

Impressive Memorial Service Held On Sunday

An impressive county-wide Memorial Day service was held at the First Methodist church here Sunday morning, with the American Legion in charge.

Rev. Paul Townsend, pastor of the church, preached the sermon, and during the service, the roll call of the names of the 118 men who were killed during World War II was read by William McLeod.

The Legion, under the direction of D. F. Whitman, commander, advanced the colors at the opening of the service, Capt. Underwood sounded Taps, as the audience stood for a minute of silent prayer.

Broken Pavements Are Now Repaired

A repair crew spent the greater part of last week filling broken places on the paved streets of Waynesville. Asphalt was used in most places and heavy machinery rolled the mixture in place.

Some of the holes had developed into traffic hazards, but most all the worst places have been repaired.

Negro Choir Of 50 To Sing Here Tonight At Eight

The Chamber of Commerce will sponsor an entertainment at the court house here tonight at 8 o'clock of the Stephens-Lee high school negro choir, composed of 50 voices.

The group is well known here, having sung before capacity crowds at the First Methodist church here. The program will be about one and a half hours long, and is an excellent entertainment.

They have good voices and will give groups of negro spirituals and strongly rhythmic folk songs. The outstanding feature of the program will be a white spiritual composed by Miss Margaret Stringfield entitled, "It Will Be a Great Day."

The public is invited to attend. There will be only a small admission fee, but anyone who wishes to make a donation toward the music department of the school to purchase needed equipment may do so. There will be a section reserved in the balcony for the colored people of this area.

something new outside the larger retail centers. We feel this move will enable us to give better service to the public, and it is another step toward an expansion program we are working on at present.

Mrs. Alley will also train salespersons, in addition to handling all personnel and public relations activities of the firm. The company has been approved to train veterans and now has three veterans being trained. Mr. Slack opened his first store in Canton in 1939, and two years later opened the Waynesville store. Last year he opened the Brevard store, at the same time completing an expansion and remodeling program on the store here.

Several weeks ago Ray P. McNichol, display and advertising man, formerly with Rich's in Atlanta, joined the firm, handling the same work for all three stores. Mr. McNichol builds all of his own window display materials in a well equipped work shop recently added on the second floor of the Waynesville store.

Mrs. Alley was employed with the U. S. Employment Service in 1936 and prior to that served in an advisory capacity, she was named manager in 1941, a position she has held until she resigned. She served three years as president of the N. C. Congress of Parents and Teachers, two years as state chairman of the Infantile Paralysis campaign, has been active in work of

Revival Begins 29th At Maple Grove Church

Revival services will begin Wednesday, May 29th, at the Maple Grove Methodist church, and continue through June 9th, with Mrs. C. L. Studley, of High Point, bringing the messages.

Rev. C. R. Ross, pastor of the church, extends an invitation to the public to attend.

Haywood Schools Complete Very Successful Term

The closing exercises of the Waynesville Township high school and others of the county, with the exception of Fines Creek, including also elementary schools, were held last Friday morning, there being no formal graduating program due to the addition of the 12th grade, which had delayed graduation of the rising seniors.

In the Waynesville school, however, five girls who had been transferred from other schools were given credit for their work, equivalent to the 12th grade and were given diplomas to that effect. In this group were: Aletha Cagle, Pauline Dyer, Lena Frady, Frances Dyer and Holly Carol McElroy. C. E. Weatherly, principal, presented the class of five and M. H. Bowles, district superintendent, gave out the diplomas.

Rev. M. R. Williamson made a brief address to the seniors having as his topic, "Living in the post war world." Mr. Williamson also gave the invocation and the benediction.

The usual awards and certificates given by outside groups were made during the morning, including The American Legion awards to the junior high which were won by James Whitman and Elaine Francis. Both boys and girls medals and certificates were presented by Rev. S. R. Crockett.

The art poster contest awards given by the American Legion Auxiliary were presented by Mrs. J. C. Brown to Dorothy Calhoun, first place, and Norma Jean Brown, second winner.

Prizes of government stamps were given to the winners in the best work in art contest sponsored by the Woman's Club to Betty Bradley, first place, and Frances Henry, second, with Martha Cressman and Betty Ann Brown receiving honorable mention. Mrs. J. W. Kilian, retiring president, made the presentations.

Attendance certificates for the year were given by Mr. Weatherly to 55 students making perfect records. Tommy Gibson was given a special certificate for not having missed a day since he started to school nine years ago.

Mr. Howles thanked the teachers for their fine cooperation during the year and stated that he considered the term one of the most successful ever recorded by the local school.

The program also included a number of musical selections by the various groups of the school.

MEDICINE FIGHTER?

When a restless child needs a laxative, it upsets child and mother to give bad-tasting medicine. You don't need to!

Try Triena FOR CHILDREN

Triena is the laxative children don't fight. It's effective, thorough, made with famous senna — yet it tastes good, because it's flavored with pure prune juice. When faulty elimination makes your child irritable and fretful, remember the quick relief TRIENA brings. Give Triena. Caution: use only as directed. 30c, large size 50c.

Building MORE LINES TO HANDLE MORE CALLS

All over the South, telephone men are hard at work expanding facilities to handle a greater volume of long distance calls.

More long distance calls now go through as you hold the wire. Service generally is getting better, but we're still a good way to go before we get back to the pre-war standard of service.

Once we catch up with that, we'll keep right on going and try to make the record even better.
