prise move to recess the Senate whate leaders were off the floor at the time. Hoey could think of only one way to bring them in a point of no quorum. Roll calls can be forced by Sena-

on the floor, but none spoke Few knew the presiding oflicer could force one. HOEY DID. He ordered the roll called, Majority Leader Barkley returned just in time to block the recess. Hoey's zest for getting things lone shows best in his committee Ever since Bilbo left hastily work for Mississippi, Hoey has been acting chairman of the Senate District Committee. In a few weeks he has almost cleared a cluttered calendar, given District bills a shove they haven't had since the chairmanship of Arthur Clapper.

GENTLEMAN'S GENTLEMAN Word spread out that Mississippi's Theodore (The Man) Bilbo had sped back from his primary campaign to kill the bill, and intended to talk all night. Before Bilbo could get the floor. Wisconsin's Bub LaFollette asked unanimous conent to end debate While Bilbo still gaped, Hoey racked the amendment through In looks and background. Hoey s a Southern gentleman from foc to crown. His flowing white mane caues over the back of ai collar. He wouldn't feel dress id without a red rose or carnation in his buttonhole. In 30 years he sasult gone without a boutonmere He whams the Senators off their tect in such a friendly fashion that. they still refuse to believe that he i smoothie with his gavel. When by tise to appeal from quickie rulings. Hoey's innocent charm always disarms them.

MUNICIPAL PRIORITY-It was floey who took the Senate initiative n extending District rent controls through 1947. Sometimes he turns down a hurry call to preside in the Senate, to go back to work on District matters.

Leaders wanted Hoey to wield the gavel during the Senate OPA debate. He declined. He had an important District meeting. While Senators talked on endlessly about OPA. Hoey managed committee approval of the District's child-care center bill. Newsmen have delved into Hoey's background for a clue to his speed with the gavel. The were surprised to find he hadn't much experience with Robert's rules. As a young man, in his early 20's, he served in the N. C Legislature. In 1919 he finished an unexpired term in the national Save for four years as Governor (1937-41), his adult life has been spent in the practice of law
