He was taken from jail and beheaded as a prize for Salome, stepdaughter of Herod the Tetrarch, to please her mother who had been rebuked by John for her wrong-living.

State Income Hits Record High In Sept.

RALEIGH—The spiriting prices of inflation carried North Carolina revenues upward to new highs during September, the State Department of Revenue reported.

From all its tax sources, the state gleaned a total of $10,231,283 in September, an increase of $2,673,243 over the $7,558,040 collected in the same month last year, and collections for the first three months of the fiscal year soared to $30,189,019, a gain of $7,996,360 over the first three months of last year.

The state's automobile drivers were responsible for the biggest increase recorded last month. Collections by the highway fund totaled $3,989,103, an increase of 54.36 per cent over the $2,584,155 taken in during September last year. The gasoline tax accounted for $3,634,404 of the highway fund's total collections. Highway fund receipts for the fiscal year mounted to $10,859,647, a gain of $3,255,289 over the same period last year.

Inflated prices, however, had their most telling effect on the sales tax which took in $2,853,647 in September, an increase of nearly $1,000,000 over the $1,899,153 produced by the levy in September of 1945. So far this fiscal year, the sales tax has brought the state a total of $8,006,700 compared with $5,492,046 in the first three months of last year.

These record collections from the sales tax, with increased receipts from the income and the beverage tax levies, resulted in collection during September by the general fund of a total of $6,292,180, an increase of $1,268,295 over September of last year. During the first three months of the fiscal year the general fund had collected $19,329,372, an increase of $3,841,071 over the $15,488,301 collected in the same period last year.

Income tax collections in September totaled $1,253,588 compared with $1,105,993 in September, 1945, and beverage tax receipts climbed from $551,939 to $657,829.

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Acts 8:1-3, 9:1-19, 22:4-16, 26:9-18; I Corinthians 15:8-10; Galatians 1:11-16.

By Alfred J. Buescher

Paul, a Pharisee, stood by consenting while Stephen was stoned to death; and later he had Christians dragged from their homes and sent to prison.

Paul, "breathing out threatenings and slaughter," started for Damascus, but a great light shone and a voice said, "Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou Me?"

In Damascus the Lord came to Ananias, a devout Christian, and told him to go to the street called Straight where he would find Paul who had become blind.

Ananias went to Paul and, putting his hands on him, straightway Paul recovered his sight and was baptized. MEMORY VERSE—Psalm 122:1.

Paul Makes a New Start

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
 (The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Oct. 13 is Acts 8:1-3, 9:1-19; 22:4-16; 26:9-18; I Corinthians 15:8-10, Galatians 1:11-16, Memory Verse being Psalm 122:1. "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of Jehovah.")

WE STUDY today the conversion of Saul, Pharisee and persecutor of Christians, to Paul, the apostle, assigned by divine command to "carry the message to the Gentiles."

When Stephen, the first Christian martyr, was stoned to death in Jerusalem, Saul, as he was then called, stood by, consenting to his death. "And devout men carried Stephen to his burial, and made great lamentation over him."

After the death of Stephen there began the first persecution of the followers of Christ. Paul was active in this persecution, "making havoc of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison."

Then Saul, "breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest."

He asked for letters to the rulers of the synagogues in Damascus, so that if he found any of these "heretics" there he would bring them bound to Jerusalem.

Saul and his company started to Damascus, but when they were nearing the city, "about noon," there shone a great light about them, causing Saul to fall from his horse. Out of the light a voice said, "Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou Me?" Trembling and astonished, Saul asked, "Who art Thou, Lord?" and the voice answered, "I am Jesus whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks."

Men Speechless
 The men who were with him were speechless with amazement, as they saw the light but did not hear what was said. Saul asked what the Lord would have him do, and he was told to go into the city, "and it shall be told thee what thou must do."

When Saul rose to his feet he could not see, and he remained blind for three days and nights after his men had led him into the city, and he neither ate nor drank.

Now in Damascus lived a man named Ananias who was a devout man, and to him the Lord came.

in a vision and told him to go to the street called Straight and ask at the house of Judas for Saul of Tarsus who had had a vision of a man named Ananias who would come to him and restore his sight. Ananias said that he had heard of this man, Saul, and how he had persecuted Christians, but the Lord said, "Go thy way; for he is a chosen vessel unto Me, to bear My name before the Gentiles and Kings, and the children of Israel."

Obediently Ananias hastened to the street called Straight—which is still in Damascus—and found Paul. To him Ananias said, "Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be fulfilled with the Holy Ghost."

Thereupon, Ananias laid his hands on Paul, and straightway his sight was restored, and he arose and was baptized. Then he ate and was strengthened, and stayed some days with the brethren in Damascus.

Paul told of these wonderful incidents when he was talking to the mob in Jerusalem who were intent on killing him, and also when he was brought before Agrippa at Caesarea.

Paul Regrets Past Life

All his life Paul mourned about his actions before he saw the light and heard the voice of Jesus speaking to him. Writing to the Corinthians, in I Corinthians 15:9, he said, "For I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God."

"But by the grace of God I am what I am; and His grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain; but I labored more abundantly than they all; yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me."

And again in Galatians: "But I certify to you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached of me is not after man.

"For I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the revelation of Jesus Christ."

Then he reminds them that he has told them how he persecuted the followers of Jesus when he was prominent in the Jewish temple councils, and refers to the revelation of Christ which he received and which changed his whole outlook and manner of life.

In this dramatic manner, Saul's life was altered, and he became "the most successful promoter of Christianity," instead of the cruel persecutor of its followers.

HATS ON A CAMPUS?

"Miss Jones," said the proprietor of Ye College Hat Shoppe to one of his assistants, "I guess the girls are looking forward to the arrival of the new professor next week. Does anyone know what he looks like?"

"Yes," replied the girl, "I've seen his picture. He's tall and good-looking and about twenty-eight. And I understand he's not married."

"Splendid!" said the proprietor. "Then we'll put all the new hats in the front window right away."

Buried Standing Up

In Hyde county, North Carolina, a man tired of lying on his invalid's bed directed that he be buried standing up.

Minerals and vitamins are conserved by cooking quickly in just as small an amount of water as possible.

Water in which meat or vegetables are cooked should be saved and used in soups or sauces.

Thrifty gardeners who have space for storage, grow enough vegetables not only to eat and to can, but to lay away for winter use. They will have timed their plantings so that the storable vegetables will be mature at the proper time—not too early and not too late.

Baptism Services Attended By 200 Near Hazelwood

Nearly 200 were present to witness the baptism of the first candidates from the tent effort that was held this summer in Hazelwood by Evangelist L. P. Knecht. The baptismal service was conducted in Allen's Creek about one block from the highway 19 and 23. Nearly 25 more have signed their covenant for baptism which is planned to be held in the near future.

The Tabernacle that is being erected in Hazelwood to hold services is in nearing completion and is expected to be used for services Saturday, October 12th.

It is also planned to conduct another revival to be held in the Tabernacle in the near future.

WHERE'S THE TIP?

Down in the small southern town where he lives, people are so fond of Uncle Mose that the elderly Negro has become a trifle spoiled. One day he presented a check for $19.42 at the local bank. He took the money from the teller, counted it, then recounted it. He didn't seem to be satisfied.

"What's the matter, Uncle Mose?" asked the teller. "Isn't it right?"

"Yes," was the grudging reply, "but it just barely is."

The Everyday Counselor

—by— REV. HERBERT SPAUGH, D. D.

There is no cure for nervousness, like true happiness, and nothing better for the restoration of the home than a good dose of religion. Repeatedly, husbands and wives write me in a highly nervous state concerning home unhappiness. More than two years ago a wife wrote me in great distress concerning her personal condition and her nervously ill unhappy home life. We placed her name on our prayer list, and urged her to give the Lord full place in her life, seeking His strength and guidance. This she did, and the results should bring encouragement to many others who are in similar situations. I quote from the letter:

"You may remember how I called on you from the dark shadows of my life more than two years ago, how you pointed me to seek health and strength from my Lord and Saviour. It wasn't easy to fight through this my third nervous breakdown, but He gave me strength."

"Then one day we moved close to a small church, and I asked my husband as a special favor to take me to one of its services. It was only a small prayer meeting, but that night he was gloriously converted, and I found new strength. I immediately began to improve in health. My doctor was delighted and when I told him what had happened, he said that joy and happiness brought back my health. 'And what a joy it was!' After 12 years of unhappiness, to have close companionship now of a Christian husband and father! Unmistakenly in the membership of this little church, and dedicated our lives to our Lord and His work. My husband threw himself into the work of the church, took a little class of from four to eight children, and built it up to seventeen."

"Now our church is growing, and we are growing. What a new joy and happiness we are finding in our home life, and in the work of our church."

I looked up the file on this case and found a long history of nervousness and frustration. Then the power of God came into this home, and now this letter speaks for itself. There is little that I can add, except to say, that nothing will restore physical and spiritual health like God in the amazing bringing of that peace, passed, and under the power of God's word in the heart of one of His born cases in my life. It can do the same in homes which have been broken, and give God the

Household Suggestions

By RUTH CURRENT
N. S. State College

After selecting the foods which are the best sources of essential nutrients, they must be cared for properly so that their food value will be conserved. Prepare them for the table by the methods which not only will conserve their nutrients, but which at the same time will give the most attractive and palatable product.

Losses in food value may be kept at a minimum by observing the following rules:

Foods high in protein, such as meats, eggs, and cheese, should be cooked at a low temperature. Foods high in fat should never be cooked at temperatures high enough to cause the fat to smoke. Loss in vitamins is very rapid after the fruit or vegetables have been peeled, and so these foods should be peeled just before eating or cooking.
 Both vitamins and minerals are lost if fruits and vegetables are allowed to stand in water after peeling.
 It is wise to cook vegetables or fruit in the skins often.
