ENSEMBLE... Suit and cape of gray flannel is a timely choice for spring. Brief fitted jacket is "petaled" in points above the pockets of the skirt. Cape is lined in red dotted sarah, to match blouse.

BOLERO COSTUME... Another top '49 fashion in navy alpaca. Dress has a pink, short-sleeved top.
SHIRTWAIST LOOK... The indispensable casual one-piece dress in pinchecked wool, white pique.
THE SILK SUIT... New and right for spring—jacket and "ress" in navy dotted sarah, from New York.

DRESSMAKER ENSEMBLE... Jacket and dress in black and white checked wool. All-purpose outfit.
ALL-OCCASION SUIT... Subtly tailored suit in royal blue wool with pink shantung ascot and lining.

Peace Comes to Bobtown And Jail Closes Down

BOBTOWN, Pa. (UP)—The old-timers are saying this southwest Pennsylvania town is going soft. Time was when rough-tough brawls were a regular Saturday night feature in Bobtown, then a sprawling oil boom town. The jail was the most densely populated building in town after these set- tles. But the millennium has arrived. The jail has been closed for lack of business and converted into a post office. "Now we don't even have a policeman just a night watchman," one of the veteran residents observed.

More Romance Forecast In Ballroom Dancing

CHICAGO (UP)—When skirts were short, dancing meant lots of leg action, but for longer women's skirts, one expert predicts more romantic dancing. Since ballroom dancing has always conformed to skirt length, contends Donald Sawyer, New York dance master, the 1949 dance steps will be slower, smoother, better for romance. Sawyer told mid-west members of the National Dancing Masters Association here that the jitterbug went out with the short skirt. The gliding Castle Walk for long skirts, and the Charleston for knee length dresses, go with the new look, Sawyer said.

A Big Haul

Revenooers raided 16 stills in North Carolina last week, confiscating: Seven cars, three trucks and two mules. T. Ed Patton, agent in charge of Federal Alcohol Tax Unit office explained mules generally are used to do the heavy work around stills.

New Fungus Disease

A curious malady which proved fatal to a child has led to the discovery of a new fungus disease by Duke university doctors. It is called "Pure granulomatous necrotidosis."

Fighting Reds

Students and faculty members of the Greater University of North Carolina would be required to take non-Communist oath under a resolution offered to the university's board of trustees.

The trustees voted to turn the resolution over to its executive committee for action.

Killed In Scuffle

A scuffle between police and four Negroes they sought to arrest brought death to Negro Frank Alexander Burre, in Kings Mountain.

Constable Warren G. Elson fired at Burre after the officer was thrown to the ground in the fight. The Negro died instantly. Police said the group, sitting in a parked car, resisted arrest for possessing illegal liquor.

Construction Is Up

Permits for $6,387,955 worth of construction were issued in North Carolina during January, the state labor department has reported. The permits covered 1,227 projects in 74 municipalities, the report said. Total cost of the construction was two million dollars higher than the total for December, and slightly above last January.

ary's figure. Of the total, 620 permits were for new houses and apartments to house 656 families.

Thieves Get Cash

Thieves drilled the lock off a filling station and near the east end of Watahville bridge and made away with $350 in cash and the safe door. They broke the glass out of the front door to get into the building.

Homes Given Orphans

Seven children orphaned by shotgun blasts last week, received offers of homes. Deputy Coroner Guy W. Jensen said Charles Trotter shot his wife and then killed himself.

Monkey Business

Not a barrel of monkeys but five tons of live ones are on a ship expected in Wilmington soon. Nobody seemed to know exactly how many monkeys are in five tons. The freighter Steel Architect, from India, will unload cargo before proceeding northward. Cargo destined for Wilmington does not include the monkeys. But around 1930, citizens recall, one got off a ship in Wilmington accidentally. The way one fell it, the monk did a Santa Claus Act. He came down a chimney covered with soot and disrupted a dinner party in a home.

Killed In Fall

A 62-year-old car, laborer for was instantly killed when he tumbled 10 feet over a rock wall in A-heville.

John M. Wright died of a broken neck. He landed on his head on a sidewalk after the short fall.

Teen-Age Jobs Scarce

A continuing decrease has reduced employment of teen-agers in the state to about one-third of its 1944 peak. But to the Labor Commissioner Forest H. Shufford reported, it still is 100 per cent higher than it was 10 years ago. He said the number of minors under 18 years of age certified for industrial employment has dropped every year since 1944. But more than two and a half times as many minors entered industrial jobs last year as were certified in 1939, he added.

Corn Movie Ready

The North Carolina Agricultural Extension service previewed its first educational movie. The color film "more corn per acre" will be ready for general showing throughout the state within 10 days, according to Dr. E. R. Collins, extension agronomist. The film shows the several steps required to grow good corn. Dr. Collins, along with Dr. Louis Bennett and Dr. B. A. Foyant, did most of the work on the movie.

The witch-hazel tree bursts into bloom when other trees are shed, long their foliage and when its down leaves are yellow and falling.

"I understand he picks up some nice side money cutting hair."
