Examiner

on the rules of the road, a vision test, and a test of practical driving in the applicant's automobile. "The road driving test is the main thing, and where more fail than anywhere else," reports Mr. Kimrey. Failures are caused by not following the rules of safe driving, and just poor driving ability, he adds.

"On the whole, women drivers are as good as men." The examiner spends three days each week in Waynesville, from 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. on Mondays, Tuesdays and Saturdays, with an office on the second floor of the courthouse. He is at Canton on Wednesdays and Thursdays, over the police station, and at the courthouse in Sylva on Fridays. So far he has issued about 30 licenses here and the same number in Canton.

Although it takes about 30 minutes to complete an examination, Mr. Kimrey advises that an applicant for a license allow about an hour and a half, since there will be others applying at the same time.

And if there is anything wrong with your car, have it fixed before starting the examination.

BOSTON (AP)—Fourteen-year-old Mrs. Shirley Mitchell of Chelsea gave birth yesterday to a daughter. Her husband, Miller, also is only 14.

Officials of Chelsea Memorial hospital said the girl was one of the youngest mothers in the institution's history. The Mitchells have been married more than a year.

Dr. Barnett H. Rosenfield of Chelsea, who delivered the six-pound, 10-ounce girl, said mother and daughter were doing well.

When the proud father arrives for his first look at the addition to the family, he just will be able to meet the maternity ward's age requirements. Visitors must be at least 14.

Old Rifles

11 Suttons and nine Messers arranged "fouls" of a friendly nature by pooling their marksmen and seeing which family would have the best day. Afterwards they gathered in groups and were shot by cameras, there being almost as many picture makers on hand as contestants.

Car. Goerch, editor of The State Magazine, was on hand for story material and pictures, as were representatives of news services and nearby newspapers.

The four judges, R. L. Prevost, Sr., of Hazelwood, Rep. Glenn C. Palmer of Clyde, Sheriff R. V. Welch and C. M. Moody, examined each target as the entrant completed his three shots, piling them at their feet on the speakers and musicians platform in front of the ranehouse Jonathan Woody, local banker directed the activities through a public address system.

Cars and trucks began arriving during the morning and the contests began about noon, lasting until 5 o'clock in the afternoon when a square dance was held to end the day's activities. The crowd sat or stood in a semi-circle behind the firing line, taking time out occasionally for a dish of ice cream or other light refreshments.

Even the weather was cooperative in making a success of the first old-time rifle match at Cataloochee Ranch since 1942. A warm sun beamed down all day, and the wind was light.

Several of the weapons were slow to fire, while others cracked off at the first pull on the trigger.

They now are cleaned and laid back in closets or over mantle pieces until next summer, having added to the legends since their bear and Indian hunting days of yore.

102-Year-Old Man Walks 18 Miles To Jail

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Ninety-five years ago, William Clark went to sea.

And 24 hours ago he went for a walk—an 18 mile one.

That started some frantic questioning by officials at St. Luke's hospice, where Clarke lives.

He was finally found today in the jail at near-by Media.

Clark explained that he took the walk to see an old friend, a ship's carpenter. But he didn't find him and he got pretty tired—so the Media police chief gave him a bed in the jail.

Father Francis, head of the hospice, called for him and took him home after the sleep.
