

Producers Expect Shorter Meat Supply In September

Ceiling subsidy
Turn meat
Grain
Not controlled.

TOSCANINI RETURNS TO U.S.

FAMED CONDUCTOR Arturo Toscanini, wearing dark glasses as protection against photographers' flash bulbs, passes through Customs on his arrival at New York from Geneva by plane. He is accompanied by an unidentified friend. While in Paris, Toscanini refused to conduct, as a protest against the manner in which the peace conference was being conducted by the United Nations in Luxembourg Palace. (International)

Park Lecture Is Enjoyed Here By Overflow Crowd

Attracting an overflow crowd estimated at 600 persons, the lecture and colored pictures of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park presented Friday night at the Court House proved highly entertaining to all who attended. Arthur Stupka, naturalist and speaker who presented the program this year as he has for several summers in the past, showed a wide variety of picturesque views in the park which he has collected during the past 12 years. His wide travels in the park area off the paved roads the usual visitor follows, were evident from his talk and wide variety of scenic pictures. The Chamber of Commerce sponsor of the program, reports that several members of the audience enjoyed the lecture so well they urged that Mr. Stupka be brought here twice during the next summer season.

Buys Historic Site

CONDUCTOR of the New York Philharmonic Symphony, Arturo Toscanini relinquishes the keys to his 250-acre estate near Stockbridge, Mass., to its new owner, Mrs. Inez Brooks, Miss Nancy Kilham, Mrs. Ova Ferguson, Miss Mary Katherine Hamilton, Vance O. Ayers, Miss Coralee Moseley, and Mrs. Muse Ayers.

Livestock Show

—(Continued from page 1)—
W. C. Ross, H. F. Wright and Mrs. Hilda Way Gwyn.
Superintendent Hereford cattle Roy S. Haynes, Jack Rogers, Dwight Williams, Aberdeen-Angus cattle Roy A. Robinson, Robert Dippes and N. W. Garrett, stothorn cattle, Enos Boyd, George F. Platt and Prof. Mann, dual purpose cattle Joe Michael, John A. Platt and Sam L. Quisen, feeder calves George Stacey, R. A. Welch and L. M. Leatherwood.
Dairy cattle, any breed: G. C. Palmer, J. L. Edwards and Glenn J. Frank Mann, and Miss Florence O'Horne, swine W. L. Bradshaw, Howard Swine and Billy Maimons; horses and mules: L. H. Brantlett, J. H. James and W. F. Swift, sheep Herrell Higgs, M. B. Rogers and L. M. Sherrill.
Dairy: Judson Finner, F. R. Kennedy and J. L. Higgs, 4-H and FFA baby hoes: Fred Francis, Donald McCracken and David McCracken, 4-F and FFA Junior Dairy show: H. R. Caldwell, Zene Wells and Charles Ray Holder, turkeys: Lawrence Leatherwood, home Mrs. division Mrs. Paul Robinson, Mrs. Edwain Glavin and Mrs. L. J. Cannon.

Methodist Circles To Meet Tuesday, Sept. 3rd

Circles of the Methodist church will meet Tuesday, Sept. 3, as follows: No. 1 with Mrs. J. E. Love at 3:30 p. m.; No. 2 with Mrs. J. Hyatt at 3:30 p. m.; No. 3 with Mrs. J. M. Mack at 3:30 p. m.; No. 4 with Mrs. Claude Rogers at 7:30 p. m.; No. 5 with Miss Joe Cane and Mrs. Kathleen Burns at the Ladies Parlor of the church at 7:30 p. m.

Highway No. 276

—(Continued From Page One)—
and also with the relation to the Pisgah National Forest and the Blue Ridge Parkway.
"We strongly urge completion of this road as part of the present highway program."

James Street

—(Continued from page one)—
papers. He and his family are reported to have moved 19 times, but have now found a permanent spot just to their liking in Chapel Hill.
Among the author's best known books all of which may be found in the Haywood County Library are: "In My Father's House" (1941), "My Promised Land" (1940), "My Valour and Arms" (1944), "Tap Roots" (1942), "The Gauntlet" (1945), perhaps the best known. He is also the author of numerous short stories and articles.

IS IN ITS INFANCY

SALT LAKE CITY: "Roek a Dry Baby"
With this as their slogan, two Navy veterans and brother-in-laws, Paul Howells and Lorin Moench, are doing a thriving business in diaper laundering.
"The partners say they went into business for themselves because "we just didn't want to take orders anymore from anyone else."

Mrs. Eugene H. Creighton leaves Friday for her home in Washington, D. C., after spending the past two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Messer of Hazelwood.

Slow Fire
It is generally known that walls filled with insulation, regardless of the kind, will burn more slowly than walls having a dead air space.

Labor Day

—(Continued from Page One)—
At this point the Negroes swing into their special song services which attracted record-breaking numbers from widely scattered areas.
The Champion Old Timers' softball game was played under the trees on Champion park here Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. This attraction drew hundreds of spectators. The Old Timers' game was preceded by the annual Boy Scout-sponsored Pet show under the supervision of Marvin Alexander and Harry Matthews.

Lake Building

—(Continued From Page One)—
T. Clark represented the Building Committee; Dr. W. E. Quillian of Atlanta, and C. C. Norton of Spartanburg, S. C., members of the Board of Trustees present, each removed a spadeful of earth, and Dr. Love, representing the Assembly administration laid the rock in the excavation made.

Schools Open

—(Continued from page one)—
anan, home economics, W. E. Pursley, agriculture, and Oswen Corwin, in charge of the shop.
Teaching in the Junior high will be Miss Bessie Boyd, Miss Grace Leatherwood, Miss Margaret Perry, Mrs. Inez Brooks, Miss Nancy Kilham, Mrs. Ova Ferguson, Miss Mary Katherine Hamilton, Vance O. Ayers, Miss Coralee Moseley, and Mrs. Muse Ayers.

Market Report

—(Continued from page 1)—
the market steady, but Red Delicious 2.75-3.50; Yorks and Wolf Rivers 2.50. Atlanta market steady, Cal. bu. boxes Gravenstein 3.50-4.25, bu. Ga. and N. C. U.S. No. 1, 2 1/2 inch minimum Delicious 4.00-4.50; N. C. and Ga. various varieties 2.50-3.00.

SLACK'S

fall's

Coal And Suit Showing

Dream up the charm
you like for Fall . . . then step into one of these beautiful creations and, lo!
You'll see a dream come true.

See them NOW in all their glory at SLACK'S.

Beautiful black wool broadcloth, with velvet collar. In stock as shown.

$69.50

Gray stripes of wool flannel, that will put you out front for fall.

$49.50

Among The Famous Brands
At SLACK'S

- Redfern
- Devine
- Youthmore
- Maurice
- Holly Park Suit
- Nardis of Dallas
- Classic Garment Coat
- Junior Deb

Richly fur-trimmed coat, in black and gray . . . Smartly tailored in every detail.

$139

(Plus excise tax)

The Rev. D. O. McInnis, pastor of the Canton First Presbyterian church, will be the guest speaker and the Union Religious services at Champion Y.M.C.A. here Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock. All adult Sunday school classes of the town or county are urged to attend this special religious event. The Rev. Mr. McInnis also will be the featured speaker at the annual Sabbath twilight union service to be amplified from Colonial theater here Sunday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

A special band concert by members of the Canton school 40-piece band will be given on the Champion park Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The musicians will play under the direction of Robert Matthews. The band also will furnish speciality numbers for the beauty contest feature Saturday evening. Band Director Robert Matthews also is chairman of the beauty contest feature.

Members of a special union choir will furnish music for the Sabbath services Sunday evening at the theater. The choir, composed of various church members throughout this area, will sing under the direction of Miss Mae Marshbanks and Gerald G. Hill. The choir also will give a special song feature about mid-afternoon Sunday.

The mammoth celebration will swing into definite action with a grand parade Monday morning at 10 o'clock. All entries are requested to be ready to start not later than 9:45. Guy V. Roberts is chairman of this colorful department of the day's celebration. Between 10 and 15 elaborately decorated floats are scheduled to feature the parade along with hundreds of other features.

From 11 o'clock Monday until the colorful square dances begin on Champion park Labor day night at 8 o'clock, varied contests will be continuously under way on Champion park. These features will include quartet, trio, duet, solo singing, string music, choirs and choruses from many sections of Western North Carolina. Musicians from at least two adjoining states have indicated they will appear on the afternoon program.

Persons desiring to enter any of the contests during Labor day morning or afternoon are requested to either contact Coach Poindexter and some member of the Champion Y.M.C.A. staff as quickly as possible. The contests will include many stunt acts. From 3:30 until 4 o'clock the program will be carried over Radio Station WWNC in Asheville, it has been announced by General Chairman Poindexter.

Following an introduction by Bishop Peele, Rear Admiral Thomas, who is a member of the Mississippi Conference of the Methodist church, made the dedicatory address, basing his remarks on the Scripture story of the Bones of Elisha (2 Kings 13:21) Admiral Thomas said in part:

"We have assembled to perform one of the most sacred acts known to man, to erect a grateful tribute to the creative force of great living and heroic dying. This chapel will be a reminder of those who came back and a memorial to those who did not return. They are not forgotten. It will stand as a symbol of the idealism of the young men who went to war for their country. They did not want war, yet when the day of oppression and tyranny engulfed their world they put on the uniform of war. In the response of brotherhood they took seriously the words of the Man Peace, who said: 'I come not to bring peace but a sword.'"

"Their ideals were not expressed in the vanishing glamor of beautiful phrases and peaceful scenes but in dirt and mud and loneliness.

"This chapel will also be a symbol of the creative force of the unselfish action of those who, counting not their own happiness, forgot differences of race, color and creed for their country's cause. A lesson in unity of purpose we cannot forget. Remembering their sacrificial devotion, never again can we quibble over minor differences.

"This chapel will also stand as a symbol for those who died and the creative force of their dying. Some of them will have their names carved in stone; some will receive the highest awards; others will not be written among the great, they will be heroes without laurels, conquerors without triumph." But "Greater love hath no man than that which a man lay down his life for his friends." Though we number them among the dead they will live in the creative force of a great love, to lead, inspire, and to reveal to us the elements of human character that defy circumstances, conditions, and even death itself. Our only worthy tribute to them is to live for the rights for which they died. Without this, monuments erected to them will be mockeries to their names.

"It is fitting that we should build a chapel of Peace in their memory. When we search for the light by which to find them, there is no other place to go but to the church. Under the lights of its altar, the table of nourishment and the place of communion with all that is holy and eternal, and in the sanctuary of the house of prayer, under the rays of the sun streaming through windows of grace and beauty, there may we open the windows of our souls and there will we find the Light of the World."

Assigned to teach in the Lake Junaluska school are: G. C. Cooper, Mrs. Edna Terrell, Mrs. Flora Ballinger, Mrs. Frieda F. Haynes, and Mrs. Edna Morrow Burress.

Lyda Hall will teach in the Dellwood school, and in Saunook will be Mrs. Maggie Chambers and Mrs. Jack Allison.

Dr. John Shackford, who joined Mrs. Shackford for a visit here at Brannercrest, has returned to their home in Newport News, Va. Dr. Shackford is pastor of the Chestnut Street Methodist church of that city.

Miss Martha McCracken, who was called home on account of the illness and death of her father, W. L. McCracken, has returned to Sylvania, Ga., where she holds a position.

women of our church in a beautiful house of worship on these grounds."

A WINNING COMBINATION

What makes a winner? In filling prescriptions, as in anything else, it's a combination of things. Our Pharmacist knows that the fine, fresh drug he uses . . . plus the personal care he takes in following your doctor's orders . . . is a "winning combination". Another good reason why you can depend on our store for accurately-filled prescriptions.

Depend on US For ACCURATE Prescriptions

Curtis Drug Store

Walgreen Agency Drug Store