Snap Shots Of The HUMAN SIDE OF LIFE

—By—
FRANCES GILBERT FRAZIER

Miss Amanda Wiggins gazed down on her uninvited guest with dark forbidding eyes that were glazed with intolerance. Not only was the visitor unbidden but he was sound asleep on her chintz-cushioned wicker rocker. This was treason for Miss Amanda cherished those flowered cushions with near idolatry.

Miss Amanda Wiggins was three score years, sparse of frame and with a coronet of white hair that made her look regal. She lived alone in her own little cottage and kept so much to herself that, at times and from a safe distance certain neighbors whispered she was "queer". Other, more kindly inclined, friends deplored the fact that she had no one to live with her, saying that companionship in

U. S. Population Is 140,386,509 On Jan. 1, 1946

WASHINGTON.—The population of the United States was 140,386,509 on Jan. 1, 1946, an increase of 6.6 per cent since the 1940 census, the bureau reported today.

It reported that the nation's birth rate, which soared in the early years of the war, has declined somewhat since 1943, but has not yet dropped to its pre-war level.

Bureau figures showed the natural increase in population, the excess of births over deaths, reached a peak of 930,000 in the last half of 1942, but declined to about 720,000 in the last half of 1943.

Five Baby Wrens Tour the Modern Way

NEW CASTLE, Va.—A family of wrens seems to have solved the baby-sitter problem.

J. H. Atkins, Craig County farmer, says two wrens built a nest in the gas tank of his truck and hatched a family of five baby wrens who travel with him all over southern Virginia without so much as making a sound when he is in public.

While the bird was away on their trips, the mother and father wren fed the young. When the father wren returned the adult birds delivered their collection of bugs and worms to the fledglings, Mr. Atkins said.

Lyre Bird
 The lyre bird of Australia can imitate not only other birds, but the barking of a dog, the buzz of a saw, the sound of an axe and the foot of a motor horn.

A PRICE TAG that stands out!

Although your cost of living has steadily increased, here is one thing—an important thing in your life—that actually costs you no more today than it did twenty years ago. It's your telephone!

This record of low cost performance, in these times of rising prices, is enough alone to stand out like a beacon in the night.

In addition the service has greatly expanded and as more telephones have been added the relative cost to the user has steadily declined. Today you can reach many more people by telephone—the better to serve your needs for business or personal use.

This record—which stands out as an achievement—is becoming more and more difficult to maintain as the costs of everything going into the furnishing of telephone service continue to rise.
