Mother And Daughter Honor Bride By Party

Miss Carolyn Curtis, bride-elect, whose marriage to Porter R. Frady is scheduled to take place sometime in October, was the honor guest of a bride party on Thursday evening. Hostesses of the affair were Mrs. O. R. Martin and her daughter, Mrs. William Fowler, of Charlotte.

The rooms were decorated in white and yellow flowers with the bridal motif noted in the party appointments and in the bride's table during the serving hour.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Zeb Curtis for the top score and to Miss Elizabeth Ferguson for the low score. Miss Curtis was presented a piece of her silver by Mrs. Martin and a piece of her chosen pattern of china by Mrs. Fowler. Those invited to play bridge were Miss Curtis and her mother, Mrs. Zeb Curtis, Miss Charlene Rotha, Miss Elizabeth Ferguson, Miss Betty Jean Alley, Miss Dorothy Richeson, Miss Catherine Jones, Mrs. Hugh Palmer, of Raleigh and Waynesville, Mrs. Wayne Corpening, Mrs. Katherine Smith, Miss Betty Burgin, and coming in at the close of the contract progressions were Mrs. Henry Fay, Mrs. J. C. Crouser and Mrs. Paul Townsend.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE S. COBLE VISIT RELATIVES HERE

Mr. and Mrs. George S. Coble of Charlotte, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. John T. Coble of Waynesville.

For the past 27 years Mr. Coble has been with the Charlotte Observer, foreman of the composing room. He formerly worked for the Waynesville Courier before going to Charlotte.

Dr. and Mrs. G. C. Campbell and daughter, Joy Lane, of Macon, Ga., have returned to their home after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Platt, Route 2.

Dr. and Mrs. Campbell are pleasantly remembered as having taught here in the Haywood Institute at Clyde some time ago.
