The services will be addressed by local pastors and representatives from the Conference Board of Missions.

Pinehurst No Place For A Barking Dog

In the golfing resort of Pinehurst, it is against the law for a train to whistle, or a dog to bark after dark. And in Dunn, it is unlawful to snore loud enough to disturb your neighbor.

Seven per cent of all farm fires are caused by careless use of matches and cigarettes.

roundings and upbringing that a child should have.

Fortunately, North Carolina has provided protection for such cases by making selective sterilization available. For either man or woman this is a simple operation which removes nothing from the body, and makes no change that the patient can detect except the desired one that children are not born. It has not yet been widely used because most people do not know about it, or having heard of it, confuse it with an entirely different procedure. When everyone understands that sterilization involves no sacrifice and that it does not cause changes in sexual characteristics, it will be easier to protect the next generation. Fewer unfortunate children will then be born to parents who are too feeble-minded to take proper care of them and from whom they may inherit little intelligence.

THE TWIN CITY BUS LINE

Has been extended to run up Hyatt's Creek to Plott's Creek. The bus turns at J. M. Palmer's residence, on Plott's Creek . . . comes back down Hyatt's Creek to Hazelwood and makes the loop around by Wellco Shoe Corp. to the mouth of Plott's Creek . . . down the Sulphur Springs road to the Waynesville Depot and on to the Court House. From the Court House to Ratcliff Cove, Raytown and Shingle Cove.

Don't pay any attention to the rumors that will be spread to the effect that you can't tell when the bus will run. In five years' operation I have missed less than 20 scheduled runs.

Sportsmen Asked To Aid In Trout Stocking Program

At a meeting in Raleigh recently, the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission approved a plan suggested by Executive Director Clyde P. Patton, which calls for encouraging sportsmen and sportsmen's organizations to assist with the distribution of hatchery-reared trout in western North Carolina streams.

When trout are ready to be released in a given locality, sportsmen and sportsmen's organizations in the area will be notified and urged to assist in distributing the fish. The plan is designed to effect a wider distribution of trout in public waters. To stock trout properly it is often necessary to carry them in buckets or packs over considerable distances for release in suitable areas. Cooperation of sportsmen in stocking operations would tend to reduce over-all costs of trout production and result in a more efficient system of stocking.
