

Boosters Lead League; Lions Vs. Youth Club In Tonight's Opener

Tannery and Lions Win Close Games In Tuesday Night's Softball Play

The Lions and Youth Club open tonight's softball play in the W.H.L. league, followed by Unagusta meeting the Pet Dairy team, Monday the Tannery takes on Dayton in the first game followed by a tilt between the Boosters and High School.

Last night the Tannery was slated to meet the Youth Club, with the league leading Boosters capping the program in a game with the Veterans.

The first two nights of this week saw the Boosters roll to an easy 16-1 victory over Dayton and remain the only undefeated team in the league. In Monday night's second game Unagusta proved too powerful for the Youth Club, and added a 14-3 win to their record.

An eighth inning rally was necessary to untie the score Tuesday night as the Tannery, behind Robinson's pitching, took a close one away from the Veterans 7-6. The fireworks continued during the battle between the Lions and Pet Dais, with the Lions overcoming a one-run lead in the last half of the seventh and stringing up a 7-6 victory. Smith pitched for the winners and Medford hurled for the Pet team.

Louis-Conn Fight June 19 To Draw $1,000,000 Gate

Time is drawing near for the first World's heavyweight boxing match since Joe Louis was called to the army some years back, for the title is at stake the night of June 19 when Billy Conn returns to the ring with Louis before a million-dollar crowd in New York's Yankee Stadium.

Conn, who took a knock-out from Louis in the champion's last major title fight after having out-pointed Louis in most of the first thirteen rounds, is full of determination to wrest the heavyweight crown from the colored boy from Detroit. Louis, as usual, is ready and willing to take on the Pittsburgh war man, and both feel that the war years have not taken too much away from their fighting abilities.

Local fight fans will follow the match by radio, although New Yorkers and visiting spectators are paying $100 for ring-side tickets. Mike Jacobs, promoter of the match, is expecting the largest crowd in fighting history to attend.

A side-light of the fight picture occurred early this week when Jack Johnson, first negro heavyweight champion, was killed in an automobile accident near Raleigh while on his way from Texas to New York.

Fishermen will find the following streams in the Pisgah Preserve and Sherwood Forest area open this week-end: Big East Fork of Pigeon river, June 15-16; West Fork of Pigeon, June 19; Davidson river and tributaries, June 15-16; North Fork of French Broad river, June 14-15; North Mills river, June 14-15; Bent Creek and Lake Powhatan, June 16.

FISHERMAN'S LUCK

GARBALDI, Ore.—Greenbacks came floating down "from nowhere" onto fishing boats moored here. No one knows where the money came from, but a short time before, a plane had passed overhead.

Tom Hess, a commercial fisherman, said he was eating lunch on deck when the heaven-sent bills dropped before him. He threw away his sandwich and grabbed $16.

No matter who does it—even if the highest bidder gets the whole mess—let's prevent economic disaster by selling military surpluses while things are scarce.

Heroine Remains At Switchboard Aiding Others

CHICAGO—A nervous lad of 16 blinked his eyes to hold back tears as he moved slowly behind the coffin of his mother, a heroine.

The coffin bearing Mrs. Julia Berry, who died in the La Salle Hotel fire, was carried into St. Brendan's Roman Catholic Church, filled with those who had come as friends, relatives, neighbors and co-workers and strangers. They had come to pay final tribute to the woman who remained at her switchboard during the fire and gave her life that others might live.

The boy, Jack, knelt in a pew, a handkerchief clutched tightly in one hand, as the Rev. Edward Morgan spoke at the solemn requiem mass.

Father Morgan said: "Here was a woman who knew her duty and elected to do even more. It always is easy for us to find excuses not to do our duty. She neither looked for nor found such excuses."

Weird Beauty Found At Wisconsin Dells

WISCONSIN DELLS, Wis.—The weird formations created out of rock by the glacial age over a million years ago have proven a boon to this little vacation city 200 miles northwest of Chicago. Geology professors, students from great universities, and 100,000 sightseeing visitors come here annually to study the amazing creations of nature and time.

The formations are conveniently compact along a seven-mile stretch of the Wisconsin River, served by a colorful paddle-wheel steamer and motor launches. Outstanding are the beauties of Witehes' Gulch, Stand Rock, and Cold Water Canyon in the Upper Dells and numerous unique sights of the Lower Dells. Other attractions include the authentic American Indian ceremonies at Stand Rock Natural Amphitheater, where more than 100 Indians of a dozen famous American tribes perform their war dances and rituals nightly.

Fishing Streams Full, But Anglers Still In Bad Luck

The recent spell of dry weather has not lowered stream levels to a sufficient degree to make the fish hungry, and the past week-end found most anglers returning home with tales of the ones they saw rather than of the fish caught.

Big Creek and Catawchoe are so full of trout they need a traffic director, reports the county game warden, Rufus Ratcliffe. Still some of the best sportsmen of this section offered their complete line of bait without getting a nibble.

The main reason for this, in Mr. Ratcliffe's opinion, is that stick bait is hatching, and as the insects come out of their stick homes to stretch themselves before flying away, the trout rise to the surface and feed. With mother nature still offering a free lunch counter, artificial lure fails to tempt the well-fed fish.

Although the farmers need rain badly, if the dry spell continues for another week the warden predicts that streams will dry up and quit floating in the insects. When this happens, the trout will become so hungry that fishermen will have no trouble in bagging their limit.

Week-End Tournaments On Local Golf Course

Need any nylons, ladies? If so one way to get them is to get an ardent admirer—or you can go yourself—and enter the Blind Bogey golf tournament this week-end at the Country Club.

Nylons go to the winners again this week, and it doesn't take an expert linksman to win. Tournaments will be run Saturday and Sunday weather permitting with Ray Raynor, club pro, directing the play. It's all for fun, and the novice has as much chance as a Hagen or Sarazen to win.

Too, the Country Club course is said to be in the best of condition in years.
