MOTHER AND CHILD FOUND BURIED

WHERE INFANT WAS BURIED ALIVE WITH ITS SLAIN MOTHER

A POLICE OFFICER points to the tiny fist (circle, top) of June Holober, eight months old, protruding from a shallow grave in the grounds of the Green Forest Nuclist Camp at Money's Corner, Va. The body of the child's mother, Mrs. Frances Holober of Washington was also found in the grave. Below, Charles Holober (right), husband and father, smiles broadly as he is booked in Washington in connection with the two deaths.

Detective George E. Cook is at left. According to police, Holober, a member of the nudist colony, admitted he shot his wife to death then buried the baby alive with her.
