

Wheat Finds Oklahoma Crop "Excellent"

OKLA.—Isn't this section around Hutchinson, Kan., that growers are not bringing their wheat into elevators but are storing it or dumping on the ground to await further developments.

These reports, though are isolated. Elsewhere the picture is almost breath-takingly encouraging. Receipts at Enid, Okla., a major grain terminal, are running from 400 to 600 cars daily, setting new all-time records.

Glenn C. Palmer To Get Seat No. 54

Things are beginning to hum in Raleigh over the meeting of the legislature in January. This week veteran legislators were re-assigned their old places on the floor.

Glenn C. Palmer, representative from Haywood was given his old seat Number 54.

The seats in the senate side of the general assembly have not been assigned, so William Medford, state senator from this district has not heard which seat he will get.

Japanese Silk Coming To U. S. Each Month

Ten thousand bales of raw silk from Japan are expected to arrive in the United States each month from now on. Small amounts of silk are being imported from China, Italy and Brazil by private American trading, but all silk from Japan—by far the largest producer—is being handled by the U. S. Commercial Company, subsidiary of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, a government agency.

All Japanese silk is sent to government laboratories where it is tested and graded. The quality has been found to be excellent.

Early Shoe

Did you know that the sandal is believed to be the earliest type of shoe known to man with at least 4,000 years of style history behind it. Its long story started when primitive man wrapped a piece of leather around his foot to protect it from thorns.

SECTARIAN DIFFERENCES

A party of clergymen were attending a Presbyterian conference in Scotland. Several set out to explore the district, came to a river spanned by a temporary bridge. They didn't see the notice that said the bridge was unsafe, and started to cross. The bridgekeeper ran after them in protest. "It's all right," said the spokesman, not understanding the reason for the old fellow's haste. "We're Presbyterians from the conference."

"I'm not caring about that," said the old Scot bridgekeeper, "but if you dinna get off that bridge ye'll all be Baptists!"

CONFINING, ANYWAY

There's the story of an elderly woman who, in her autumnal years, made a career of spreading what she was wont to call sunshine among the inmates of a penitentiary.

Stopping outside the cell of one convict, she attempted to cheer him in the words of the poet: "Stone walls do not a prison make, nor iron bars a cage."

"No," he answered slowly. "But they help, lady, they help."

Too Good for Him

A farmer was in search of a horse.

"I've got just the horse for you," said the liveryman. "He's five years old, sound as a dollar and goes 10 miles without stopping."

The farmer threw his hands skyward.

"Not for me," he said, "not for me. I live eight miles from town, and with that horse I would have to walk back two miles."

Peace at Last

The new minister was talking to the oldest inhabitant.

"I be 97 years old, sir, and I haven't an enemy in the world," said the aged one.

"That is a beautiful thought," said the clergyman approvingly.

"Yes, sir," was the answer. "I'm thankful to say that I've outlived them all."

Only Flavors

A man in a restaurant called the waiter over disgustedly.

"What do you call this stuff?—coffee or tea?" he sneered. "It tastes like kerosene."

"If it tastes like kerosene," said the waiter calmly, "it must be coffee. The tea tastes like turpentine."

READY-STUFFED

"There you are, my dear," the bride announced, "my first turkey." She proudly placed the steaming bird on the dinner table.

"It looks wonderful, darling!" her husband responded. "What did you stuff it with?"

"Stuff it?" exclaimed the bride. "Why dear, this one wasn't hollow!"

"Well, they keep my feet from going to sleep."

Better Stay Home

"Most accidents happen on Saturday and Sunday."

"It's a great life if you don't week-end."

Wacky Pun

"We know what a WAVE and a WAC is, but what is a Woc?"

"Oh, a Woc is what we throw at a rabbit."

Best Native Shrubs

Two of the best of our wild native shrubs that are readily transplanted into almost any type of soil are the flowering dogwood, and the beautiful redbud or udas tree.

Enlistment of 5 In Army Announced

Two Waynesville and three Canton youths recently enlisted or re-enlisted in the regular Army, according to an announcement for Asheville Military District headquarters.

Billy Carver, son of Dewey Carver, Rt. 2, Waynesville, began his first service with the Army Air Force on June 14. Jack Gray, whose mother is Mrs. Clara H. Gray of Waynesville, was assigned to the Quartermaster Corps on June 8.

From Canton, Weaver G. Flowers, son of Mrs. Harriett E. Flowers of Rt. 1, re-enlisted after 45 months of previous service on June 6. Carl C. Miller, son of Mrs. Nancy Miller of 10 High St., signed again for service on June 8 with 68 months completed. Jerry L. Price, son of Mrs. Mae Price, 66 Cherry St. (Canton) was assigned to the Air Corps on June 6.

Farmers Are Losing Subsidies On Lambs

Many sheep growers are failing to apply for subsidies on lamb sales and thousands of dollars are being lost.

The subsidy rightfully belongs to the farmer who grows the lambs, but some buyers, who are not slaughterers, are collecting the subsidy and keeping it themselves.

Hazel Meacham, Extension marketing specialist at State College, advises that growers take a copy of the bill of sale issued by the slaughterer of the lambs, not necessarily the buyer; submit the bill of sale to the local AAA office, and receive a sight draft for the subsidy.

The subsidy is $2 per hundred pounds on lambs weighing 60 to 90 pounds; $2.65 per hundred for weights of 90 pounds and up; and $1 on all other lambs and sheep.

The subsidy applies on all sales through June 30 and the farmer can claim the subsidy through August 31.

All lambs that have been marketed by growers in cooperative sales have been listed for the subsidy, according to Meacham. On the other hand, where sales are made to itinerant buyers, most farmers are failing to collect the subsidy.

Huge D-Day Map Kept As Memorial

PORTSMOUTH, England.—The Admiralty has ordered the preservation as a memorial of "D-Day," the huge map used by Allied officers to direct the invasion of Europe on June 6, 1944.

The chart, covering an entire wall of a room at the Portsmouth Naval Aviation School, shows the position of every Allied craft, large and small, used in the landing operations.

The map, framed and illuminated, will be unveiled at ceremonies in late July to which American and other Allied representatives will be invited.

Florida Doctor Declares Polio Ruling "Stupid"

Polio quarantines imposed by other Southern states against Florida are "unwarranted and unnecessary," declared Dr. Wilson T. Sowder, Florida state health officer in a nationwide radio broadcast Friday night.

In explaining the infantile paralysis situation in this state, Dr. Sowder said it could not be considered an epidemic. Georgia, as well as North Carolina has issued rules requiring that children from areas, such as Florida and Texas, where several cases of polio have appeared in recent weeks, undergo a quarantine period before entering the state.

This ban, claims Dr. Sowder, is "useless as a preventative measure" and is "stupid."

High Valley Camp will open Today for season

The High Valley Camp at the Springdale school will officially open today. At least half of the campers have attended camp on other years.

Among the counselors who have arrived this week to assist with the camp are Miss Myrtle McCain and Miss Helen Handcock, of Selma, Ala. and Jay Dom, of Bronxville, N. Y. Others will arrive this week end.

Canton Police Arrest 73 During June

Of 73 arrests made by the Canton policemen during the present month, 30 were for public drunkenness, seven for reckless driving, three for speeding and four for vehicles being operated without proper brakes. Driving without license, larceny, and affrays were also charged.

One case was turned over to federal authorities and six were transferred to the juvenile court. Fines totalling $200 were given, and costs of more than $500 collected by the local police court.

Speeds Vegetable Growth

Nitrate of soda makes early vegetables grow faster. The use of commercial fertilizer in the garden pays. Even though your garden soil is well supplied with barnyard manure the addition of nitrate of soda speeds up growth. The nitrogen necessary to plant growth in manure has to be set free by bacteria. These bacteria work well only when the soil is warm. The nitrogen in nitrate of soda can be used by a plant growing in a cool soil.

Boxcar Runs Away; Engineer Catches It

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif.—A boxcar broke loose from a switching crew here and raced down a five-mile grade, speeding through the main part of town and over 14 grade crossings before it was finally brought under control.

Railroad workers estimated it hit a 70-mile-per-hour peak before operators in a control tower reduced it to 50-miles per hour by switching it over curves and rising ground.

It finally was stopped by Engineer Hugh Donahue, who raced his locomotive on the track ahead of it, throttled down to allow the rear of his engine to take the impact and then braked to a stop in the congested Santa Fe railway yards.

Meyer Quits Paper To Head World Bank

WASHINGTON—Eugene Meyer, publisher of the Washington Post, has formally announced he has relinquished active control over its affairs to assume the duties of President of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

Mr. Meyer said that he would retain his ownership interest in the Post but will "have no control or responsibility over news or editorial matters," so that the Post, he added, may continue to be an "independent paper."

Philip L. Graham, who married one of Mr. Meyer's daughters, Katharine, will succeed him as publisher.
