 miles south of Tjilatjap.

"Survivors of the Langley were picked up and taken aboard two of the escort vessels. On the early morning of March 1, 1942, the survivors of the Langley, including the wounded, were transferred to the USS Pecos which was headed for Fremantle, Australia.

"In view of the length of time that has now elapsed since your son was officially determined to be missing in action, because of the strong probability that he lost his life in the bombing and sinking of the USS Langley of the USS Pecos, and in view of the fact that his name has not appeared on any lists or reports of personnel liberated from Japanese prisoner of war camps, I am reluctantly forced to the conclusion that he is deceased.

"I know what little solace the formal and written word can be to help meet the burden of your loss, but in spite of that knowledge, I cannot refrain from saying very simply, that I am sorry. It is hoped that you may find comfort in the thought that your son gave his life for his country, upholding the highest traditions of the navy."

M. H. Bowles Heard At Hazelwood P.T.A.

The meeting of the Hazelwood P.T.A. on Monday night was opened by the singing of America Beautiful and a responsive reading taken from the State Bulletin.

M. H. Bowles spoke on "What Are School Essentials." Mrs. Sam Knight, membership chairman, reported that the P.T.A. had won a gold ribbon for a 10 per cent increase in membership.

Miss Eula Patterson's room won the half holiday for having the largest percentage of parents present.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lawrence Davis and Mrs. Jonathan Woody.

SECRET GROUP AIDS CHURCH

SUMMIT, N. J.—"We repair anything but the break of dawn, the crack of doom, and a broken heart."

With this slogan as the keynote of their efforts, young men of the Central Presbyterian church, of this city, have adopted a novel way of keeping the church structure in repair. Operating anonymously as "The Secret Six," they contribute spare time several nights a month and make systematic overhauls of furniture, equipment, and decorations.
