 something over $3,000.
 The bull the Haywood men planned to buy, which was more outstanding than the one purchased, sold for $25,000. Since they were unable to buy the latter animal, they bought an outstanding calf sired by E. G. F. Princeps Mixer, the $25,000 animal. The calf was bought from the stock of the Elm Grove Hereford Farm at Blytheville, Ark. This young bull has a good combination of blood lines and is a fine prospect for an outstanding herd sire.
 Two of the five animals are bulls and the three females. With the exception of the two-year old bull, the other four animals belong to M. O. Galloway and C. T. Francis.

Dr. Stringfield Retires

 team made a perfect record.
 While taking his examinations at the state board to get his licenses in 1898, he received word that his company, "The Richland Rifles," had volunteered and he had to leave and join his company en route to Cuba to fight in the Spanish-American War.
 In 1900 he was elected mayor of Waynesville and served two one-year terms. During his regime as a town official the first water system was installed, which according to Dr. Tom, "the water was not fit to drink, when it rained, but was plenty good enough to wash in and was fine fire protection."
 The first pavement on Main street was put down during his term of office. It started at the Gordon Hotel and ended past the property of Dr. J. Howell Way.
 "It was an awful job," said Dr. Tom, "you couldn't please everybody. Many of the citizens wanted their places left two feet above the sidewalk, while others were cut down."
 In 1927 Dr. Stringfield represented Jackson, Transylvania and Haywood counties in the State Senate, his last elective political office held.
 His military career covers a period from his enlistment in November, 1888, to his discharge following World War I. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in 1894 and in 1898 when the company reported for duty in Cuba he was a first lieutenant.
 In 1899 he was promoted to captain in the First N. C. Infantry, National Guard. In 1905 he was promoted to Major Judge Advocate of the First N. C. Brigade, National Guard. From 1905 to 1907 he served as Lt. Col., inspector National Guard. From 1907 to 1916 he served as Colonel Inspector General State Guard and from Oct., 1916, to March, 1918, served as Inspector General National Guard.
 The official record of all these services which are contained on one sheet are among his precious official keepsakes.
 During World War II, he served continuously and is still a member of the local draft board and with the other members "holds a selective service medal," awarded in the name of the Congress of the United States for faithful and loyal service."
 Dr. Tom has kept several scrapbooks of clippings of World War II which no doubt will some day be a prized history of Haywood county's contribution of service.
 With his friends and family about him, a keen interest in affairs of the day and enough hobbies to keep him busy, Dr. Tom looks forward to his retirement.

Two Insurance Agencies Operate From One Office

 ers of the company still do business with the firm, which they have patronized since 1904. A large amount of real estate had also been handled by the firm, representing some of the major exchanges of property in this area.
 The Atkins Agency, originally operating as Howell and Reed, was also one of the older business firms in the community was taken over by the late Hilliard B. Atkins, well known business man, over 30 years ago. It was managed by Mr. Atkins until his death last October, following which his executor sold the business to the present owners.
 The two agencies represent many of the oldest and most substantial insurance companies in this country and the current owners expect to continue to represent these established firms.
 Plans by the new owners are to extend the business to include all types of insurance which will give their patrons the most well rounded insurance service offered in Western North Carolina.
 Mr. Kilpatrick will serve as manager of the two agencies. He is a native of New York, a veteran of World War II, having recently received his discharge with the rank of captain from the army. He volunteered in July, 1942, and took his basic training at Sea Girt, N. J., later attending Officers Candidate School at Fort Monmouth, N. J. He served one year in the Pacific theater.
 While Mr. Kilpatrick was serving overseas his wife, the former Miss Caroline Rose, and their young daughter, Lynn, resided with her parents here. Mr. and Mrs. Kilpatrick have recently moved to their home on Brown avenue.
 Henry Gaddy, who was associated with the firm of E. L. Withers, will continue to handle rentals and real estate from the office of the two agencies.

Trout Season Opens Monday

 preted the act as to provide free licenses for veterans, which was not the case. The free license provision for soldiers and sailors, under the measure became inapplicable to them when they were discharged from the armed forces. The act provided that this privilege would expire six months after the war.
 Some of the more important rules for fishermen to remember were pointed out by Mr. Ratcliff as follows:
 Illegal for any person over 16 years of age to fish in inland waters without proper fishing license.
 Illegal for state resident to fish out of home county without state resident fishing license or resident daily fishing permit.
 Illegal to take fish by "jiggering," nets or traps in inland waters.
 Illegal to buy, sell, or offer game fish for sale at any time.
 Illegal to use dynamite to kill fish. Minimum penalty for conviction one hundred $100.00 or sixty days imprisonment.
 Illegal to use poison to kill fish.
 Illegal to seine for game fish in inland waters.
 The daily creel limit and size limit included the following: Rainbow trout, 12, 7 inches; Brook or Speckled trout, 12, 7 inches; Smallmouth bass, 8, 12 inches; Largemouth bass, 8, 12 inches; Spotted bass, 8, 12 inches; White perch, 20, 7 inches.

Peeling Season

The Best Time To Cut Pulpwood

Plan now to cut and peel as much pulpwood as possible during the season when the sap is up and trees peel easily. Peeled pulpwood prices are substantially above those paid for rough wood.

There are many other advantages to peeling. The cut and peeled log dries out quickly and loses up to half its weight. The smooth, lighter pulpwood sticks are easier to load and handle; you can haul more pulpwood per trip, save time, labor, gasoline and tires.
