Outdoor Exercise For That Summertime Glamor

By BETTY CLARKE

Whip out your bicycle, tennis racket, golf sticks and swim suit, and exercise for beauty and health. You don't have to be an expert at any sport to enjoy it. The real purpose of engaging in it, besides your competitive spirit or love of the sport, should be to treat your muscles to a toning and your lungs to a good deep breathing tonic.

One of the most beneficial exercises for women is swimming. Perhaps you can't swim the English Channel or wear a bathing suit as can Esther Williams. Maybe your best and only "stroke" is the dog paddle. But don't be discouraged. Whether you put on the puppy water act or do the breast stroke, Australian crawl or back stroke swimming in any fashion will give play to a great number of muscles. It will help develop lungs, slim down hips and stomach, strengthen back and shoulders. It will add grace to the walk.

Golf will help slim the waistline through twisting and bending. Fencing is wonderful for the beautiful type of a girl who wants to develop the calves of her legs. Horseback riding is good for back muscles and carriage. Tennis not only develops the forearm but also strengthens the entire body. Bicycling is particularly good for the legs and will slenderize hips if you are persistent about it.

If you work in a sitting job so much more important will it be for you to exercise. Besides outdoor sports you will need to do some bending and stretching. During the day you should take a few seconds away from your job to change your position, stretch, and to some deep breathing.

One movie star has a good method to help develop deep breathing. She inhales as much air as she can then slowly exhales it with a whistle. She finds this controlled breathing develops chest expansion, permitting deeper breathing. The exhaling, she says, can be timed to show progress, and if the whistle is steady your control is good.

When on your vacation or week ends at the beach walk barefoot whenever possible. It will help to strengthen the arches and is particularly beneficial to the girl who usually wears spike heels.

Walking is an invigorating sport. There is nothing quite like a brisk walk which can bring roses to your cheeks and help keep your body slim. This is one exercise which can be done whenever the spirit moves you.
