Champion Report Is Given Award

The Champion Paper and Fibre Co. Annual Report to stockholders and Financial World's "Highest Merit Award" in this year's competition among nearly 4,000 industrial companies, it was announced recently.

Financial World has conducted a similar contest each year during the past eight years to determine the most informative and attractively presented company reports to stockholders. It is the first time this company has been accorded the distinction, and as a result the Champion report is now a candidate for the "Oscar of Industry" award to be selected by a board of judges which includes such prominent figures in industrial circles as Dr. Lewis Haney, professor of economics, New York University; Dr. Glenn Griswold, editor and

Mrs. Howard Hyatt Honors Husband With A Party

Mrs. Howard Hyatt was hostess of a party at her home in Hazelwood Thursday evening, honoring her husband on the occasion of his birthday anniversary.

The living rooms were decorated with vases of mixed garden flowers and in the dining room red roses were used in decorating.

The guests included Mr. Hyatt, Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Bushnell, Jr., publisher of Public Relations News, Elmer W. Walker, financial editor of United Press Associations, and Sylvia F. Porter, financial editor of New York Post.

The Champion report was prepared jointly by the General Public Relations and Advertising Departments.

Brother Of Local People Killed in An Automobile Wreck

David H. "Buddy" Hollingsworth, 27, of Brevard, and son of W. H. Hollingsworth of Waynesville, was fatally injured in an automobile accident Friday near Toccoa, Ga. His wife, the former Miss Lois Johnson, also of Brevard, was seriously injured and is in the Toccoa hospital.

Mr. Hollingsworth was born in Transylvania county and for many years resided with his grandmother, Mrs. D. W. Hollingsworth of Pisgah Forest. At the time of his death he lived at Hickory, where he moved a short time ago.

Funeral services were held at Pisgah Forest Baptist church Sunday afternoon with the Rev. Ralph Banning and Rev. Harvey Southern officiating. Burial was in Davidson River cemetery.

Survivors include the widow, the father and stepmother, four brothers, William, Carmel, James, and Mark, all of Waynesville, four sisters, Hazel, Edna, Bettie Sue of Waynesville, and Mrs. Ford Nalley of Esley, S. C., and the grandmother.

Heartbeat Power

If the heartbeat during a 24-hour period were exerted in one lift, it would be sufficient to throw a ton of iron 120 feet into the air. The heart usually beats about 72 times a minute.

'All for Hecuba' Opens At Summer Theatre Tonight

Maurice Geoffrey, managing-director of the "Theatre In The Sky," has announced "All For Hecuba," a new play by Elwyn Dearborn and Betty Jo Weaver, as the closing presentation of the season. The play opens Tuesday and will be repeated Wednesday and Friday at 8:30 p. m. Thursday evening the new play will be presented at the Hoey Auditorium in Cullowhee under the sponsorship of the Boy Scouts.

"All For Hecuba" was first presented at Peak's Island, Maine, last summer, and this is the revised version which may be presented in New York this fall.

Ella Beth Hurst plays the leading feminine role of Mona Marlowe, a fading Hollywood screen star opposite Mr. Geoffrey in the role of Richard Mansfield, a playwright.

Donald E. Vogt appears as Mansfield's neurotic son and George Pilette plays his friend, Bob Kent. Both actors are from New York and have been seen in many prominent roles this season.

The action of the play, which is filled with intrigue and suspense is laid in the New York apartment of the Mansfields. An elaborate modern setting has been planned by Elma Ilene Geoffrey for the production.

Veterans Group Makes Tour To Member's Homes

Tours have been made recently to the homes of each of the Veteran Farm Trainees who are studying under John Nesbitt, vocational teacher of the Waynesville High School.

The trainees are divided into four groups under assistant teachers and the tours are being made to give the students an opportunity to exchange ideas on farming methods.

On Monday and Tuesday of last week a group directed by Glenn McCracken, visited the farms of its members, observing farming operations, crops, livestock, and pastures. In the group were John Lewis, Guy Attington, Claron Prishy, Elmer Hendricks, Ralph Hendricks, Charles Russell, Harley Warlick, Joseph Leatherwood, Raymond Noland, Dewart McElroy, William Rathbone, James West, Charles Sutton, John Noland, Jr., Thurman Sanford, John Tate, Mark Palmer, Willie Wood, John Fisher, Richard Boone and Hershel Besson.
