GOP Nominates Dewey

Choice Of GOP

GOV. THOMAS E. DEWEY was nominated the Republican candidate for president last night on the third ballot. Gov. Dewey polled a safe lead over his nearest competitor, Robert Taft.

Governor Of New York Nominated

BULLETIN
CONVENTION HALL, Philadelphia—Governor Thomas E. Dewey was nominated by the National Republican Convention Thursday night on the third ballot of the convention as the party's presidential nominee.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was well on his way to the presidential nomination last night at 7:30 o'clock when the Republican National convention went back into action after a three-hour recess.

Before the recess was called at 4:56 P. M. yesterday, Dewey had rolled up a spanking lead over the other candidates. On the second ballot yesterday afternoon he polled 515 ballots—just a hair-breadth 33 short of the necessary 548 ballots.

Dewey seemed to be pulling ahead steadily. He gained 81 votes on the second ballot. The first ballot around noon yesterday gave him 434 votes.

Dewey's nearest competitor was Robert Taft of Ohio, who gathered a surprising 274 on the second ballot. Taft picked up 50 votes over the first ballot.

Trailing the leaders were Harold E. Stassen with 149 on the second ballot and Arthur Vandenberg with 62. Stassen lost 8 votes after the first ballot, while Vandenberg stayed flat.

The North Carolina Delegation leaned very strongly for Dewey on the first ballot. They gave the New Yorker 16 votes. Two North Carolina votes went to Stassen, three to Martin and five to Taft.

The Illinois delegation pulled a surprise plan when it switched 52 of its 56 votes from favorite son Dwight Green to Robert Taft.

Cataloochee Rifle Event To Be Bigger Than Ever

Things were shaping up for the biggest shooting match ever on the Cataloochee Ranch next Wednesday.

Tom Alexander, who is in charge of the event on top of Eye Top Mountain, said that an even larger entry list is expected than the 93 marksmen who were present last summer. The shooting line will be bolstered this time by four experts from the National Muzzle Loading Rifle Association in Ohio. "Boss" Johnson, president of the club, said the four will be on hand when the shooting starts here because they are advanced marksmen, the quartet will fire only the old-fashioned flint-lock rifles.

The shooting schedule has been shifted this year so that anyone can shoot when it suits him. The firing will open at 9 a. m. and the closing deadline is 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Any marksman may step to the line and fire his regular three shots when he is ready, then leave if he wishes.

The targets will be white pieces of paper tacked against a charred board, with a diamond shaped hole cut in the center to serve as a bulls-eye. Each man's target will be sent to the judges after he has fired. The average distance of the three bullets from the center of the target will be computed. (Continued on Page Eight)

There will be many types of machinery on display at the farm to give farmers an idea of mechanized agriculture as applied to small farms.

The county agents office has lined up a large group of committee members to handle the various demonstration events. The men will give a demonstration of fence stripping, of barn spraying, and (Continued on Page Eight)

Election Returns Should Be Called To Number 185

The Mountaineer and radio station WHCC will again combine their services Saturday night to bring Haywood county the returns from the Johnson-Scott election.

With only two men on the ballot it is estimated that the average precinct can count its votes in 30 minutes. The polls will close at 6:30, and returns are expected to be rolling in by 7:30. The final election result should be broadcast over WHCC around 10 p. m.

The Mountaineer staff will gather the county election returns, while the Associated Press will report the state-wide results.

Jerry Rogers, chairman of the county board of elections, wants it made clear that all precinct returns are to be telephoned in to the county auditor's office in the court house. The number is 118. The results will be sent from here to the radio station for immediate broadcast.
