

THE WAYNESVILLE MOUNTAINEER

Published Twice-A-Week In The County Seat of Haywood County At The Eastern Entrance Of The Great Smoky Mountains National Park

64th YEAR NO. 21 12 PAGES

Associated Press and United Press News

WAYNESVILLE, N. C., TUESDAY, MARCH 15, 1949

$3.00 In Advance In Haywood and Jackson Counties

Bill To Extend City Limits Is Now Law

Roy's Sally Dead

Waynesville Believed To Have Over 5,000 Population With New Area Added

House bill No. 491 to extend the city limits of Waynesville is now a law. The bill passed the senate late Thursday, and was ratified on Friday.

The bill also sets the salaries of the Waynesville mayor and board of aldermen, effective May 1951.

G. C. Ferguson, town manager, said yesterday that the board of aldermen will begin a study of needs of the new areas, and begin to make plans for extending facilities of the town into the sections. About the first thing will be garbage collections, Mr. Ferguson said. The present schedules will have to be changed so as to include the new sections. Study will also be made of the water and sewer needs, and all this mapped out before actual construction can be started, he said.

"There are a lot of things that will take time to work out," Mr. Ferguson said. He mentioned street lights in some places, since Carolina Power & Light Company serves the home of some sections.

The next regular meeting of the board of aldermen is Thursday, April 7.

Among the sections which will be included in the city limits are:

(See City Limits—Page 6)

JERRY ROGERS BETTER

Jerry Rogers, member of the police force, was reported to be improving yesterday. He is at his home where he has been since being taken ill while on duty last week.

Waynesville's best known dog is dead.

Sally—the Seeing Eye Dog, owned since July 1937 by Roy Moore, died early Saturday morning. She had been in ill health for three weeks.

Sally was known to thousands of people, and was a familiar sight on

(See Roy's Dog—Page 6)

Car Sails Across Creek Into Main Street House

Board Is Hearing Citizens On Taxes

Residents of Fines Creek, Crabtree and Iron Duff will be heard today by the board of commissioners sitting as the board of equalization and review. This week is the only time prescribed by law when the commissioners have the authority to change valuation of real estate.

The board is correcting any errors, and making the necessary adjustments.

On Wednesday the board will hear residents of Pigeon, East Fork, and Cecil Townships.

Thursday will be devoted to Waynesville township, while Friday will be the day for Beaverdam and Clyde.

Yesterday the board heard tax payers from Ivy Hill, Jonathan Creek, White Oak and Cataloochee townships.

Mrs. Williams Hurt In Jeep-Truck Collision

Mrs. D. H. Williams was given first aid treatment at the Haywood County Hospital, following injuries received when the jeep she was driving collided with a ton-and-a-half truck, said by Chief Orville Noland, to have been driven by Billy Russell.

Russell was charged with hit and run, and put under a $500 bond, for appearance in Mayor's court.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.

Mr. Grant discussed art before the Rotary club here Friday, and had a number of his paintings on display. In July he will have a display at the Museum in Asheville.

"There are a lot of talented people in this community who would like to participate in an art society, and meet about once a month for an exchange of ideas and discussion of new ideas," he said.

Mr. Grant was a commercial

(See Art Exhibit—Page 5)

Chances of establishing an art exhibit here, and organizing an art club are steadily increasing, according to Douglas Grant, noted artist and resident of Waynesville for the past three years.