In Asheville

That's the kind of thing he stands for," she explained. "Hundreds of little kids waiting for autographs, when we're already late for something earlier discounts on buses to get next to his public, and demands on his time for sick children and good causes."

In bringing up his children all strictly in the western tradition—generosity, loyalty, honesty and good sportsmanship.

They all, she added, live the Old West running out of their ears.

All three of them are always out in the barn, she added. There's no such thing as a La T Roundup in the forest, that!

CORNELL, CEC: 21 000 BEETLES

HEAVY N.Y. UP: A collection of 21,000 beetle industrial waste products has been placed on display at Cornell University.

2 Teen-Age Movie Stories Developed In Ten Minutes

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Any writer who needs ideas for movies can see Mona Freeman. She has a dozen, all to star Mona Freeman.

In 10 minutes Miss Freeman developed two stories. Both show Miss Freeman, whom nobody'll believe is 23 and a mother, as a teenager.

"They never had a movie about how a teen-age girl really is," Miss Freeman said. "They just put them in the movie to laugh at."

"Growing up isn't funny; it's tragic. The most awful things in your life happen when you're young. I'd like to do a picture that shows the real tragedy of a teenager."

Miss Freeman's other idea is for a sequel to her current picture, "Dear Wife," which itself is a sequel to "Dear Ruth." The Freeman picture would be something like "Dear Baby."

Quite Mixed Up "You see, Ruth won't have a baby," Miss Freeman said, outlining the plot, "and I'll think she should have. So I'll adopt two or three babies for her. Maybe people will think I'm having the baby—no that's been done."

"I'll give her all these babies and then I'll have one of her own. It'll be very mixed up."

Miss Freeman, the kid sister, grows up a little—just a little—in "Dear Wife." You'd still never dream she was a matron.

"I can see myself 17 years from now," Miss Freeman sighed. "Still playing teen-agers. I'll never be able to have my daughter visit me on the set. I'll be ashamed to have her know what her mother's doing."

Only good thing about being an unspoiled movie 16 is that she gets an extra two hours sleep.

Jean Caulfield, her big sister, has to be on the lot at 6:30 a.m. for makeup. Miss Freeman breezes in at 8:30, the director says, "Shake-out your curls, Mona," and she's ready to work.

ALL KINDS OF FISH LA JOLLA, Cal. (AP)—There are 673 kinds of fish in California waters, according to a survey by the University of California's Scripps institution of oceanography. The survey includes 30 varieties of sharks, ranging from the foot-long slime shark to the whale-sized basking shark.

A well-traveled engine is Jonathan III, the snow-white University of Connecticut mascot. Jonathan was along when Admiral Richard Byrd made his 1946-1947 trip to the South Pole.

Turpentine By-Product Suggests New Uses GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Experiments with many uses for turpentine by-product may prove it can ease pain, preserve or flavor food, retard mold growth and even form an emulsion of perfumes and hairbrush lotion.

These are some of the uses being tested by Edwin Carthoff, Marianna, Fla., and Ross Baxter, Toronto, Canada, graduate pharmacy students at the University of Florida. They believe the heretofore neglected compound will become an important part of the south's naval stores industry.
