ARMY AIR FORCE SUBSONIC PLANE IN TEST FLIGHT

DESIGNED FOR HIGH SPEED in the subsonic speed range at altitudes of more than 40,000 feet, one of the radical new Army Air Force Delta Wing research planes is shown during tests now being held at the Mutoc Dry Lake, Calif., desert testing station. The Model 7,002 has a triangular wing, the lending edge of which is swept back at an angle of 60 degrees. Previous maximum sweepback was 35 degrees. It is powered by a J-33 turbo-jet engine, has a tricycle landing gear and a jettisonable pilot's canopy. (Air Force Photo from International) along American architectural lines and is modern in every detail. Scratch-faced red brick was used in the outside walls of solid masonry. In ale true of yellow pine with a natural finish is complemented by matching pews and pulpit furniture. Stained glass memorial windows are used in the auditorium

The building has a main audiorium with a scating capacity of 400. The church's active membership is 200. In addition, the education building sector contains 14 rooms. Ten of these rooms are to be used for Sunday School classes, while on the second floor there will be a Methodist Youth Fellowship Chapel. This room is to hold pulpit furniture from the old church

Other features of the building include the minister's study and church office. In the sub-basement will be a special room for the Clyde Boy Scouts. This portion of the building will not be completed at present however The during room, kitchen, and a on the bacement floor, which also sery with beds and chairs for the little children will be provided. An automatic stoker hot water system heats the building. Plans for remodeling the old church or building a new one were instigated during the pastorates of

The one and one-half acre lot where the church stands was purchased about three years ago from the late T. Hascue Haynes, while Rev. Mr. Newell was pastor. It was also during Rev. Mr. Newell's pastorate that plans for the building were drawn and approved.

began while Rev. J. E. Sampley was partor, and it has been brought to near completion under the present pastor, Rev. Mr. Medlin. Future plans call for landscaping the church grounds to provide space behind the building. Plans are also under way to tear down the old church and erect a parsonage on the old foundation It is expected that work on this phase of the building program will begin in the spring, Rev. Mr. Med-J C. Havnes, chairman of the church building committee, said that the whole project will leave the church with considerable in debtednoss but expressed confi dence that the church may be dedicated in the near future. John Buchanan of Jackson coun ty, was construction superinten dent for the building, while John

worked actively assisting Mr. Buch

Women of the church have work ed to boost the building fund for many years, raising money through suppers, quiltings, sale of needle work, and other projects. Th Women's Bible Class raised mone; to buy an electric organ and th Woman's Society of Christian Ser vice has contributed in numerou. ways.

Considerable work on the build ing was done by church member who denated their services. Ed ward Green, member of the build ing committee, handled the purchasing of matrials and supplies, C. C. Chambers did major painting jobs and Grady Rogers was in charge of plumbing installation, Lighting fixtures were donated by C. C. Nicholls of Canton. J. C. Haynes was architect for the project. Committees serving for the new church were: Building, J. C.
