THEM WHAT HAS, GETS
WALLA WALLA Wash (AP)—Seeking water for the golf course at its new Memorial park, Walla Walla sank a well a couple of thousand feet and didn't find a drop. Nearby the city dug a hole for a swimming pool and struck water, about 12 feet down. The builders had to give the concrete special treatment to keep out the seepage. There wasn't enough water in the hole to irrigate the golf course just enough to be embarrassing.

FOR OR AGAINST
BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP)—Voters in Glynn County, Ga., apparently have found the way to take personalities out of politics. When the election comes up July 22nd, citizens will get ballots with no names. Rather they will be given two choices: "For the city court judge to stay in office" or "Against the city court judge staying in office."

ALWAYS A GOOD SUBJECT
MILL HALL, Pa. (AP)—At the Mill Hall school golden anniversary commencement exercises, Mrs. Helen Flanagan Truckenmiller repeated the address she gave 50 years ago when she herself was graduated from the same school. Her talk was titled "Liberty."
