Waynesville-Canton Grid Set For Tonight

The gridiron rivalry between the two teams dates back to 1922. Haywood county will bring the game to the Canton high school. The Bears to face the Mountaineers in the town of Waynesville. The game will be played on the local field, kick-off slated for 7:30 p.m.
Weatherby's Mountaineer is in good shape to break its record this season, but comments are limited that he "expects our team to always win."
From Canton, Coach C. C. Poindecker says he "hopes you don't treat us too rough..." but admits the Black Bears are coming here with full intentions of winning the game.
Both teams have been aggressive, winning combinations. Waynesville rolled over their traditional sectional rivals, Murphy, Sylva and Brevard scoring touchdowns with the greatest of ease. And last week they fought from behind to win 7-6 over the strong Elizabethville team.

1,500 Are Eligible In Haywood For Quota Vote

Future Of Burley Tobacco Crop To Be Guided By Growers Choice

Approximately 1,500 persons in Haywood county are eligible to vote in the referendum on marketing quotas on Burley tobacco to be held Friday, October 25, according to R. C. Francis, chairman of the County Agricultural Conservation committee. The referendum was called in accordance with the law, which authorizes marketing quotas on Burley tobacco for the 1947 crop. However, marketing quotas cannot be in effect unless approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum.
Marketing quotas furnish growers with a method of adjusting supply to demand and can help to provide fair prices to growers for the tobacco they produce.
"Any person who has an interest in the 1946 crop of Burley tobacco as an owner, tenant, or sharecropper is entitled to vote in the referendum," Mr. Francis said. "However, no person is entitled to more than one vote even though he may be engaged in production of Burley tobacco in two or more communities, counties, or states."
Mr. Francis explained that, if marketing quotas are approved, individual acreage allotments will be continued in 1947. Allotments for individual farms for 1947 will not be less than 80 per cent of the 1946 allotment for any farm which has grown up to 75 per cent of its allotted acreage in any one of the past three years. He added that the law provides that 1946 allotments of nine-tenths acre or less cannot be reduced for 1947.
Burley tobacco from the 1946 crop will be marketed through the...

State Approves County Hospital To Share Fund

The Haywood County hospital was one of 20 hospitals in North Carolina added last week to those approved by the state medical care commission to share the state's contribution of $1 a day towards the hospitalization of indigent patients.
A list issued several weeks ago of institutions eligible for this contribution did not include several eligible hospitals because their charters failed to state that they were non-profit institutions. Since then a number of hospitals have had their charters changed to conform with the commission's requirement in this respect.
"My opinion is contrary to the judgment of some of the administration leaders, but I honestly believe that it is the best policy to pursue for the interest of all the people of this country," continued Mr. Redden.
"I have reached this decision without regard to those who might feel otherwise," he added.
Mr. Redden made a brief visit to The Mountaineer office while en route to Bryson City, where he made the initial speech at the opening of the Democratic campaign in Swain county Thursday night.

Kept From Show By Rain? -Get Full Coverage Here

Since thousands of people could not get to the Livestock and Home Arts Show because of the heavy rains, The Mountaineer has made a special effort to report in detail every phase of the show in this issue.
The staff of The Mountaineer have tried to give you the story in words and pictures.
Our photographer, Mr. Ingram, was put on the job, and made scores of exclusive pictures for The Mountaineer. Many of them appear in today's issue, and others will follow in later editions, since there was not enough time to get the film developed and plates made.
A complete prize list of every division of the show is being carried today. Also being carried are the list of buyers of the Hereford cattle at the sale, as well as those consigning each animal. The price paid is also given. All these facts gathered after many hours of painstaking effort.

Heard On Tuesday

LIEUT. GOV. L. Y. BALLENTINE is shown here as he addressed an audience at the high school here Tuesday night. He called for more pay for teachers, better roads, improved health facilities and specialized training of high school graduates. This is a Mountaineer photograph by Ingram, Skyland Studio.

Redden Says OPA Should Be Ended In January

"I think that the OPA should be abolished as soon as Congress convenes in January and that meat control should be lifted right now," said Monroe Redden, Democratic nominee for Congress, Thursday afternoon to a representative of The Mountaineer.
"My opinion is contrary to the judgment of some of the administration leaders, but I honestly believe that it is the best policy to pursue for the interest of all the people of this country," continued Mr. Redden.
"I have reached this decision without regard to those who might feel otherwise," he added.

Ballentine Urges More Balanced Economy

Lieutenant Governor Addresses Tuesday Night Audience At High School

A state-wide program of training high school graduates for specialized work in agriculture and industry, and a larger advertising program to promote travel in North Carolina, was called for by Lieutenant Governor L. Y. Ballentine here Tuesday night, as he addressed an audience at the high school auditorium. His address was in connection with the Third Annual Livestock and Home Arts Show.
"With our many natural resources, our fine citizenship, we can build even a better and greater state than we now have," the speaker said.
Before Governor Ballentine spoke, a band concert by the Canton high school band was presented under the direction of their Mr. Matthews.
The speaker was presented by Charles Ray, and on the platform was Glenn C. Palmer, veteran legislator who has worked with Governor Ballentine on many state projects.
"Haywood is recognized as one of the leading, if not the leading county in the state," the speaker said as he began his address. Again at the conclusion he reminded his audience, "Haywood is at the top."

C. E. Brown On State Democratic Advisory Group

Clifford E. Brown, chairman of the Democratic executive committee, has been re-appointed as a member of the State Democratic advisory committee by William B. Umstead, state chairman.
Mr. Brown has served on the state committee for several years, and is one of three in the western part of the state to be named on the committee.

C. T. Francis Says Exhibits Much Better Than In '41

Officials Look To Better Show In Future; Rain Lowered Attendance

"We are so pleased with the exhibits of this Livestock and Home Arts Show, that definite plans are already underway for the fourth annual show next fall," C. T. Francis, president of the Haywood exhibition told The Mountaineer yesterday. The third annual show came to a close about five o'clock Wednesday.
"While the weather cut down attendance, our exhibits, and the quality of them, was far ahead of anything we have ever had. The quality of our stock is a decided better grade than when we held the last show in 1941," Mr. Francis stated.
Under threatening skies, more than 500 attended the sale of 56 head of Herefords Wednesday afternoon. Buying was brisk, with the sale averaged $332 per head, with the cows bringing an average of $330 and the bulls $346. All the Hereford sale, several head of baby beef were sold from 100 to 40 cents under a special O.P. permit. The Hereford sale totaled more than $18,000.
Shortly after the huge crowd had feasted on barbecue Monday night, the rain started, and continued for more than 24 hours. Tuesday parade and all of the door events were curtailed, but other phases of the program were carried out in detail.
The event was sponsored by the Waynesville Chamber of Commerce, Haywood County, and business firms and civic groups. Journalist (Continued on Page Two)

Tobacco Grading Demonstrations Planned Today

A stripping and grading demonstration of Burley tobacco will be given twice in Haywood today, according to Wayne Corpening, county agent.
This morning at 10 o'clock, Roy Strivers, extension tobacco specialist, will give a demonstration on the J. Mandon Medford farm in Iron Duff.
This afternoon at 2 o'clock, another demonstration will be held on the farm of C. R. Limer, on the Howell Mill Road.
"It is important that growers give more attention to the grading and handling of their tobacco," Mr. Corpening explained. "Tobacco buyers are paying more attention to this than ever before," he continued.
