

Enka Seeks Site For New Rayon Plant

Several Locations In North Carolina Being Considered By Plant Engineers

CHARLOTTE—The huge American Enka Corporation of Asheville is seeking a location elsewhere in North Carolina for a second rayon processing plant to cost several millions of dollars, the Southern Textile News reported Thursday.

According to reports, engineers employed by the corporation are now investigating several sites—one of them in Iredell county just north of Charlotte—where the new plant may be located. Large quantities of pure water are essential qualifications for the location selected, just as it was in the location of the present plant at Enka, just outside of Asheville where spun and bleached rayons are manufactured.

Dr. J. L. Moritz, vice president and treasurer of the corporation, told the trade paper that further details were not yet available for release.

Industry sources said the new plant would probably replace production lost in the destruction of the corporation's interest in Holland during the war.

Lee Ross, formerly with The Waynesville Mountaineer, now of Morganton, spent the week-end in town with friends.

E. J. Hyatt

John L. Davis, Mark Galloway, John Kerley, Walter Hill, M. A. Poteat, J. B. Hoyle, William Chambers and James D. McKinley.

A native of Waynesville, Mr. Hyatt, son of the late Pinkney and Margaret Hyatt of Waynesville, resided in Haywood county the greater part of his life, with the exception of a few years spent in Bryson City, where he was employed by the late D. K. Collins, and in points in Nevada, where he was employed by the Southern Pacific Railway Company.

Mr. Hyatt returned to Waynesville in 1912 and has since resided in this section. He entered the firm of Hyatt and Campbell, later becoming Hyatt and Company, in which firm he remained until ill health forced his retirement this year and he sold the company to others. In the mean time, he had bought out the other partners and was the sole owner.

Mr. Hyatt also operated a sawmill for a number of years and carried on several real estate projects. He was a director and vice president of the Haywood Home Building and Loan Association for 20 years.

He was a member of the First Methodist church and had held numerous offices and been active on a number of important church committees. He was also a member of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce for many years, and at one time was a member of the school board of Hazelwood. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and held a rank quarters in Gatlinburg, Tenn. He remained in this position until his retirement in 1945.

Col. Lee had been in ill health for sometime, having spent some months in a government hospital near Chicago, after which he returned to his home in Gatlinburg. Some months ago he and Mrs. Lee went to the home of a sister in Emporia, Va., and from there was taken to Richmond to the McGuire hospital where he was a patient at his death.

Col. Lee had often visited in Waynesville and was well known in this section of the state.

He is survived by his widow, the former Miss Mildred Coman Crawford, of Waynesville; one daughter by a former marriage, Miss Mary Alice Lee of Alexander, Va.; four sisters and one brother.

in the Knights Templar. Surviving are his widow, the former Miss Pearl Shelton, one daughter, Mrs. B. R. Pilaski, one son, Howard Hyatt, both of Waynesville; three brothers, Walter Hyatt, of Ela, Frank Hyatt, of West Asheville, and Harry Hyatt, of Waynesville; one grandchild, Gail Pilaski. unit was temporarily organized and designated as Western North Carolina Associated Communities. Mr. Ray was elected temporary chairman of the group, and C. M. Douglas of Brevard is currently serving as secretary.

At the Wednesday night meeting, to which representatives from communities in Henderson, Buncombe, Transylvania and all counties to the west have been invited, the organization will be set up on a permanent basis, elect officers, choose a permanent name, and consider specific plans for regional development.

Mr. Ray will be accompanied by Ed Sims, president of the Waynesville Chamber of Commerce; Miss S. A. Jones, secretary; and William Medford, treasurer, at the Bryson City meeting. Chamber of Commerce representatives from all over W. N. C. communities and from similar groups in towns that do not have that organization are expected to attend.

Richard Turner of Elmer, N. J., was the guest during the week-end of Mrs. O. R. Martin and Pinkney Turbyfill. He was accompanied here by Melvin Durham and Jack Turner, both of Deerfield, N. J.

O. Roy Martin, of Warner-Robbin, Ga., spent the past week-end with his family here.

The True Picture
Why Milk Prices
SEEM Higher

The Government has been paying part of your Milk Bill through subsidy to Producers... Now the Consumer must pay "The Subsidy."

Back during the dark days of the war, when Germany was marching unchecked towards Paris, and the Japs were making progress in the Pacific, our government set up the Office of Price Administration (OPA) to work jointly with other government agencies to handle food production and control prices of foods.

As production and feeds costs mounted, the federal agency decided upon the plan of paying milk producers a "subsidy" from the United States Treasury, rather than increase the cost of milk to the consumer.

Efforts to keep production costs down failed, and milk distributors were faced with a shortage of milk, as the producers could not break even financially. Then it was that a slight increase was granted, raising milk prices to consumers one cent a quart in this area, as the producers were paid 40 cents per hundred pounds more for milk, in addition to the subsidy.

On June 30th, Congress failed to renew the life and powers of the Office of Price Administration (OPA) and also the payment of food subsidies, which meant that the government just stopped paying part of the consumer's milk bill. But that legislative episode did not reduce the cost of production of milk on the farm, or decrease the processing costs. Therefore there was only one thing left to do, and that was let the consumer pay what the government had been paying on the milk bill.

As of Monday, July 8th, the producers will be paid $5.55 per hundred (47.7 cents per gallon) for this plant for their milk. That is the same price paid in many sections of this state. There is no longer any "government assistance" to the consumer will have to pay the additional cost. This means the retail price will be 20 cents per quart of sweet milk, and a comparable price on all other products. This is state-wide, and not just confined to this area.

Please don't think for a moment that the price of milk has been increased—MILK PRICES REMAIN THE SAME—the difference is that the government no longer pays part of your milk bill.

The same situation applies to flour and corn. The subsidies on these commodities are also being stopped. You'll soon be paying the difference, if you haven't already started.

We have tried to make ourselves clear on this subject, and want you to know that the price of milk are not getting any more for their milk. NEITHER are we making any more profit than under the subsidy set-up. You, as a consumer, are having to pay ALL your milk bill without any help from Uncle
