Grocery Sales In 1945 Nearly Double 1939

SHAWNEE-ON-DELEWARE — Retail grocery sales climbed from $10,000,000,000 in 1939 to almost $20,000,000,000 in 1945. Paul S. Willis, president of the Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc., said.

Part of the increase was due to higher prices he said but a large proportion was volume increase, in spite of critical shortages.

Mr. Willis told the mid-year meeting of the association that for every 100 cases of juices sold in 1939, the industry sold 133 cases in 1944. With 1939 as 100, comparative sales in 1944 were listed as follows:

Frozen foods, 243; canned meats, 474; carbonated beverages, 167; prepared haxes, 210; baby foods, 700; and biscuits and crackers, 183.

He urged the food processors to "hold the line" and "keep the American people sold on the value of good food," since competition for the consumer's dollar will soon be keen.

Dr. Leo Wolman, director of the National Bureau of Economic Research, Inc., said the government having "assumed the function of fixing wages" must bear the responsibility of having assured rising costs and rising prices.

"We have started the familiar spiral of the rise between wages and prices," Dr. Wolman added.

"No one knows how long that will last. Everyone knows that it will end not quietly and without evil effects, but in trouble and with extraordinarily difficult problems of economic and political adjustment."

He contended there is no assurance that more serious strikes will not break out again before the year is over.

Army Engineers In Favor Of Building Yadkin Dams

A report favoring construction of four flood control dams and reservoirs in the Yadkin river basin of North Carolina, at an estimated first cost of $7,194,000, was received from the South Atlantic division Army engineer's office in Atlanta.

One dam would be built on the Yadkin river six miles southwest of North Wilkesboro, another on the Yadkin river nine miles farther up stream, and two on Reddies river 1.6 and 12.3 miles above its mouth. These reservoirs would impound up to six inches of flood run-off from the drainage areas above them, and would have no other purpose.

A previous report by the engineers called for both flood control and power development on the Yadkin, but this was side-tracked when the Senate Committee adopted a resolution March 24 of last year authorizing a new survey to flood control only.

Pushed By Bailey
Senator Joseph W. Bailey of North Carolina, the committee chairman urged the engineers to file the new report in the flood control bill which Congress is expected to pass this year. Hearings already have started in the House.

Largest of the four proposed reservoirs would be the upper Wilkesboro, 15 miles upstream from North Wilkesboro. A dam 114 feet high and 650 feet wide at the top with a top elevation of 1,134 feet, would form a reservoir covering 4,230 acres with a capacity of 75,600 feet. The drainage area would cover 236 square miles, the full pool elevation would be 1,110 feet, the spillway would have a surcharge elevation of 1,129 feet, a length of 350 feet and a discharge capacity of 167,400 cubic feet per second.

The Wilkesboro reservoir would cover an area of two thousand acres with a capacity of 36,400 acre feet. It would be formed by a dam 86 feet high, 300 feet long at the top and with a top elevation of 1,046 feet. The spillway would have a surcharge elevation of 1,041 feet, a length of 700 feet and a discharge capacity of 190,000 cubic feet per second. The drainage area would cover 348 square miles and the full-pool elevation would be 1,024 feet.

90 Feet High
At Reddies river dam site No. 1, 1.6 miles above its mouth, a dam 90 feet high with top length of 495 feet and top elevation of 1,065 feet, would form a 535-acre

Another Newsprint Price Rise Looms

WASHINGTON—OPA is considering another price increase for newsprint, an official of the agency said.

This official, who asked that his name be withheld, said a delegation of newspaper publishers had conferred with OPA Administrator Paul Porter and that they had expressed a "general belief" that there should be a price hike.

The publishers were concerned, the official said, lest Canadian newsprint producers begin selling a bigger share of their supply to countries willing to pay a higher price than they can obtain in the United States. About 30 per cent of the newsprint used in this country comes from Canada.

Mr. Porter, it was understood, has taken the proposal under consideration and has promised a decision soon.

Samuel Abbott Injured In Shipyard Accident

In an accident in Puget Sound Naval Shipyard, Bremerton, Wash., on June 13, Samuel E. Abbott, first class machinist mate in the ordnance repair shop, suffered multiple lacerations of his left hip, the tip of his right thumb, and left palm when a gyro wheel he was testing burst. He is in the Naval Hospital in Bremerton, and his condition is reported as fair.

Mr. Abbott is originally from Tipton, Ga., and is the brother of W. E. Abbott of Medford Farm and Jack Abbott, Canton. His wife is the former Miss Louise McDowell, of Clyde, and who at one time was member of the nursing staff at the Haywood County Hospital.
