A Famous Musician

The presence of Dr. Homer Rodeheaver at Lake Junaluska this week brings to this area one of the better known evangelistic musicians of our time. Dr Rodeheaver has been heard and admired by thousands throughout America. He is often mentioned as the man with the trombone who worked with "Billy" Sunday

Sunday, conducting a sacred musical joulof Junaluska this summer

Can The Surplus

Wednesday morning marked the opening at the community cannery here, which has Slow Checking corved hundreds of housewives during the just few years. The cannery, which is one or three in the county, offers professional wrvices, and modern equipment to the tensewife who wants to make use of these.d at a nominal cost.

In the past few years, there have been handreds of bushels of perishable fruits and berries, in addition to vegetables and in ats that have been canned for later use.

Most Americans are wasteful people. Most of us give little thought to preservation and set ing. We have grown to be the most extravagant people on earth-

The facilities of the community canneries are there for the use of the public, and the public should take every opportunity to use the m.

They'll Do It Every Time What Will Cherry Do?

The Raleigh News and Observer editorially urges that Governor Cherry, and his designated successor, W. Kerr Scott confer immediately on a special session of the legslature.

This question of a special session of the North Carolina law makers has been argued for some months, as there are many who feel there are certain adjustments as to salaries and expenditures on buildings that should be corrected, and not wait until the next regular session meets in January of 1949.

Mr. Cnerry has not been inclined to be too much interested in the special session, while on the other hand Mr. Scott declared strongly for a special session during his campargn. The Raleigh paper feels Mr. Scott should now back his pledges with a strong recommendation to Governor Cherry.

In discussing the matter further. The News and Observer says:

"Governor Cherry has not yet made up his mind, but is understood to be fearful that a special session would not be devoted to emergency matters but would embark upon ceneral legislation. That is a matter which should be settled without great difficulty. Governor Cherry and Mr. Scott should agree among themselves as to what constitutes an emergency and should then consult legislative leaders.

"The next General Assembly and the next Governor have already been chosen. Matters of general legislation should be left to them. But there should be a special session to deal with unfinished business. There is no question but that if the General Assembly of 1947 had been able to foretell accurately the Lillian Burgin, imexpected increases in revenues and the unexpected increases in living and building costs, that more adequate appropriations Dr. Rodeheaver is at the Lake, through would have been made in 1947. Those appropriations should not be delayed for anference. This is just one of the many coord other six months. And there is no reason programs being offered by the management why this unfinished business should not be transacted under an informal agreement not to take up new business, unless it is of an emergency nature."

The State Motor Vehicle Commission is getting somewhat a little uneasy with owners of some 628,528 motor vehicles in this state for the slow marine, in which they are having their vehicles inspected.

During the first six months of this year. there have been 231,243 vehicles inspected. Just slightly more than a third in the first six months.

What the commission is fearful, is that many motorists will wait until the last minute and then crowd the inspection lanes beyond their capacity towards the end of the year.

The traffic inspection lane is back here for the present, so it might be a good idea for lany great actual increase in crime. Haywood motorists to get that checked Housebreaking, grand larceny, rob- part of the price we must pay for son brought us coffee in Betsy's sticker and be on the safe side. Does liking to wear black mean you are gloomy?

Answer: Only if you are a person in whose mind black is associated with gloom and mourning. While no explanation fits all cases, my guess would be that the average woman's addiction to black suits and dresses expresses the fairly universal conflict between the wish to attract attention and the feeling that she must be."modest." For while a black dress seems inuous and no one can acuse its wearer of a passion for colors, a beautiful woman or at least, hopes-that will be emphasized

WANTED MATTRESS TESTER lion? Should people who are "nervous" try to have jobs?

Answer: As a rule, yes. A job which you feel is too much for you or which carries a load of responsibility that really scares you may intensify neurotic symptoms, but in general almost anything is better for you than continual idleness and "brooding." Work alone will not cure a neurosis any more than "rest" will, but whatever distracts your attention
