The closest Mrs. Dewey gets to politics is to sit next to her husband at Republican banquets. . . . She was in the chorus of George White's Scandals during the 20's and made a nationwide theater tour. . . . At 45 she is still goodlooking with her brown coiffure streaked with silver. . . . The governor's lady was born Frances Hutt in Sherman, Texas. . . . She was raised in Sapulpa, Okla. . . . Her father was a railroad conductor. . . . Her mother comes from a long line of Methodist and Baptist ministers. . . . Dewey met her in Chicago in 1923 where she was a secretary and studying music. . . . Married in 1928, they have two sons, 13 and 16. . . . Newsmen say she is hard to interview.

Mrs. Jean Marie Faircloth MacArthur, after 11 years of marriage to the famous general, never has been interviewed. . . . She is a daughter of a Murfreesboro, Tenn., banker-business man. . . . On a trip to the Orient in the 1930's Miss Faircloth met Mrs. Arthur MacArthur, the general's mother, who introduced her to the general. . . . She was born in Nashville, went to Soule College and the Ward-Belmont school. . . . Her most notable friend is Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh. . . . She became the second wife of Gen. MacArthur in the Municipal Building of New York City in 1937. . . . She remained with her husband during the siege of Corregidor and went with him to Australia in a speedboat and plane.

Mrs. Stassen was a childhood friend of her husband. . . . Before their marriage in 1929 she was a law secretary. . . . She helped Stassen open his first law office. . . . Her maiden name was Esther Glewe. . . . her parents were natives of Alsace-Lorraine. . . . She rarely makes campaign trips. . . . Her stand is a brick house on a bluff overlooking the Mississippi River. . . . The Stassens have two children, Glenn, 12, and Kathleen, 6. . . . Mrs. Stassen belongs to the League of Women Voters and is on the board of St. Paul's Children's Hospital Association. . . . After the San Francisco conference she made speeches about the United Nations to St. Paul civic groups. . . . She says her husband asks her advice "but doesn't always take it."

Mrs. Taft talks more about her husband than has the wife of any other candidate in history. . . . She is trained in politics, has strong opinions, a sense of humor and an unimpaired platform personality. . . . As Martha Wheaton Bowers of Winona, Minn., she went to a fashionable girls' school in Connecticut and the Sorbonne in Paris. . . . Martha met Bob Taft at a school. . . . (Continued on page two)

Before her marriage to Arthur Vandenberg, Hazel Whitaker was an advertising woman in Detroit. . . . She had been on the staff of the Chicago Tribune, a social worker and had taught school in Saginaw, Mich. . . . She is the senator's second wife and stepmother of his three children. . . . They married when Vandenberg was a newspaper publisher in . . . (Continued on page two)

Mrs. Warren was brought to the U. S. from Sweden when she was eight months old. . . . Her father was a Baptist minister. . . . She was a widow with a little boy, Jimmy, when she married Warren in 1925 while he was district attorney. . . . Her name had been Mrs. Nina Palmquist Meyers. . . . "We had five children in six years," she once said. "You don't do much entertaining then—except . . . (Continued on page two)

Mrs. Wallace officiated at the White House when her husband was vice president. . . . Ilo Browne Wallace occasionally would pinch hit for Mrs. Roosevelt. . . . She was once chosen the "best dressed woman in public life." . . . She is, however, primarily a homebody. . . . Mrs. Wallace is a native of Indianola, Iowa. . . . The Wallaces' romance began when Ilo was studying voice at Drake University and . . . (Continued on page two)

Seems It Takes More Than A Court Order

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—Judge John Snell, Jr., listened to a couple air their domestic troubles for a half hour, then ordered the husband to kiss his wife in the courtroom and make up. The husband was willing but not the wife. "I don't want to," she said, walking from the courtroom. She was followed by her hus-

Free Skin Bank Started For Grafting Purposes

ALBUQUERQUE, N. Mex. (UP)—Albuquerque has a "skin bank." . . . University of New Mexico students offered skin for a grafting operation when an 11-year-old girl was badly burned. The skin was not needed in that case, but it led to setting up a "bank" for future emergencies. . . . The skin bank consists of the names of persons willing to donate skin for graftings. . . . In feed value for livestock, 100 pounds of potatoes equals 100 pounds of corn silage, 22 pounds of shelled corn or 35 pounds of alfalfa hay.
