Ohio Still Has Hopes To Offer G.O.P. Candidate

COLUMBUS—Ohio—mother of presidents—does not anticipate that two "favorite sons," will do their Alphonse-Gaston act in the 1948 Presidential scramble.

John W. Bricker, three-time Ohio governor and 1944 Vice-Presidential candidate, will shape his political course this summer along lines calculated to land him the 1948 race for the Republican Presidential nomination.

The white-haired, robust and handsome Bricker is the GOP candidate for U. S. Senator in the November finale. His opponent is the incumbent Democratic appointee Sen James D. Huffman of Columbus.

Bricker as one of the leading aspirants for the presidential nomination, a distinction shared by a fellow Buckeye, Sen. Robert A. Taft, son of the late William Howard Taft, and one of Senate's abides.

The Bricker-Taft show holds the spotlight even though observers also consider Harold Stassen, former Minnesota governor, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, and Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, as GOP presidential timber.

Indications already point to presidential ambitions by both Bricker and Taft although neither has made any official statements.

Probably because the showdown is almost two years off.

But, it probably will not be Alphonse-Gaston in 1948. In 1940 Bricker stepped aside to support Taft.

In 1944, Taft reciprocated what will happen next is the No. 1 question in Ohio GOP circles.

Either Bricker or Taft must have the solid support of the Ohio national party moguls. To divide the delegation votes would mean one of the non-Ohioans would step in and probably take over. That, both Bricker and Taft realize.

The former Buckeye governor proved his Ohio popularity when he polled more than 325,000 complimentary votes in the May primary when he was unopposed for the GOP senatorial nomination.

However, he will find stiff opposition from Huffman, who was appointed by Gov. Frank J. Lausche to fill the current unexpired term of Justice Harold C. Burton who resigned to accept the Supreme Court assignment.

The CIO-PAC has voted its support of Huffman, whom it could not defeat in the primaries. Huffman was preferred to Bricker. Organized labor found little to praise in the Bricker administration. Labor's non-partisan league at one time referred to Bricker's leadership as "shockingly antisocial in character."

If Bricker does win a Senate seat, it will mean work in the upper house alongside the brilliant operator, Taft—his Alphonse-Gaston buddy.

Bricker will have to step lively to keep pace with his fellow Ohioan in the August chambers, where if he chooses—Taft can easily overshadow his junior Ohio partner because of his years of experience.

Even "Boss" Army Gets Lost in Pentagon

WASHINGTON—The "boss" got lost today in the Pentagon Building.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower volunteered to guide a group of women magazine writers and editors out of the huge five-sided War Department headquarters after a luncheon given by Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson.

Before they left, he said, he would show them his own office. He made four false tries at promising-looking doors; then he grumbled and admitted he was lost.

An unidentified major came to the rescue and piloted the group to the right door.
