Many Major Improvements Are Being Made At Hospital

Ministers Talk About Approaching Election

Members of the Haywood Ministerial Association discussed the proposed election on abolishing wine and beer, at their regular monthly meeting at Longs Chapel Monday.

Rev. R. L. Young, president, presided at the meeting.

The group disposed of several matters of business, and discussed some of the phases of the approaching election. The consensus of opinion was that the proposed statewide referendum would not be called. The association had held up formal presentation of the petitions asking for a county election, pending the final decision on the statewide election.

"It looks like the proposed referendum for the state has died in committee of the Legislature," Rev. M. R. Williamson, chairman of the committee charged with presenting the petitions to the board of elections.

Max Rogers is shown holding the 33-inch trout which he caught at Glenville Lake Sunday. More than 2,500 people have visited Rogers Electric on Main street here and viewed the trout, which is frozen, and kept in a deep freeze box. The fish will be mounted in a few days.

Institution Operated In Black For Past Year

The Haywood County Hospital operated within its income for 1948, and had a fair balance left over, according to the auditor's report made public yesterday.

R. Lee Davis, administrator for the institution, presented the 1948 financial report to the board of trustees Tuesday night. They were warm in their praise of the work done by Mr. Davis, and for operating the hospital in the "black" for 1948.

The auditor's report showed that a $6,000 deficit of 1947 had been paid, and a balance of over $8,500 on hand as of January 1 of this year.

A number of improvements have been made, and others are nearing completion. Among them is the renovation and painting of the entire interior of the building. Many organizations and individuals are contributing to this phase of the work, Mr. Davis said. There are yet one or two units to be repaired.

Among the contributions on the improvement program in 1948 was the $600 set of reception room furniture donated by the Champion Paper and Fibre Company.

The institution has 72 beds, with 68 persons employed full time for the operation of the place. There are 19 registered nurses, four supervisors, in addition to manager, clerical help, cooks, orderlies and maintenance men.

Some of the improvements on the building include changing of plumbing in baths, and a remodeled nursery, with a large glass door for the public to see the babies. The nursery is one of the units yet to be painted. New basins, and curtains will be installed in the room.

Mr. Davis said that the plan now is for "everyone to see the babies all they want through the" (See Hospital—Page 6)

Expansion Program For 4-H Clubs Started

An expansion of 4-H club work in Haywood was announced yesterday by the Extension offices.

The expansion of the present 21 clubs with 1,500 members, will include the scope of activities as well as membership, it was said. Among the major program for Haywood, will be the development of the 4-H Camp at the State Test Farm for use this summer. The construction of the camp is already underway, and every effort is being made to complete the camp by June.

The announcement of the expansion of 4-H club work in Haywood came right in the heart of the annual National 4-H Club Week, which started Sunday, and extends through this Sunday.

The other motivating factor in the expansion program is the recently adopted community development program for Haywood county. The 4-H Clubs of the county will be called upon to take a definite part in carrying on this program, according to Joe Cline, assistant county agent, who is charged with activities of 4-H Club boys, and Miss Elise DeLozier, in charge of the girls.

Mr. Cline said yesterday, "We have five senior 4-H Clubs, and 17 junior clubs, with a total membership of 1,500. The object of these clubs is to work with rural boys and girls to make them better citizens through project work, recreation and other activities."
