HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for July 21 is Exodus 20:3-6; Deuteronomy 4:15-19; 8:11-14, 18-20; Isaiah 40:18-26, 30-31; Mark 12:28-34; Luke 4:8, 16-27; John 4:7-24, the Memory Verse being Luke 4:8, "Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve.")

"THOU SHALT not make unto thee any graven image, nor any likeness of anything that is in the heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth." The Ten Commandments open with this positive statement. We are to worship the one God only, Father of us all. Even the sun, the moon and the stars are not to be the objects of our adoration. They are works of God, not deities to be bowed down before.

Isaiah, in his incomparably beautiful words, tells us of the reward of worship of God: "Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall: But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint."

How easy it is to forget the Lord when things are going well with us. "Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God... when thou hast eaten and art full, and hast built goodly houses, and dwelt therein: And when thy herds and thy flocks multiply, and thy silver and thy gold is multiplied, and all that thou hast is multiplied."

"And it shall be, if thou do at all forget the Lord thy God, and walk after other gods, and serve them, and worship them, I testify against you this day that ye shall surely perish."

Scribe Asks Questions
Mark tells us of one of the scribes (who usually were so antagonistic to Jesus), coming and asking Him which among all the hundreds of commandments was the most important. When Jesus answered, in short, Love of God and love of man, this scribe said, "Well, Master, Thou hast said the truth: for there is one God; and there is none other but He."

"And to love Him with all the heart, and with all the understanding and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbor as himself, is more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices."
When Jesus heard this answer He said to the scribe, "Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that durst ask Him any questions."
Have you ever tried to love a neighbor or friend or anyone with

District Superintendents Close Meeting at Junaluska on July 12

With the adoption of resolutions pledging cooperation in carrying out our plans of the Southeastern Board of Evangelism in completing Methodism's Year of Evangelism, and election of officers for the ensuing year, the District Superintendents of the Southeastern Jurisdiction closed a five-day meeting at Lake Junaluska Assembly, Friday, July 12. The meeting was declared by those in attendance the best in the history of the Superintendents' organization in attendance and program.

July 9-13 was fixed as the date of the 1947 meeting. The body requested that the general Minutes of the Annual Conferences in the future carry the post office addresses of all the ministers in the Methodist Church.

Sunday, September 8, of this year, was named as a Day of Prayer for the success of the completion of the Year of Evangelism, and October 6, this year, was voted to be observed as "Membership Sunday" or a "Second Easter." The body adopted the report of a special committee, composed of Bishop Costen J. Harrell, A. J. Walton and Embree H. Blackard, commending recently inaugurated church school literature and Bible lessons for children, youth and adults, and expressed hope that the series will become a permanent and established feature in church school literature.

Unanimously adopted, the major

The Everyday Counselor

—By—

REV. HERBERT SPAUGH, D. D.

"No one can find true happiness at the expense of the unhappiness of others," observed a friend to me the other day. How we need to learn that lesson! The world is filled with unhappiness because men have failed to understand—war, industrial strikes and domestic discord.

Many a man or woman seeks to break marriage ties, and find new happiness by leaving the other member of the family in sorrow.

Often I have written in this column of the need for husband and wife to consider seriously their marriage vows, to consider the happiness of the other, and especially the children, before they break away to try some new experiment. A man cannot expect to find happiness with another woman by leaving his wife and children in sorrow; neither can a woman find happiness in leaving her husband and children in unhappiness.

Unhappiness breeds unhappiness. The marriage ceremony emphasizes this, "I, John, take thee Mary, to be my wedded wife, to have and to hold, from this time forward, for better or for worse, for richer or for poorer, in health or in sickness, to love, honor and cherish till death shall part us, and heretofore I plight thee my troth." When John and Mary each make this covenant together, it is one not to be lightly treated.

When a man seeks the happiness of his wife, and a woman seeks the happiness of her husband, the net result is happiness for both. But when one or the other, or both, begin to seek their own happiness first, trouble commences.

This is true also of the relationship with our God. Jesus Christ definitely pointed this out, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these material things shall be added unto you."

Happiness is a by-product, and is found only in seeking the happiness of others; never at the expense of their happiness.

He who goes out into life striving to find happiness for himself alone is on a fruitless quest. That's a hard lesson for us to learn, but it must be learned.

HE WHO WOULD BE HAPPY MUST FIRST LEARN TO MAKE OTHERS HAPPY. LOVE NEVER FAILS.
