Valentine of '49

ACCESSORIES FOR ENCHANTMENT . . . The girl who wants to snare her chosen valentine might try out some of these new romantic after-dark accessories: The "love story" necklace of pearl bow-knots, by Marvella; the long white rayon jersey mitts by Aris, or the black lace fan by Mermelstein—all for glamor's sake.

W. H. Belk, Jr. Has Become Vice-President Of Company

W. H. Belk, Jr. is now vice-president of the Belk-Hudson stores and therefore will have a personal interest in the development of the Waynesville's Belk-Hudson store. A veteran of World War II and a graduate of Duke University, Mr. Belk is following in his father's step, as a leader in bringing mercantile service to hundreds of thousands of people throughout the South.

plantation was bought back.
Young Henry took his first job at the age of 14 years, clerking in a dry goods store in Monroe, N. C.
He loved the merchandising business, saved his money and won the confidence of the store's head conkely. With $750 in cash and $500 which he borrowed he opened his first store.
From this sprang the great organization which now bears the name of W. H. Belk.

Proxy Fails To Pass
As The Real McCoy

ST. LOUIS (U.P.)—Federal court proceedings were disrupted here because the man who appeared before Judge George H. Moore wasn't the real McCoy.
The man said McCoy was his father, James Vernal McCoy, Jr., and he was in bed with the flu and couldn't appear to answer charges of mail theft.
Court records, disclosed, however, but the real McCoy was 31. The man who posed as his son was 25. 4 p.m.

Johnny Finds Formula
For Evading Dentist

NEWTON, N. C. (U.P.)— Johnny Killian, 13, left for school and vanished.
He didn't show up at school. He couldn't be found in town. Officers and neighbors feared kidnaping and spread a wide search for him that lasted all day.
About supper time, Johnny came home unharmed. And why did he disappear?
Simple, said Johnny. He wanted to miss a dentist's appointment at 4 p.m.
