

Haywood Farmers Show Interest In Improving Pastures With New Plan

Unusual interest was shown by Haywood farmers on Monday at the pasture demonstration on the Jack McCracken farm near Bethel. With more than 250 farmers attending, Wayne Corpening, county agent, said it proved the interest being manifest in better pastures in the county.

The demonstration was given in order to show results of seeding a pasture of Ladino clover and orchard grass and Ladino clover and Fescue last July.

"The purpose of this pasture demonstration was to prove what can be done toward getting good pastures," Mr. Corpening said.

It was brought out by Mr. Corpening at the meeting some of the important things to do in order to get a good Ladino clover and orchard grass or Ladino clover and Fescue pasture.

(1) Renovate the old pasture with a bush-and-bag harrow, tiller, one-horse cultivator or anything that will tear up the old sod well.

(2) Apply 600 to 800 pounds of 2-12-12 fertilizer or its equivalent to the acre, lame at the rate of one to two tons per acre if the land has not been limed within the past three or four years. Work to bed and lime into the soil.

(3) Inoculate seed and seed at the rate of 2 pounds of Ladino clover and 12 pounds of orchard grass or Fescue, put in with cultivator or crab apple bush.

The results of seeding a pasture as described can be seen on the Jack McCracken farm.

Doctor Says Babies Eat Too Much

MINNEAPOLIS (UP)—American babies eat too much, one expert believes.

Dr. J. Emmet Holt, Jr., pediatric professor at New York University, told professors attending a University of Minnesota short course that the increase in heart disease reflects the condition.

He says the trouble eventually flows up among adults. One reason, says Holt, is the introduction of solid foods into a baby's diet at an ever earlier age. The portion of sugar in the milk formula isn't cut down at the same time in most cases. That results in too rich a diet.

Holt doesn't think much serious physical damage is caused by this condition, as long as the condition is corrected later.

Two Watershed Areas Sought In Beaverdam

A meeting was held at the Beaverdam School on Monday night, March 14, to discuss the possibility of organizing the Beaverdam and Honey Creek Areas in Beaverdam Township into watershed, and also to organize under the Community Development Program.

Approximately 600 farmers were present to hear the discussion, and after the plan was explained by the county agents, committees were appointed to see all of the people within the two areas and get them to come in on the program, as it is necessary that over 75 per cent of the farmers cooperate on a community basis in order to get a watershed started.

The organization committees appointed in Beaverdam Creek Area were C. V. Sorrell, H. H. Worley, H. F. Rice, W. P. Harris, Andy Worley, John Bonn, Wiley Robinson, Seth Grogan, and J. B. Hips.

For the Honey Creek Area were: Hershel Hips, Fred Mann, Porter Broyles, Lester Johnson, Mark Duckett, J. P. Holland, Altonzo Mann, and Tom Hips.

It was decided that these committees should get all applications signed and turned in at the next meeting, which will be held at the Beaverdam School on Monday night, March 21, at 7:30 o'clock. At this meeting officers will be elected and committees appointed under the Community Development Program and the T.V.A. Program.

If three-fourths of the area cooperate on the program, it can be approved as a watershed. At this meeting a farm movie will be shown explaining this type of program, and it is hoped that the men, women, and children attend, as it is a family proposition.

RUNS IN THE FAMILY

MULLIKEN, Mich. (UP)—Appendicitis seems to run in the Carl E. Rogers family. Eight members of the Rogers clan were operated on within the last four years, including the mother, three children, grandfather, grandmother, uncle and aunt. Only Rogers' appendix still is intact.

Books were so scarce four centuries ago that they sometimes were chained to public book stalls.

First Washington

WASHINGTON, Va. (UP)—This town, surveyed and plotted by George Washington on Aug. 4, 1749, claims to be the "first Washington of all," but it was not incorporated until Feb. 12, 1894. Twenty-five other cities and towns in the United States were named Washington.

Fit or No Fit

JACKSON, Miss. (UP)—Rains, not water, killed the cotton crop in the Mississippi Delta. The rains were too heavy and too long, and the cotton plants were killed by the water.
