Learning About the Kingdom

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Matt. 6:9-13 Luke 9:18-27; 46-48; 57-62; 11:1-4; 12:1-12; 17:20, 21.

"When ye pray, use not vain repetition as the heathen do," said Jesus, "after this manner therefore pray ye: 'Our Father, which art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name.'"

Setting a child in the midst of His disciples who disputed as to who should be greatest, Jesus said, "He that is the least among you all, the same shall be great."

A man told Jesus that he would follow Him, but Jesus said, "Foxes have holes and birds have nests, but the Son of Man hath not where to lay His head." Our Lord had no home.

When the Pharisees demanded to know when the Kingdom of God would come, Jesus answered, "The Kingdom of God is within you."

MEMORY VERSE—Matt. 6:10

The Everyday Counselor

REV. HERBERT SPAUGH, D. D.

"Men don't as often die of disease, as of internal combustion," quoted a reader to me the other day. I don't know his authority, but his thought is good.

Jesus came into a quarreling, selfish and suspicious world. He came with a new message of love and understanding. He offered His life in one great demonstration of the love of God.

of the love of God. The Age of the Reformation—the sixteenth century—was notable for that when men everywhere acquired a new consciousness of God and His Word.

These are the days in which many are praying for a new vision of love in a world torn with war, hate and strife; when legions of hell seem to be unleashed in all their fury.

What a need to again listen to the words of the Psalmist, "Wait on the Lord, and He shall strengthen thine heart. . . He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most high shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. . . God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble."

Blessed is he who can say, "The Lord of Hosts is with us."

Jesus and the child. "Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so on earth."—Matt. 6:10.

Learning About the Kingdom

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for June 16 is Matt. 6:9-13, Luke 9:18-27, 46-48, 57-62; 11:1-4, 12:1-12; 17:20, 21, the Memory Verse being Matt. 6:10, "Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so on earth."

argument. "And Jesus, perceiving the reasoning of their heart, took a child, and set him by Him, and said unto them, Whosoever shall receive this child in My name receive Me; for he that is least among you all, the same shall be great."

"IT CAME to pass that as He was praying in a certain place, when He ceased, one of His disciples said unto Him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught His disciples."

Jesus answered them, "When ye pray, say, Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so on earth."

"Give us day by day our daily bread. And forgive us our sins, for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil."

Jesus' prayer is a very simple one, isn't it? We ask that God, our Father's name, be hallowed here on earth. That means, if we are sincere in our petition, that we will not blaspheme or take God's name in vain, but will truly exalt it.

We ask for daily bread, not luxuries, only bread that we may live. Comforts that we receive in life are not to be despised, nor even luxuries, but we ask but for what is necessary.

Then we ask that our sins be forgiven us as we forgive others their sins against us. If we do not freely forgive those who sin against us, how can we ask that our sins be forgiven? And by forgiveness is meant not only lip service saying we forgive, but really overlooking the offense and admitting the offender to the former friendship, or, if not that, at least holding no grudge against him. We expect others to forget our transgressions completely, but only can we demand that if we also forget theirs.

Being asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of God was to come on earth, He answered, "The Kingdom of God cometh not with observation; Neither shall they say, Lo here! or, lo there! for, behold, the kingdom of God is within you."

These who are attune with the teachings of Jesus, have the kingdom of God in themselves, or "amongst them," as the revised version says. So we pray, as Jesus taught us, "Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so on earth," and try to so live that we help its coming.
