Fancy Meeting You Here Appropriate Greeting

GREEN BAY WIS. (UP)—Two Green Bay women met only twice in the last two years, but each time it was in a maternity ward.

Two years ago Mrs. Edward Donovan and Mrs. Norman Chadour, strangers, were assigned the same room in a maternity ward. They gave birth to sons only a few minutes apart.

Recently, the women met again for the first time since the birth of their boys. Again they were assigned the same room, and they followed the script perfectly.

They each had a second son, born within 30 minutes of each other.

Following the business session Mrs. Barber entertained with a buffet luncheon. The table was covered with a lace and cutwork cloth and centered with a bowl of yellow gladioli and blue delphiniums. Mrs. Silversteen presided at the tea service and assisting in serving were Mrs. W. A. Hyatt, Mrs. Ben Sloan, Mrs. J. W. Killian, Mrs. Ben Colkitt, Mrs. R. N. Barber, Jr., and Miss Mamie Clayton.

Haywood Sponsor

MISS JACKIE SUE MESSER has been selected by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to represent Haywood County as sponsor at the Rhododendron Festival to be held in Asheville on July 10.

Miss Messer will be one of 18 young ladies from the 18 western counties to be presented at the Rhododendron Court immediately following the coronation of the King and Queen of Rhododendron in the City Auditorium. She will also be a guest at a reception and dinner to be given in honor of the king and queen preceding the coronation.

Other events planned for the sponsors include a tea to be given at Biltmore Forest Country Club by the wives of the brigade officers. Each sponsor will be escorted by two marshals.

Miss Messer, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Messer, graduated from the Waynesville High School in the class of 1947 and last year attended Agnes Scott College in Atlanta.

The largest number involved was

Nobody Knows Horses So They Have To Go

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP)—The days of work horses at the Monroe County penitentiary farm are numbered.

The penitentiary superintendent, Thomas Owen, says the farm's six two-horse teams are on their way out because it's a rare inmate these days who knows how to handle a horse.

In past years, Owen says, inmates assigned to the farm handled the horses competently. But times change and Owen thinks he'll have to mechanize the farm.

Mrs. James L. White and daughter, Mrs. Oliver Waites, of Hillsboro, Ga., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Thomas, Jr., this week.

The growing season this year has been much more favorable for feed grains than last year.
