the congregation, and enjoyed a pleasant evening last Saturday getting acquainted. The pastor wishes to use this means of thanking the people for their gifts and the spirit of fellowship which they represent.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

(Plan No. 106, Randolph Evans, architect, 140 Nassau St., N. Y. C. 7)

AP Newsfeatures

Adapting the charm of American Georgian architecture to the modern small house. A large living room, 14x24, extends through the center of the house, segregating the sleeping quarters to achieve two-story privacy in a one-floor layout. Space is provided for a future third chamber in the attic where a dormer window opens on a railed sun deck. Exterior contrasts are attained with a combination of flush and clapboard siding and a roof of blue-black asphalt shingles. Randolph Evans, architect, estimates the cost between $8,000 and $10,000, exclusive of land and depending on local building costs and materials used.

Show Food Picture In Brighter Light

Some Restrictions May Be Softened Later.

WASHINGTON — There is a possibility that restriction on use of grains for food, livestock feed and industrial uses may be eased if wheat and corn harvests were at record levels now forecast, according to an agriculture department announcement.

The department said final decision would be governed in part by the world food situation. The government has earmarked 250,000,000 bushels of this year's 1,180,000,000 bushels wheat crop for export. This country exported about 386,000,000 bushels from last year's crop.

The department said that in general the situation for the remainder of 1946 would be much the same as in 1945 after V-J Day, when most foods were taken off rationing. There may be somewhat less of some foods, including chicken and sweet potatoes, but more potatoes, fresh fruits and vegetables.

The department said meat supplies for civilians would be larger than a year ago until late fall. Livestock held back in late May and June now is being marketed. By October, however, lower production of beef and lamb than in 1945 and larger exports to shortage areas abroad may bring civilian supplies below the near record consumption of last winter.

Fish and eggs are expected to be plentiful the rest of the year. About as many turkeys will be marketed as in the 1945 holiday season.

The department said there was little prospect of a significant improvement in supplies of fats—such as butter, margarine, lard, shortening—in the next few months.

Supplies of milk in all forms will be seasonably smaller in the remaining months of 1946, the department said.

HEARING IS POSTPONED

COLUMBIA, S. C. — (AP) — A State supreme court hearing in the Greenville Sunday baseball and motion picture case, pending since last summer, was postponed Monday until January because of the illness of attorneys.

Alaska Calls For Food Relief From U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Delegate E. L. Bartlett, of Alaska, announced recently he had appealed to the White House to order relief ships to carry food to his territory. He said the situation "is getting desperate" because of the west coast shipping strike. An appeal also came from Territorial Governor Ernest Gruening, who said in Juneau he had asked President Truman to authorize the use of Army and Navy ships to carry relief supplies. Mr. Bartlett's statement said the maritime strike had prevented ships from departing for the territory with the usual summer and fall food shipments.

ASK LIQUOR REFERENDUM

HENDERSON—The North Carolina Methodist conference, adopting a report of its board of temperance, called on the General Assembly to authorize a state-wide referendum on the liquor issue. This action was taken at the annual meeting, which ended Sunday.

GOOD RIDDANCE

GEORGETOWN, S. C. — (AP) — The Camlin Motor company wasn't grieving too much over its safe being stolen. The safe, a new one, was empty. And the company couldn't use it anyway. The wrong combination came with the safe and nobody could open it.

Needs Shirts, Judge Lowers Bail

PHILADELPHIA — The shirt shortage finally reached a federal courtroom—and the defendant got a break.

Magistrate John C. Morlock was presiding in the absence of a United States commissioner when Mook Yong Fong, 35, a laundryman, was arraigned on a charge of possessing opium. Assistant United States Attorney Thomas J. Curtin recommended that Mook be held in $2,000 bail for the federal grand jury. Morlock looked at the defendant.

"Say," he said, "this man's my laundryman—my shirts are in his place now. . . . I wonder how I can get them out?"

Mook's attorney said his client couldn't raise $2,000—"and if you hold him in that bail you won't get your shirts."

"Can he raise $1,000?" the magistrate asked.

"Yes, I think he can."

"Okay—$1,000," Morlock said. "I need those shirts."

Japanese Laugh Over Showing of 'The Mikado'

TOKYO. — Japanese spectators laughed heartily at the first performance in Japan of "The Mikado," the comic opera in which Gilbert and Sullivan poked sly fun at the Japanese of the Meiji era.

The musical satire, first produced in London in 1885, was never presented in a more lavish manner than it was in Tokyo.

For the first time in history, "The Mikado" had an authentic ballet of Japanese girls and they performed as though they had been doing Gilbert and Sullivan all of their lives. The chorus also was partly Japanese.

Vessel Stricken With Disease Gets Antitoxin

BOSTON.—Call for antitoxin from the troopship Colby Victory, aboard which an outbreak of diphtheria was reported, was answered by the SS Brazil.

After the Brazil had reported that she had put the medical supplies aboard the ship, the coast guard halted efforts to fly antitoxin to the Colby Victory.

One soldier died of diphtheria several hundred miles off Argentina, Newfoundland.

The Colby Victory was carrying 1,009 troops from New York to Bremerhaven, Germany.
