Dayton Plays Unagusta In Tonight's Top Tilt On Local Softball Field

High School Tangles With Veterans In Opening Game Tonight

Tonight's double-header on the W. H. L. softball field opens with the High School meeting the Vet erans and ends in a scrap between Unagusta and Dayton.

The Boosters, who were sched uled to have taken on the High School last night, will run into the Tannery in the second game of Thursday night. The Youth Club meets the High School in Thursday's first game. Monday the Tannery and Dayton were to have tangled in a fight for second place in league standings.

Last Thursday's play turned in victories for the Tannery and Boosters. The Youth Club sank farther into the league cellar by losing to the Tannery 16-9, and the Veterans put up one of the hardest fights seen on the league diamond, but lost 6-4 to the pace- pet setting Boosters.

Several well-known players of the big-city circuits were talked to, and a few, including southpaw hurler Max Lanier of Denton. N. C., and the St. Louis Cardinals answered the call. Jean Pierre "Pete" Roy, who got tired of warming the bench for Brooklyn and signed a contract in pesos, told reporters that he saw Lanier at breakfast one day with $50,000 on him. Tannery, Dayton Trail Boosters In League

It's an old story by now, but the Boosters still are way out in front in softball league standindgs-not only in games won but in team batting, with the high average of 381. In second place at the end of last week's play was the Tannery team, having lost only one game, to the Boosters, out of seven tries, and Dayton follows in third place, having dropped one out of six. Putnam has pitched all seven games played and won them all, so although two of the Tannery pitchers have unmarred records as well since Pressley has pitched only two and Gaddis one game, it's still safe to say that the Booster moundsman has shown the most class and deserves his top spot in the pitching records. The Veterans are one of the most dangerous teams in the league-their batting records show this-but have been unable to get their runs in when needed most so are in fifth standing at the present time, standings through Friday June 14th

Activities On Canton High Field

Canton's summer playground program, supervised on the high school athletic field by Coach C. C. Poindexter, is now getting under way with indications of becoming more popular than last year, when the average of 300 persons daily enjoyed the recreational facilities.

With ball fields, swings and other playground equipment for tots, and picnic tables set under the trees that shade the grounds along Pigeon river, a supervised recreational program is set up to fill in the through August.
