

Children's Home May Join Reading Club

The Travel Reading Club sponsored by the Haywood county library, offers entertainment for children who are being kept at home as a precaution against the spread of polio.

Rules of the club this summer have been altered to take care of the circumstances and children who belong to the club while their parents may be out of town.

Reading certain books will be presented to all members who read in reading card for less than one month.

Club members who have completed their required reading are eligible for the club badge.

Children who have read the club and wish to be in the club now. The club will continue through August with special programs to be presented.

Mr and Mrs. Albert N. of Texaco City, Texas, will be on their way to the city for the week-end with friends here.
