Children in Europe Starving For Want Of Love, Food, and Care

NEW YORK.—As Europe continues a long struggle against hunger and threatened mass starvation, bands of children roam the streets forlornly seeking food. Hunger provokes outbreaks of child brigandage in Italy and Hungary. "In Hungary 30,000 derelict or small children stand without any aid. Babies are dying for want of milk."

These children are confused and "not only bodily, but mentally starving in want of love and care, of parents and a home," said Dr. Thelin.

Welfare of children, however, has become a No. 1 concern in the hearts of many of the world's people. Dr. Thelin told how many people and many nations are marshaling their resources for aid.

"In every country they are doing their utmost to help their own," he declared. "Relief committees are at work and have been all during the war."

Foster Homes Granted
In addition, many European families are taking even the children of foreign countries into their own homes, he said. Small refugees with special tags sewn to their clothing are crossing national boundaries to enter foster homes or special institutions in England, Sweden and Switzerland.

Swedish people and institutions have taken in about 50,000 children from Finland, Denmark, and Norway, according to Dr. Thelin. And special children's relief teams have gone from Sweden into Hungary, Poland, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Greece, France and "quite a number of other countries."

Behind these statistics are stories of individual heartbreak in the lives of Europe's youngest war sufferers. Dr. Thelin told of newborn babies swathed in paper, and of families who spent winter months in rooms with cardboard windows. "A little girl stole a baby in order to sell its clothing to buy food." ## That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try DOAN'S PILLS. DOAN'S help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!
