Winners in the declamation contest, sponsored by the organization of three schools of the county, will present their winning addresses.

The program will also include a review of "God's Children" by Mrs. W. A. Hyatt.

Beach Togs

Suit of black and white jersey.

By VERA WINSTON

BEACH WEAR is either voluminous or decidedly skimpy although not quite as scant as the Bikinis that dotted the sands along the Riviera last summer. This suit is made of black and white striped jersey. It has a strapless bra and the underpants are draped to tiny buttons at the side. The overskirt is of white sharkskin and is zipped at one side, with both sides slit.

Measured in dollars, the value of which fluctuated, the consumption expenditures of Americans nearly trebled from 1909 to 1941.

Mrs. Medford Is Honored On 75th Birthday

Mrs. J. S. Medford was honored on the occasion of her 75th birthday anniversary when a surprise dinner was given at her home in Jones Cove on February 29, by Mrs. Dave Medford and Mrs. Lester Houston.

A birthday cake with lighted candles featured the dinner and Mrs. Medford was the recipient of many gifts and expressions of congratulation.

Among those present were Mr. Medford husband of the honor guest and their children as follows: Mrs. Samuel Wilson and family of Hillcrest Motor Court, Dave Medford and family, of Floriston, Calif., and W. H. Medford of Waynesville. Other relatives attending were Mrs. Edgar Miller and Mrs. Ida Mullis, sisters of the guest of honor, and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Stamey and children, Mrs. Helen Medford and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Houston and children, all of Clyde; Mr. and Mrs. Verlyn Turner, of Elizabeth City; and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Page and children, of Waynesville.

Dear Judy

A new craze in the sub-deb set here is television. Heps who have television machines are inviting the gang in to see them.

The boys are keen on the sports events which are going on a lot of the time. Football, baseball, basketball, hockey and boxing — in season — keep the set humming. The girls have fun watching fashion shows, ice shows and getting beauty makeup advice.

You can get ski lessons on television, and the funniest sight you could ever experience is to walk into a living room full of kids on skis, all practicing their ski positions. The kids line up and follow the instructor through a ski lesson just as if they were out on a ski slope. This is lots of fun, except when they want to try something like a kick-turn. Then somebody must be delegated to watch the lamps before they go crashing to the floor.

It's strange to see ex-bobby soxers sitting around on the the party winds up without even a prep out of the record player — Bing and Frankie are on the shelf!

A good way to keep the small fry occupied during these sessions is to promise them time to see a puppet show or a story telling hour, which are usually telecast on Saturday afternoon.

Beth Fulton of Roanoke, Va., wants to know how you wear your hair in back when you wear wigtails. She doesn't know whether to leave hers long or cut it short.

To Beth, then, and all the other kids who are making wigtails, let's say "please don't cut your hair to wear these wool tails — or for any other reason." A simple long bob is the prettiest hairdo for a teenager. To wear the wigtails with long hair, just part your hair down the center — from forehead to nape of the neck. Then put the hair up on each side in a sort of a bun. If the hair is very long, braid it in pigtails or wind it Danish-pastry fashion over your ears.

Lots of the kids wear their hair the usual way, than to just sort of cover their heads with the wigtails, hat fashion.
