Presbyterians To Start Work On A Half Million Fund

Expansion of King College at Bristol Is The Plan Of Churchmen

Dr. N. F. Lancaster, Waynesville, and Rev. C. Graer Davis, First Presbyterian Church, Asheville, will head the forthcoming King College Fund Campaign in the Asheville Presbytery. This was announced today by the Rev. James L. Fowle, Chattanooga, general chairman of the $500,000 drive within the Synod of Appalachia for the Bristol, Tenn., institution.

A luncheon meeting on Wednesday in the First Presbyterian Church, Asheville, for Chairmen appointed by the campaign committee in the four zones of the Presbytery, will signalize the active beginning of plans for a campaign among 6,000 communicants in the region.

The zone chairmen, following the Wednesday meeting, will appoint church chairmen to head committees in each of the thirty-two congregations of the Presbytery, it was said.

Of the $500,000 fund, the sum of $200,000 is being earmarked for the construction and equipment of a new science building, with $300,000 allocated for completion of the program for an improved and enlarged department of business administration, and for additional endowment.

Truman administration." This was the only direct mention of President Truman in the entire draft. The members decided to drop the word "Truman" and substitute in its stead, "Democratic," but only after Mr. Byers had urged that the original be kept. Mr. Byers made an impassioned plea that the president's name be retained, as he said in part:

"We need not be afraid of the Truman name. It would be an act of cowardice not to include the name of the Democratic president in our resolution. Although we have militant Republicans in my district, I can't conceive of it going Republican."

The majority of the members of the committee voted, however, to strike out the president's name. Mr. Byers is now a member of the committees on platform and resolutions.

O. L. Yates, of Waynesville, and Mrs. Jack West of Clyde were named as members of the state executive committee.

Those from Haywood on the district congressional executive committee are: John Queen and Wayne McCracken.

Those on the judicial committee include R. E. Sentelle and Larry Cagle.

The solicitorial committee included: J. Richard Queen and Ken E. Browning.

R. D. Coleman is a member of the 31st state senatorial district committee. Among those mentioned from the W. G. Byers, Jr., Leatherwood, J. Yates, Joe Brown, Noland, E. V. W. L. L. Scott, R. L. Justice, W. S. Brown, H. W. M. Queen, L. Gwyn and C.

Foresters End Stay At L. Logan

Foresters and woodsmen from all over the Southeast attended the thirteenth annual wood party at Lake Logan lodge over the weekend. The affair was sponsored by the Canton division of the Champion Paper and Fibre company and took place about 12 miles south of Canton.

Guests, many of whom represent paper manufacturing firms and wood agencies, spent most of their time trout and bass fishing on the lake. A varied sports program was observed.

Manager of Champion's woods department, J. Hershel Keener, was in charge of the event.

The United States had about 1,400 schools of nursing not affiliated in 1940.
