Lake Junaluska

Dr. Cyrus Daniel, director of music at Vanderbilt university, will be in charge of music. Announces Dr. Love. Dr. Daniel is a distinguished composer, organist and director.

Several special concerts will be arranged, and Dr. Daniel will direct music at the conference general sessions. Plans are to organize a choral group, of which the basic element will be a quartet of trained soloists. The director also will be prepared to give private lessons.

There will be a recreation staff of about 15 persons, with Bert Ishee of High Point in charge.

Lake Junaluska will have a vesper feature each evening at sundown, when a music concert will sound from the carillon bells to be installed at the auditorium. This is being provided by the Schulmerich Music company of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Through the efforts of the superintendent, the cottage owners on the assembly grounds are undertaking to provide more entertainment space for conference delegates and other visitors. Dr. Love states that he would welcome the people of Waynesville offering to help in this line.

Conferences scheduled and their directors, are as follows: June 7-12, Student Regional conference, Dr. Harvey C. Brown; June 14-22, Caravan Training, Dr. Hoover Buppert; July 6-11, Sacred Music, Dr. Homer Rodeheaver; July 12-18, Bible conference, July 19-30, Young People's Leadership, Miss Virginia Henry; July 20-28, School of Missions, Mrs. W. H. Ratliff and Mrs. D. R. Little; July 28-Aug. 3, Missionary conference, Dr. W. F. Quillian; Aug. 3-8, Pastors' conference, Dr. Quillian; Aug. 9-13, District Superintendents, Dr. Shuler Peele; Aug. 2-13, Leadership school, Dr. J. Fisher Simpson; Aug. 15-18, Laymen's conference, Dr. J. Caldwell Guilds, and Aug. 15-22, Evangelistic conference, Dr. King Vinton.

Some of the speakers who will appear on the platform are: Dr. W. A. Smart, Emory university; Dr. J. J. Rives, Lynchburg, Va.; Dr. G. Ray Jordan, Emory university; Dr. Roy Short, editor of the Upper Room; Dr. W. A. Stanbury, Gastonia; Dr. J. Wallace Hamilton

'Keep Quiet' Is Found Key To Starlet's Success

By PATRICIA CLARY United Press Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Movie starlets are begging these days for parts without a word to say.

Moviegoers are numbed by the excess of pretty girls on the screen. But a pretty girl who never opens her mouth might pop them up in their seats.

The revolutionist who started it was the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer producer, Joseph Pasternak. In the beginning, he had to talk fast to get the glamor girls into it. Now he has to talk even faster or he'd be back to silent pictures.

Pasternak sold the idea to sultry Linda Christian when she played in "Holiday in Mexico." Her part had everything but the dialogue.

"And the result?" Pasternak said proudly. "Every critic in the country mentioned 'the girl who didn't talk' and thousands of letters poured in asking about her. What better way for an unknown to get attention?"

"I was disappointed at first," Miss Christian said, "when I discovered I had a part and nothing to say. But Mr. Pasternak said a woman who kept her mouth shut would be such a novelty she would be sure to be noticed. He was right."

Under Red Attack

RUSSIAN army and navy newspapers have accused Sweden's military commander-in-chief, Lt. Gen. Helge Jung (above) of attempting to plan the "use of Swedish armed forces as an appendage of the American military machine." They declared his foreign policy "subjected Sweden to the expansionist ambitions of the United States in northern Europe." The news article insisted that Sweden is planning to build air bases for U. S. planes. (International)

Timely Farm Question

Question: How are eggs graded by weight?

Answer: "Extra large" means at least 27 ounces; "large" means a minimum of 24 ounces or a range of 24 to 27 ounces. "Medium" means a minimum of 21 ounces or a range of 21 to 24 ounces and "small" is a minimum of 18 ounces.

Question: How should my electric wall fan for ventilating the kitchen be cleaned?

Answer: Such fans for ventilating the kitchen need regular cleaning to prevent a heavy accumulation of grease and dirt on the blades and outside opening which will eventually impair their efficiency, according to home economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. These fans carry off steam and cooking odors and, also, greases and carbon. As these greases come in contact with the cool surface of the fan they solidify and form a film which catches dirt. The simplest way to remove this film is to disconnect the electric current and then wipe the fan and walls around it with a cloth moistened with kerosene.

Question: How can plastic materials be stitched to avoid cutting through or tearing the fabric?

Answer: Place tissue paper under the fabric and then stitch.

Dear Judy

The Camp Fire Girls announce that their birthday anniversary project for this year is "Hello World. Let's Get Together."

The aim is to get acquainted with people. Here are some ways to do it, they suggest:

- (1) A friendship group can get in touch with young people in other countries through church, school, local relief organizations, foreign-born neighbors. (2) Send a party kit to new friends — include party ideas, games, songs, recipes for typical party refreshments. (3) Take part in a local drive for overseas relief. (4) As a group see foreign language motion pictures, read and discuss books and articles. (5) Help to organize the housing of a timely film on the United Nations. (6) Investigate the opportunities for future summer voluntary work abroad such as with the American Friends' (Quakers) work camps or with the American Youth Hostel work tours. (7) Make use of the language you are learning in school. Meet a person who speaks the language, find a Pen Pal who writes it, listen to records and read newspapers in the language.

Making a hit with the kids are latex treated balloons which can be inflated, twisted and molded into animal shapes. You can build an elephant, giraffe, reindeer, dachshund and many other animals with a couple of balloons. It makes for fun for a group to sit around and see what they can design. Then, of course, they can take the balloon animals home to surprise baby sister or brother.

Lots of kids who look at models' photographs in newspapers and magazines sigh and wonder if they could be that lucky. Well, sometimes they get a break. Take Barbara Goode and Pat Barner of Normandy High School, St. Louis, for instance. Recently these two students modeled some clothes for press and designers at the St. Louis Fashion Preview of Spring. Pat and Barbara were very impressed — especially with the "new look." It's so feminine — with padded hips and cinched waist lines, the girls predict, it is here to stay.

A 19-year-old bookkeeper, Arlyne Rogers of New York, was chosen by a magazine (Motion Picture) as America's champion movie fan. Arlyne, who had wanted to be an actress, settled for watching movies twice a week in her neighborhood movie house. But there is some consolation in being such a persistent movie fan, she found, because she won a contest primarily on her ability to judge a feature film by the same standards professional critics use. Now she will get a trip to Hollywood as the grand prize!

All Waxed Down . . . Harry James' "Beyond the Sea," a ballad telling a tale of love and the sea, of French origin . . . Molly O'Day and the Cumberland Mountain Folks "I Don't Care If Tomorrow Never Comes," a mournful ballad, tells the tale of a love whose future looks dark . . . Ella Logan's "Something I Dreamed Last Night," Gene Autry's "Play Fair," . . . Dinah Shore's "Crying for Joy."

Officers in Shelby are seeking the parents of a healthy six-to-eight-month-old baby boy who was left on a doorstep, along with two bottles of milk and several diapers for him. The child was abandoned on the porch of the home of Mrs. C. S. McMurry.

By coincidence, Mrs. McMurry is the oldest living woman who was once a child at the Mills Home orphanage at Thomasville.

BEAR FACTS

WE DON'T believe that story about somebody trying to raise a grizzly bear as a pet. Grizzlies make poor playmates—because they always play for keeps.

In fact, the grizzly's scientific name is "horribilis," which should give you an idea.

He's certainly no teddy bear to give Junior as a being-good or birthday present.

A grizzly is a bruiser that is born with an incurable grouch and the teeth and claws to back it up. His fur is a mixture of brown, black and gray—but he's always seeing red.

The grizzly grows to nine feet in length. Half that would be far too much.

He weighs no more than a race horse but he can do a lot more damage than a runaway two-ton truck.

Unlike most bears, the grizzly hibernates very little. Instead of sleeping, it appears, he'd rather prow around being a real-life nightmare to other animals.
