Dark Flour Bereft Of Brand Names

FORT WORTH, Texas—A majority of millers will not market the new emergency dark flour under their regular or advertised brand names according to W. P. Bomar, Fort Worth, president-nominate of the Millers National Federation.

Mr. Bomar said the trade-mark labels are too valuable to risk the resentment that might be built up against them if the public doesn't like the flour.

Long Distance Lines Are Busier Than Ever

More people are making more long distance telephone calls than ever and you may experience delays on some of your calls.

We are doing everything possible to expand facilities. This year thousands of miles of new long distance circuits are being added—additional long distance switchboards are being installed in many places and hundreds of young women are being employed and trained as operators to help meet the increasing demand for more long distance service.

It's a big job and will take time. But the job is done we will continue to give your help when circuits are overloaded by using the service only for necessary calls. Your continued cooperation is appreciated.
