

China To Send Ten GI's To College In U. S.

NEW YORK—Ten American veterans who served in China during the war will enter United States universities next month to study at the expense of the Government of China, the China Institute in America has announced.

Courses to be chosen by the veterans will cover a wide range, but all of them will be devoted to one common end—deeper understanding and relations between the peoples of the United States and China.

Each of the young men will carry out a project of his own directed toward the improvement of American-Chinese cooperation. During the first year, each will remain in the United States at the university of his choice. Satisfactory students will have an opportunity to return to China for two additional years of study, so that they may develop a real understanding of the country.

The Institute said that the scholarships are offered as a small token of gratitude to the armed forces of the United States for their role in the struggle against the Japanese.

A committee representing the Institute, and the Sino-American Institute, has been receiving applications for the scholarships at 125 East 64th Street, New York. They said the applications have been coming in from all over the country.

COINCIDENTAL

Paul and Martin Dvorchak brothers, married Frances and Julia Npaver, sisters, on the same day ten years ago and set up house-keeping in Uniontown, Pa.

On August 7, 1937, each of the Mrs. Dvorchaks gave birth to a baby. A baby was born to each of them again last August 17.

Meat Price Charts Back, OPA Renews Slaughter Controls On All Meats

Ceiling prices posters, based on the new meat prices which went into effect Tuesday Sept. 10, have been made to practically all meat retailers in North Carolina, and should be prominently displayed on or near each dealer's meat counter, OPA District Director Theodore S. Johnson said Wednesday.

Johnson also announced that slaughter controls over both federally inspected and non-federally inspected plants have been re-established by OPA "to assure an equitable distribution of available meat." Formerly, control of federally inspected plants had been under the Department of Agriculture, but will now be administered by OPA's Washington office, Johnson said.

Slaughter quotas for the current period, which began September

1, for all registered livestock slaughterers were listed by Johnson as follows:
Cattle—90 per cent of the 1944 quota basis; calves—90 per cent; hogs—70 per cent.

These quotas, the OPA director said, are based on an analysis of expected livestock supplies and are subject to periodic revision as supplies increase or drop off.

"These reinstated controls will prove a big step in holding down any attempt at black market slaughtering," Johnson said. "The order requires all slaughterers to mark meat with their license number or inspection stamp. That way, any meat illegally sold can be traced back to the person or plant that killed it.

Farmers who kill for their own use, the OPA official pointed out, are not covered by the "stamping" regulation.

"These slaughter controls will neither increase nor decrease the total amount of meat, but will merely make sure that legitimate slaughterers will get their share of available meat at ceiling prices—and no operator will be able to slaughter a disproportionate amount of livestock. It will make for better balanced operations all around and a more even distribution of our meat supplies all over the country," Johnson said.

New Construction At Peak In August

WASHINGTON—New construction reached a monthly high in August of $1,039,000,000, an increase of about 6 per cent over the July volume, the Commerce Department said.

Privately financed construction of all types accounted for about 80 per cent of the total August dollar volume.

The department said that privately financed residential construction exclusive of farm buildings, trailers and conversions, was valued in August at $355,000,000, an increase of 6 1/2 per cent over the July volume and 466 per cent over August, 1945.

Other August, 1945 figures included:

Privately financed non-residential construction, $335,000,000; public utilities, $78,000,000 and publicly financed construction $211,000,000.

Firemen received a call from a New York Inn and arrived to find the juke box aflame.

Patrons said the machine had been beating out a steady stream of hot jazz when it suddenly began smoking.

500 Members Of Alcoholics Anonymous To Meet

More than 500 members of Alcoholics Anonymous are expected to register at the George Vanderbilt and Langren Hotels in Asheville Monday, Sept. 16, for the three-day second annual convention of the organization's Southeast region.

The national organization of Alcoholics Anonymous was started in 1935 by three men who were interested in seeing what could be accomplished if alcoholics got together in a group. Now there are over 34,000 members. It was pointed out that since no names are ever mentioned, there is no opportunity for any individual to gain at the expense of others.

The program will begin Sept. 16 at 3 p. m. with a general open session for planning, expected to last until 4:30 o'clock. Business sessions will be held only in the morning and afternoon hours will be left open to provide time for extensive tours around the city and other entertainment for the delegates.

The only session open to the public will be a program of speeches winding up the convention at city auditorium Wednesday night.

Hazelwood PTA To Meet Monday

The Hazelwood Parent Teacher Association will meet Monday night at the school auditorium with Mrs. Grady Farmer, president, presiding.

The program for the first meeting of the year will be in charge of Lawrence Leatherwood, principal of the school, and Mrs. Sam Knight.

U. S.-Germany Trade Awaits Stable Mark

FRANKFORT, Germany—Gen. Joseph T. McNarney held out no hope for American business to resume trade with German firms "until the mark has an international exchange value."

"The commander of United States Forces in Europe said this could come before the peace with Germany was signed, "but we would have to have a quadripartite agreement." Russia and France have declined to participate in an economic merger of German zones of occupation.

You can't have one world of peace and a half dozen worlds in matters of trade.
