Hazelwood Churches In Loyalty Campaign

Several Programs Set For Week At Clyde Methodist

(Special to The Mountaineer)

A number of special activities are being held at the Clyde Methodist church throughout this week, according to announcement by Rev. W. T. Medlin, Jr., pastor.

Friday at 7:30 p. m., a circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will be organized for the young business women who are unable to attend afternoon meetings of other church circles. Mrs. Medlin will preside over this organizational meeting in the little auditorium at the church.

Women of the church will serve a baked ham supper at the Clyde school cafeteria from 5:30 to 8 p. m. Saturday. Proceeds are to go on the church building fund.

Clyde Baptists To Hold Covered Dish Supper On Friday Night at 6:30

Members of Clyde Baptist church will hold their regular covered dish supper at the church Friday at 6:30 p. m.

The event for the entire membership will be held in the basement of the church. A motion picture with sound, "It's The Brain That Counts," will be shown following the supper.

Rev. C. H. Green To Be On WHCC Next Week

Rev. C. H. Green, pastor of West Canton Baptist church, will have charge of Morning Devotions over Station WHCC next week, Monday through Saturday, March 21-25, at 9:30 o'clock.

The following week, March 28 through April 1, Rev. C. O. Newell, pastor of the Crabtree Methodist church, will be the speaker.

Baptists Group To Have Supper Meeting

Parents, teachers and pupils of the Intermediate Department of the First Baptist church will have a covered-dish supper meeting on Tuesday evening, March 22, at 7 o'clock in the social hall of Welch Memorial Building. At this time a film, "Strange Gods of India," will be shown.

Burnett Cove Baptists Purchase A Bus

The Burnett Cove Baptist church has recently bought a bus to be used in transportation of members to Sunday school and other services of the church. It was announced by Rev. R. R. Mehaffey, pastor.

This is one of several churches in the county that now operate a bus.

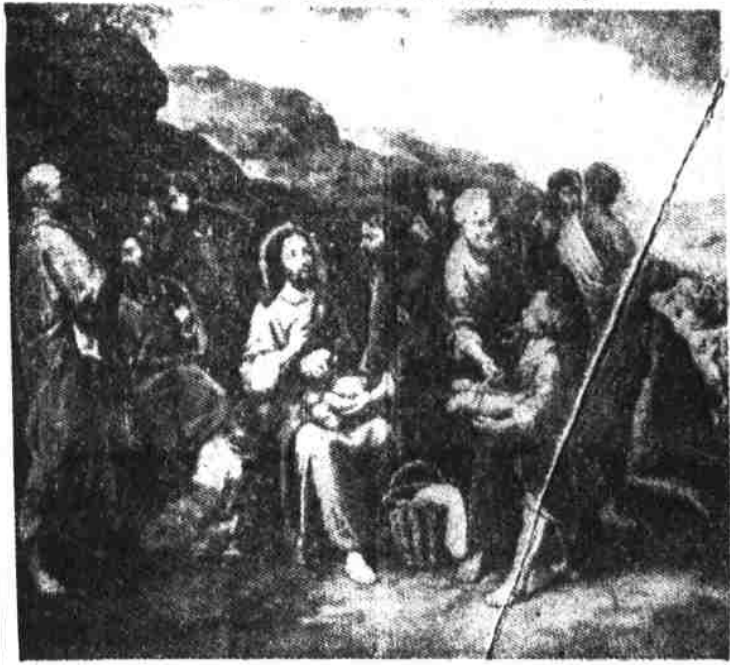

Rev. Mr. Mehaffey reported that attendance at both church and Sunday school were showing gains.

WOODEN GUN BACKFIRES

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UP)—Guns, even wooden ones, are dangerous, as Tommy McGrew, 7, can tell you. He got a black eye from one. The gun hit him as he struck it against a corner of the house he was rounding in a hot game of cops and robbers.

Among the common names for the tiny evergreen wintergreen are tea-berry, checker-berry, box-berry, jessie tea, spice-berry and ground holly.

Jesus Trains the Twelve Apostles

THE MASTER GIVES INSTRUCTIONS TO HIS DISCIPLES

Scripture—Mark 6:7-12, 30-34; Luke 11:1-4, 9-13.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

PREPARATION for useful service in the world is the aim of all modern schools and colleges. However, after graduation from high school and college, young people enter business only to be put through more training courses to teach them the rudiments of that particular business.

No matter how strong a call from God a young man feels he has received to serve as a minister of the Gospel, he must take a rigorous course of training before he is ordained in that ministry.

After choosing the twelve apostles, Jesus, knowing that His time on earth would be short, began instructing them in their duties. St. Mark tells us, chapter 6:7-12, "And He called unto Him the twelve, and began to send them forth by two and two; and gave them power over unclean spirits."

These men were not sent out alone to face the world and their new work, with its many yet unknown problems. Two were sent so that each might give strength, courage and counsel to the other.

However, many people say they depart by boat, and they followed on foot, and when the twelve and the Master arrived, they saw a multitude waiting for them. Jesus saw the multitude as "sheep not having a shepherd," and He had compassion on them, and began to teach them.

Toward evening the apostles came to Jesus and suggested that they send the people away to buy themselves food, "for they have nothing to eat." Jesus told the twelve to feed them, and the apostles asked Him if they should buy the food, knowing they did not have the money to do so for such a crowd.

"He said unto them, How many loaves have ye? Go and see. And when they knew, they said, Five, and two fishes."

Jesus commanded that all sit down—which they did. Then He took the loaves and fishes, looked up to heaven, and blessed, and brake the loaves, and gave them to His disciples, and the two fishes divided He among them all. And they did eat and were filled. About five thousand were thus fed, according to Mark, and

MEMORY VERSE

"We are fellow workmen for God."—1 Corinthians 3:9.

They were commanded to "take nothing for their journey, save a staff only, no scrip, no bread, no money in their purse. But be shod with sandals, and not put on two coats."

These first missionary journeys were short trips—possibly a day or so away from home. They were to stay at any house which received them hospitably.

If at some place no one would receive or listen to them, they were told to shake the dust of their feet from them, and preached that men should repent."

We are not told how long the twelve were away on these journeys, but St. Mark relates their return, when they "gathered themselves together unto Jesus, and told Him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught."

Jesus told them, "Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place and rest awhile, for there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat." They did not need to go to a sandy, hot desert, only to a quiet place—or so they thought—to recuperate.

Midweek Bible Hour, Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., followed by Choir practice.

In the Sunday morning sermon the pastor will use as his subject, "What I Must Do To Be Saved," giving an answer to the Biblical question, one of the most important which can come from man's soul, "What must I do to be saved?" If there is any doubt in your heart as to what saving faith means you are especially invited to hear his message.

The Hazelwood Presbyterian church is united with the other churches of the town in a Church Loyalty Period, seeking increased attendance and loyalty in each department of the church. We hope to have a great share in boosting the town's Sunday school attendance of 400 to 600 by the end of June. Our aim is to triple our Sunday school attendance of a year ago which has already been doubled. We call on all to "Start Marching To Church During March."

Special instruction for church membership is being given by the pastor on Sunday and Wednesday evenings at 6:45 o'clock, especially for the young people planning to unite with the church on Membership Sunday, March 27. The young church members are also invited to attend these meetings which should be helpful in making clear to them their Christian duties. The Bible Hour on Wednesday evening for the next few weeks will be given to the study of the two Epistles to the Thessalonians. Read the epistles and join us in these studies.
