Plenty Of Fishing In Western Carolina Streams

In the eastern end of the park there is Big Creek and Cataloochee Creek (both reached by N. C. 284 from Waynesville) offer excellent trout fishing. Big Creek is perhaps the best trout stream within the park but is not so popular as some other streams as it is in a remote area with no convenient accommodations for fishermen. In the Central Carolina section of the park are the Oconaluftee River, of which at least three forks or prongs will be open this stream is reached through Cherokee on N. C. 107, and Deep Creek, which empties into the Tuckasee River at Bryson City. In the central portion of the park on the Tennessee side of the mountains are the Middle Prong of Little Pigeon River in Greenbrier Cove, some 12 miles east of Gatlinburg by county roads; the West Prong of Little Pigeon, along Highway 71; and the East Prong of Little Pigeon, along part of which is Tennessee Highway 73, from the park boundary near Townsend, Tenn., to about five miles above the village of Elkton. This is the most popular stream with fishermen and the various prongs of Oconaluftee River are a close second. The Middle Prong of Little River from its confluence with the East Prong about three miles from Townsend southward to the old logging town of Tremont (now obliterated) is also a popular stream. Behind the Fontana Lake are two trout streams that have been popular in the past, but as they must now be reached by boat, they are somewhat difficult of approach. These streams are Forney Creek and Hazel Creek.

Truman Is One Of 7 Who Inherited White House Job

AP Newsfeatures
Harry S. Truman is one of seven vice-presidents who stepped into the White House as a President's death Of the six others, four merely filled out their part terms in office. The two who went on to serve an additional term on their own were the most recent in history. The six were John Tyler, Millard Fillmore, Andrew Johnson, Chester A. Arthur, Theodore Roosevelt and Calvin Coolidge. Tyler became president in 1841, when William Henry Harrison died after having been President only a month. Tyler's tenure was marked by constant bickering with Congress, and while he was renominated by an irregular Democratic convention in May, 1844, he withdrew from the race the following August. Fillmore, who went into the White House in 1850 when Zachary Taylor died, was turned down for the nomination by the Whigs in 1852. Four years later the Know-Nothing Party named him and the Whig Party endorsed him. He carried only one state, Maryland. Andrew Johnson was perhaps least fortunate of all. He became chief executive when Lincoln was assassinated in 1865, and resulting feuds with Congress led to House impeachment proceedings against him. He was acquitted, but in 1868 his party d-osed him renomination. Arthur succeeded the assassinated James A. Garfield in 1881 and historians now credit him with having done an able job. But when he tried for the Republican nomination in 1884 he was passed over for James G. Blaine. Theodore Roosevelt did better. He served three and a half years after President McKinley was shot in 1901, and then was renominated and re-elected for four years on his own in 1908. In 1912, he tried for the Republican nomination, and when he failed he started his own Bull Moose party and ran for the office. He was unsuccessful, however. Coolidge served out Warren G. Harding's term when the latter died in 1923, was renominated and re-elected in 1924, and was considered a possibility for nomination again in 1928 when he issued his "I do not choose to run" statement. Truman served as vice-president less than three months when Franklin D. Roosevelt died in his fourth presidential term in April, 1945.

Hollywood Does Have Happily Married People

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Robert Montgomery says there are plenty of people in the movie business who, like him, have been married 20 years to the same person, and he wishes you'd hear more about them.

"There is nothing remarkable about our marriage," he said. "We're still amateurs at it. Most of the couples we know have been married 20 years or longer."

Take the James Cagneys. They've been married a quarter of a century. Or the George Murphys. They've been Mr. and Mrs. for 23 years.

"After 20 years," Montgomery said, "Elizabeth and I are just getting well acquainted. We have lots more to find out about each other in the next 20 years."

People who think that Hollywood marriages last only as long as the next edition of the morning paper got a shock when the Montgomerys celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary. Since then Montgomery often has been asked his "formula" for a successful marriage.

People read only about the divorces in Hollywood. They don't hear about the long marriages. Ray Milland, for instance, has been married 17 years. So has Dan Duraya. Eddie Cantor has been married 34 years and Jack Benny 21. Harold Lloyd, still the wealthiest star in Hollywood, celebrates his 25th wedding anniversary this year.

Green Rain Falls On Alabama

MOBILE, Ala. (UP) — When green rain fell here, one boy brought a bucketful to the newspaper office, just in case anyone doubted him. After the downpour, sidewalks and streets for a four-block area bore a lime tint. The weather bureau said the green rain could have been caused by some chemical being discharged into the air from an industrial plant. However, others believed that army fliers from nearby Brookley Field had been experimenting. They theorized that some of the dye used by fliers who crash at sea to color the water and attract air rescuers had been dropped on a rain cloud.

Soap With Pants Off Frees Trapped Boy

ST. LOUIS (UP)—Police officers had a choice of two ways of releasing Harry Charleville, 10, after he had become wedged between crisscross girders of a bridge here. Their way and his. The boy told the policemen to cut the girders that were holding him but they had a less dramatic way.

First Woman Moderator To Fly For Church

NEW YORK (UP) Miss Helen Kenyon, 64, the new moderator of the general council of the Congregational Christian Churches, is undertaking airplane trips to all parts of the country this summer to make speeches.

Miss Kenyon became lay leader of 1,200,000 church members in June at Oberlin, O. The election made her the only woman in the world heading a major Protestant denomination.

She said she planned the speaking tour by air to help raise the $2,720,571 needed to fill the quota of the postwar emergency program of the Congregational Christian Churches.

MEMPHIS (UP)—You couldn't blame the baby for crying. The bus was hot and crowded. Suddenly an elderly passenger started barking. Passengers chuckled, but the baby quieted down searching for the man with the bark.

Records Show Weather Is Always Favorable Here

By BILL SHARPE
N. C. News Bureau

Going South to get cool may sound paradoxical, but millions of northerners and westerners have been doing just that for generations. It's a matter of altitude, and not latitude.

According to U. S. Weather Bureau officials, you should expect the temperature to decrease 5 degrees with each 1,000 feet rise in altitude, and western North Carolina's massive mountain ranges, which include the Blue Ridge and Smokies, have 49 peaks above 6,000, 223 above 5,000 feet. The whole comprising the climax of the Appalachian system and the greatest upthrust of land in eastern America.

Consequently, if you're having a sweltering 90 degrees in your low-land community, it will be around 75 degrees here, and if you go up one of the 6,000 foot peaks which surround this summer resort, you'll likely find the temperature down to 60 or 65.

A recent study of this town's typical August, made by the U. S. Weather Bureau from records stretching over a period of 62 years, reveals it as an ideal outdoor month. Average minimum temperature—which occur just before dawn—call for under blanket sleeping, and days warm up quickly and enough to permit all type of outdoor activity, from golf to swimming. Only two days in a typical August are likely to have very warm weather.
